TIGERS DIVIDE WITH A'S; LOSE HALF GAME

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—The Washington Senators today split a doubleheader with the Philadelphia Athletics, to end a half-game off the Bengals' lead and give them a 1-2 game winning margin in the light American league race.

The Tigers were the first contest, 3 to 2, but the A's took the 15-minute nightcap, 7 to 4. In other American league games the Yankees took two from the visiting White Sox, 3 to 1 and 9 to 8 in 10 innings, and the Browns upset the Boston Red Sox, 9 to 2.

Meanwhile the Cubs and Cards kept pace in the National, Chicago defeating Philadelphia, 4 to 0, behind Hank Wyse, and the Cards newest hurler, Art Lopatka, from Columbus, turning back the Dodgers, 3 to 2. Rays postponed the scheduled second game. In the remaining National contest, Cincinnati beat the Giants, 4 to 3.

WHAT'S THE SCORE?

The fact that Fremont Ross football team plays Port Clinton 10 tomorrow (Friday) night at Harmon Field in Fremont, made us think about the "score" ... and "the score" made us think about the slang phrase, "What's the Score?" ... meaning of course, "What's Cookin'?" or "What's the standing regarding this or that?"

"What's your score at Tremper's? How's the old attendance record? Folks at Tremper's have been improving about you, drop in any day or evening and let get acquainted all over again. Join the crowds and you'll have a good time. Regular Folks trade regularly at Tremper's. And we're always glad to have you come, whether you buy or not, but, just in case you might see something you want, bring the old purse along. How's about dropping in tonight?"

GREEN SOX TO PLAY SUNDAY

The Fremont Green Sox will meet the Zedilla Meats of the Toledo federation in a game at Anderson field Sunday. The game is scheduled to start at 2:45 p. m. The Zedilla Meats defeated the Old Dutch Beers of Toledo last Sunday to gain a three-way tie for second place in the federation. The tentative lineup for the visitors, in order of their appearance at the plate, is: Sheper, first; Miller, left field; Black, center field; Geer, third base; Barlow, second; Terrell, catcher; Vulliamy, short; Covey, right field; Snider, pitcher.

The Green Sox are expected to use much the same lineup, with which they defeated the Hills Hatters last Sunday. That puts Woods on first; Adams on second; Lindley at short; Kerditzke on third; Brunover, Sheffler and White in the outfield; Chaney catching and Miller pitching.

JOE MACKO IS STANDOUT IN OPENING GAME

Passes Are Undoing
Of Fremont; Attack

By ROBERT W. BEACH
News-Messenger Sports Editor
A pair of brothers named Macko (pronounced Motosko in Port Clinton, pest in Fremont), together with one Bob Larson, collaborated to give Port Clinton's Redskins football team a 7 to 0 victory over Ross high's Little Giants on the turf of Harmon field Friday night in the opening contest of the season for both teams. A crowd of about 3,500 saw the game.

To Joe Macko, playing his first game of football, must go much of the credit for Port Clinton's triumph. The chunky, 17-year-old senior's bullet-like passes over the center of the Ross line connected with his target time and time again in the second half to establish the Porters' superiority in the air beyond dispute. It was his pass to his brother, John, late in the final quarter which gave Port Clinton its touchdown.

After Guard Jim Fritz, Port Clinton's captain for the game, had recovered a Fremont fumble on the Ross 43-yard line, Joe tossed a pass to South Van Hoose, left end, good for 12 yards to the 31. Bob Zink threw Larson for a two-yard loss in attempt to skirt his end, but Joe then sent another aerial to his brother good to the 23. Still another pass, to Larson, carried the ball to the Ross 15 for another first down. On the ensuing play Joe took the pass from center, carefully surveyed his field and then let fly another forward to John who was on the ten-yard line near the west side of the field. John crossed the south goal line unmolested behind good blocking. Larson, with Joe holding the ball, kicked for the extra point, but it was blocked by the center of the Ross line. However, Ross was declared offside on the play and on the second attempt, Larson made his kick good.

Perhaps there was justice in the Porters' score, at that. Only moments earlier they had driven to the Fremont three-yard line where they chose to attempt to pass the ball across the line and failed. Their march to that advanced spot was the culmination of a determined drive which Ross was unable to halt with Joe Macko's passes and Larson's fierce bursts through the center of the Ross line rolling up one first down after another.

And again, after the touchdown had been made, Port Clinton threatened to score. After receiving the kickoff, Fremont once more fumbled and Port Clinton recovered on the Ross 37. The Porters then reversed the usual procedure and Larson passed to Joe Macko who was racing toward the goal line from the 25. He had a clear field ahead of him, but was BEREA, O., Sept. 15.—UP—Baldwin-Wallace today had its first 1945 football victory after defeating Bowling Green, 14 to 13. It was the first defeat in three games for the Bee-Gees, who previously downed Alma, Mich., 15 to 0, and Central Michigan, 19 to 6.

The Yellow Jackets came from behind last night in the last two minutes to score the marginal touchdown and make the conversion in the fourth period after Bowling Green had gone ahead, 13 to 7, earlier.

GIBSONBURG IS DEFEATED, 27-0

BOWLING GREEN, Sept. 15.—Bowling Green high school defeated Gibsonburg, 27 to 0, here last night to register their first football victory in two seasons. It was the opening game of the season for both elevens.

overtaken and tackled by Dick Baron on the ten as the game ended.

In the opening period the Little Giants worked the ball as far down the field as the Port Clinton 13, thanks to Larson's fumble. But the Ross attack just couldn't make it and the Porters took over on downs at that point. Later in the same period another march was under way which reached the Redskins 32, but again, the power just wasn't there and for the second time in the quarter the Porters took possession of the ball.

For a first game of the season, the game was not too badly played. Ross players and fans alike should readily acknowledge the boys tried hard enough. The teams battled fairly evenly, Ross gaining on the ground more than did Port Clinton. However, Ross attempted only four passes, two of which were intercepted and two of which were incomplete. Where Ross was more or less expected to employ the T-formation, they used a single and double wing back formation for most of their running plays. Their attack lacked polish and their defense in spots was a bit ragged. Their blocking was ineffective. All that is to be expected in an opening game. Port Clinton, on occasion, used a short punt formation from which delayed spins and bucks worked with telling effect.

But the chief disaster to Ross was its defense against Joe Macko's over-the-line passes. Not rushed too severely, Joe had opportunity to pick his receiver and take his time with his work.

In addition to the Mackos and Larson, the play of Miller stood out. The Port Clinton center was in on every play, spilling Ross' interference, knocking down passes, even intercepting one, and, in general, conducting himself with an utter disregard for Fremont's feelings. Guard Bill Jablonski also merits a mention.

Fremont had its heroes, too. Wally Whitcomb played a fine game. He punted and ran and tackled with skill. Dick Baron played well on the defense. Bob Zink did more than his share in breaking up the Redskins' end around attack and in keeping the runners inside him. Dick Mohler at full-back and Bob Frantz at tackle also performed in highly approved fashion.

The pre-game ceremonies included the playing of the national anthem by bands of both schools. Between halves the bands again entertained with their marching and music and Jimmy Armbruster, drum major for Port Clinton and Mimi Michaels, Ross drum major, gave fine exhibitions of baton twirling.

Sandusky Is Host To Elyria Eleven; Clyde To Lakeside

Local scholastic football interest will follow Fremont's two high school elevens on the road tonight as St. Joe invades Fostoria for a contest with St. Wendelin and Ross, stung by defeat at the hands of Port Clinton last week, moves to Ashland where the Little Giants hope to put one on the right side of the ledger.

Both Coach Sive Kohr at Ross and Cy Reardon at St. Joe tapered off their game preparations last night with light work. Kohr, recalling the devastation wrought by Port Clinton's bullet-like over-the-line aerials, groomed his lads on breaking up of such maneuvers and at the same time stressed the aerial game as the possible solution to the Ross attack which may be most successful at Ashland. The starting lineup against Ashland is expected to be much the same as that which faced Port Clinton at kick-off time last week. The possible exception is that John Erchenbrecher may be at a halfback spot. Captain Al Johnson will appear at his old position at guard, moving back from tackle and Bob Frantz will play at left, rather than right tackle.

MOHLER RUNS 15 YARDS FOR TOUCHDOWN

Little Giants Show Form Reversal With Fine Line Play

By ROBERT BEACH
News-Messenger Sports Editor

A band of several hundred loyal Ross high followers Friday night saw their Little Giant football team display an amazing reversal of the previous week's form, as they out-charged and out-battled a heavier Ashland high school eleven on the picturesque gridiron of Ashland college for a well-earned 6 to 0 victory, their first of the season. The game marked the opening of Ashland's home schedule.

Ross made full amends for mistakes in the Port Clinton game by their brilliant work Friday night. The defensive play of the Fremont line was superb. The line backing was effective. The pass defense permitted Ashland to complete no passes in five attempts. The ball handling, after the opening quarter, was more adept than the week previous. Only the blocking department was faulty.

The game's only score came as the result of a sustained and fruitful drive following the second half kick-off. Wally Whitcomb took the ball on his own five and returned it to the 37. After Ross had punted, the alert Dick Abbott retrieved an Ashland fumble on the Ashland 41. Sims dashed through center to the 34 and repeated on the same play to the 28. Whitcomb, behind nice interference, raced around his own right end to the 15. After a pass failed, Dick Mohler took the ball and started around the same right end. His interference charging ahead, drew the secondary to the west side of the field. Meanwhile the center of the Ross line had created a cavern in the Ashland forward wall. Mohler left his interference, swerved through the gap in the line, cut sharply to his left, stumbled and nearly fell, but regained his balance and outran three surprised defenders across the goal line for the touchdown. Bob Walters' placement try for the extra point, with Dick Baron holding the ball, was low and wide to the right.

An epidemic of fumbleitis struck both teams in the opening quarter. Four times in five minutes the ball changed hands near the center of the field. Sporadic recurrences of the ailment cropped out at various stages of the balance of the contest, one of which led to the game's only points. Once over their jitters, however, both teams regained their poise. There were, in all, 10 fumbles committed during the game, five by each team. Ball hawks as they have been taught to be, eight of these were recovered by Ross.

The second quarter was evenly played with Ashland taking the ball to the Ross 11 following a fine run by Frank Glasser, Ashland halfback. Ross held for downs, however, and marched back up the field, after an exchange of punts as far as Ashland's 33, where two passes were knocked down as Ashland took over.

After Ross had scored early in the third period, the game resolved into a battle of the lines and Ross owned a very wide margin there. A fine 68-yard run by Glasser from his own 12-yard mark to the Ross 37, and another in the final period when he was sprung loose and was off for a touchdown with no one in front of him, provided thrills. He took the ball on his own 45 and dashed around end behind nice blocking. He got free but was overtaken by Captain Al Johnson, who tripped him up on the Ross 19 shortly before the end of the contest.

Whitcomb, however, made some nice gains for Ross, as did Ted Sims. In the final quarter Wally went through the line from the Ashland 46 to the 11, after cutting back to his left. He was run out of bounds. After a penalty had taken the ball back to the 14, Wally tossed a pass to Bob Zink which was complete on the Ashland four-yard strip, but the play was called back and Ross again penalized five yards for backfield in motion. Ashland then took over on downs.

Ross ran up 10 first downs to eight for Ashland. Thanks to Glasser's long runs, Ashland outgained Ross in total net yardage gained, 288 to 253. Ross lost 25 yards in penalties, Ashland 60.

Individual stars for Ashland were Glasser, Bob Miller and Bob Moore of the backfield, and Captain Dick Stauffer at center. For Ross, the greatest performances were turned in by Bob Walter at end, and Johnson. These two spent half the evening in the Ashland backfield, spilling plays before they were started and in general making themselves unpopular with Coach Cloy Taylor and other Ashland adherents. Charley Weickert, playing his first game of football, did a nice job at tackle. Bob Franz and Dick Abbott were stone walls on the defense. Bob Zink was heroic in his end play and John Tschumy backed up the line in commendable fashion.

And, as the Fremont rooters chanted, "There'll be a hot time in Fremont tonight."

ROSS TO OPEN TITLE DEFENSE FRIDAY NIGHT

Coach Sive Kohr Monday night was scheduled to trot his Ross high eleven out onto the practice turf at Harmon field to begin preparations for the opening of the defense of the Little Giants' Buckeye league championship Friday night when Coach Howard Yawberg brings his Findlay high team here. Kohr said he was pleased with Ross' improvement over the previous week, but intended to do something about the blocking and smooth out a few wrinkles on the offense.

Out at Anderson field Cy Reardon was to start the readying of his Crimson eleven for the invasion of Lima Sunday afternoon when St. Rose will be met. A light workout was in prospect with probable stress laid on smoother execution of pass plays and brushing up of pass defense.

WHITCOMB SCORES TWO TOUCHDOWNS

Fremont Rolls Up 13 First Downs To Five; Gains 237 Yards

By ROBERT W. BEACH
News-Messenger Sports Editor

On a field which resembled a quagmire during the second half, Ross high school's football team opened the defense of its Buckeye league championship in highly successful fashion last night, defeating Findlay, 13 to 0, on Harmon lake. A crowd of some 1,800 spectators was thoroughly drenched by the celestial hemorrhage which occurred during the third quarter and which was reproduced intermittently through the balance of the game to the great discomfiture of players and crowd alike.

Wally Whitcomb, speedy half-back, scored both Ross touchdowns. He crossed the goal line on a wide sweep around his own right end from the one-foot line, climaxing a sustained 85-yard march in the opening minutes of the second period. After two Findlay thrusts which reached as far as the Ross 30 had been thwarted, Findlay punted and Whitcomb caught the ball on his own 10 and returned to his 18. On three plays, with Whitcomb, Dick Mohler and Ted Sims carrying the ball, the Little Giants reached mid-field as the first period ended.

Mohler Called Back
Sims hit center for four. A Sims to Whitcomb lateral took the ball to the Findlay 36. Dick Mohler raced across the goal line on the ensuing play after out-running the Findlay secondary around his own left end, but officials ruled he had stepped out of bounds on the 25 and Ross continued from there as Whitcomb circled wide around his own right end and ran across the goal line. Again the officials ruled the runner had stepped out of bounds, this time on the four. Sims made no gain at center and Mohler cut over tackle to the one-foot line. Wally then out-cried the Findlay defenders across the goal, racing wide around his right end. Howie Hoffman's kick from placement added the extra point. The half ended with Ross leading 7 to 0, although as the gun sounded, Findlay was on the Ross one-yard line with a first down after one of Whitcomb's punts had been blocked and recovered by Joe Fasset and Joe Swisher on the 14.

The third period was no more than under way when the heavens let loose. The rain not only made play difficult but hampered vision. Dick Treese, Findlay halfback, gave an excellent one-man demonstration of football in this quarter making what gains the Trojans were able to attain. They were, for the most part, cut backs through tackle and wide sweeps around end. His fine play continued in the fourth period but, with his back to the goal he was forced to punt on fourth down from his own 20. A bad pass from center failed to reach him and it was finally downed on the Findlay 12-yard line where Ross took over. In four plays another touchdown was scored. Whitcomb hit center for two to the 10; Mohler circled left end to the four; Sims went over left guard to the one; and Whitcomb, again running wide around his own right end, his pet play, crossed the goal line without a hand touching him. Ted Sims' plunge at center for the extra point was short.

13 First Downs To 5
Ross' play during the entire game was quite satisfactory. They owned a wide margin in every department. They rolled up 13 first downs to five for Findlay. Ross picked up 237 yards from scrimmage to 89 for the visitors. Ross attempted 35 for the streaks. Ross attempted but one pass which was incomplete. Findlay tried seven, two of which were completed for a total gain of 14 yards. Ross punted three times for an average distance of 37 yards. Findlay kicked five times for a 30-yard average, but an 11-yard kick which rolled off the side of Treese's foot, helped keep this average down. The proof of Ross' line plays is revealed when, after their scrimmage and penalty losses are deducted, Findlay had a net gain of just 23 yards.

For the second straight week the play of the Ross line was the determining factor of its success. The team's blocking was more spirited and its tackling more deadly than a week ago against Ashland. Al Johnson again roamed loose in the Trojan backfield, time and again spilling the ball carrier before he could get started. Charley Weichert, Bob Frantz, John Tschumy, Dick Abbott, Bob Zink and Bob Walter did yeoman service on the line. Whitcomb, Mohler, Ted Sims and Dick Baron each contributed substantially to the triumph. To Dick Treese nothing but words of praise for his splendid work for Findlay. Doug Reese, a sub, and Bill Spitzer, a fine defensive back, also went back to Findlay with the full respect of the Fremont eleven. The battle, however, was decided in the line and there the Little Giants could not be denied.

"INVESTIGATE" ANOTHER BOUT IN GARDEN

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—UP—Chairman Eddie Egan of the New York Boxing commission will make a "thorough investigation" of the ring riot that threw jammed Madison Square Garden into an uproar last night.

Not since the late Tex Rickard built the Garden 20 years ago has there been such a turbulent fight scene in the punch emporium as that staged after Rocky Graziano, bull-shouldered New York middleweight, knocked out Harold Green of Brooklyn in the third round. During the five-minute melee, the free-for-all spread speedily to portions of the press section and front ringside seats.

The trouble started when Referee Ruby Goldstein, former lightweight contender, counted out young Green at 1:49 of the third round.

Green lay prostrate on his back. At the count of five, he raised his head and shoulder from the canvas, but fell back. He managed to scramble to his feet just after Goldstein counted "ten." Green, thinking he had received a "short count," frantically tried to resume the fight with Graziano, who was a willing partner. Only a couple of punches were exchanged when into the ring piled the hammers of both fighters, followed by admirers. The two forces collided in mid-ring and the tuckus was on, joined quickly by uniformed and non-uniformed officers. When order was restored, a check-up disclosed that no one was injured and that no arrests had been made, although several volunteer fist-swingers had been ejected from the building.

Commissioner Egan announced today, "I'll make a thorough investigation of the affair at our next commission meeting on Friday. Certainly, I'll summon Green and his handlers to appear, and likely some others."

GIANTS CAN TIE FOR LEAD IN BUCKEYE

St. Joe To Open Home Schedule Sunday With Sandusky St. Mary

Tonight is the night the Little Giants of Ross high have the opportunity to stamp themselves as the team to beat in the mad dash for the 1945 Buckeye league football title. They face the Fostoria Redmen in Fostoria and a triumph will tie them for first place in the Buckeye standings with Bowling Green at two victories and no defeats each.

St. Joe, the other member of the local scholastic athletic colony, will continue preparations for the grand opening of its 1945 home grid schedule at Harmon field Sunday afternoon when the St. Mary eleven from Sandusky will be entertained.

Coach Sive Kohr of Ross anticipates no changes from the starting lineup he used against Findlay last week. Zink and Walter will be at ends, Weickert and Frantz at tackles, Captain Al Johnson and either Howie Hoffman or Dick Abbott at guards, the former only if the team kicks off; John Tschumy at center, Dick Baron will be at quarter, Wally Whitcomb and Dick Mohler at the halves and Ted Sims at full.

The team has been brushing up on its ground attack this week in view of Fostoria's good defensive showing against Port Clinton last week when the Redmen held the Porters to the same score Ross did earlier in the season, 7 to 0.

Several hundred Fremont fans are expected to make the trip to Fostoria to lend the proper and customary vocal support for their efforts.

Coach Cy Reardon, hoping to keep his St. Joe eleven in the ranks of the undefeated, has made plans for St. Mary. He has been drilling his boys in blocking and tackling, two fundamentals of the game they had overlooked until last week's tilt at Lima. Despite the improvement against St. Rose, however, Reardon doesn't want the boys to forget the application of these vital maneuvers.

SIMS SCORES TOUCHDOWN IN 2ND PERIOD

Fremont Piles Up Wide Edge In Game Statistics

Ross high school's Little Giants marched one step nearer their second successive Buckeye league football championship Friday night by defeating Fostoria, 7 to 0, on Fostoria high's sodden gridiron. The victory leaves Ross in a tie with Bowling Green for the league lead, each having won two games with no defeats.

True though it may be, the expression that "the score doesn't indicate the true difference" must be employed, if the story is to be told accurately.

Only the statistics will prove the wide margin between the two elevens. Ross made 15 first downs to six for Fostoria. The Little Giants gained a total of 250 yards from scrimmage but lost 30, cutting their net gain from scrimmage to 220 while Fostoria was picking up 120 and losing 39 for a total of 81. Ross scored one touchdown without too much difficulty, fumbled away another on the four-yard line and had a first down on the Redmen's 21-yard stripe on a third occasion, only to lose the ball on downs when their attack bogged down in the mire. The nearest point Fostoria reached toward the Fremont goal was the 37-yard marker.

Those figures tell the "true difference."

Sims Scores

Ross' touchdown came on the fourth play of the second period when Ted Sims went right through center from the three-yard line and Howie Hoffman added the extra point with a place kick with Dick Baron holding. The score culminated a 66-yard march from the Ross 34-yard line, at which point George (Spike) Hill had punted out of bounds. In just 16 plays the score was produced, with Dick Mohler, Ted Sims and Wally Weinhart taking turns at carrying the ball.

The opening period was productive of little in the way of fireworks. However, it was in this period that Ross lost the service of Wally Whitcomb, its fastest back. He suffered a torn ligament in his left leg and was replaced by Weinhart who filled the breach with determination and skill, thrusting off tackles and plunging into the line for substantial gains, in addition to doing a creditable job of punting. The loss of Whitcomb was followed in the final quarter by an injury which sent Ted Sims to the sidelines. His was a lesser hurt, however, being more or less a matter of a cramp which refused to be straightened out at once.

After taking the kickoff following the touchdown, Fostoria and Ross engaged in an exchange of punts with Ross finally losing possession of the ball on downs on the Fostoria 37. In three plays the Redmen drove to the Ross 37, Jeda Torres running twice around his own left end, first to the 43 and then the 48, following which Bob Homer went straight through the center of the Ross line on a delayed buck to the Ross 37. At this point Fostoria fumbled and Al Johnson recovered for Ross on the 43. That was as near as Fostoria came at any time to the Ross goal line. In nine running plays Ross reached the Fostoria 4, only to fumble and lose the ball.

Midfield Battle

The second half developed into a midfield battle with Ross at one time reaching the Fostoria 21 where they lost the ball on downs.

On another occasion Ross reached the 30 and again lost the ball when they could not make the necessary yardage for a first down.

In the final quarter, with time fast running out on them, Fostoria attempted a series of desperation passes while well in their own territory, but John Tschumy ended all that by intercepting one on the Fostoria 42. Here once more the Purple started a drive, but once more they surrendered the ball after reaching the Fostoria 24.

SANDUSKY GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY

STREAKS ARE FAVORITES TO EXTEND WIDE MARGIN OVER FREMONT IN 40TH MEETING

This is the Golden Anniversary night. Tonight, starting at 8:15 o'clock, the 50th anniversary of the founding of the football series between Sandusky high school and Fremont Ross high school will be observed. It is expected that a crowd neighboring on 5,000—or even exceeding that figure—will be present to witness the renewal of a friendly rivalry which began 'way back in 1895.

But while this is the 50th anniversary, tonight's game will be only the 40th played between schools of the two teams. For after playing in 1895 and 1896, ten years passed by before they met again. Two games were played in 1906, but there was no game in 1911, 1921 and 1943. Of these 39 games, Sandusky has won 25, Ross seven and six were ties. There is no record of the result of the first game in 1895. Thus, Ross will be striving for its eighth victory in the series, Sandusky for its 26th.

Ross will be underdog in tonight's contest. Coach Sive Kohr's lads have a record of three victories and one defeat, the same as has Sandusky, but one of Sandusky's triumphs was over Mansfield, one of the toughest elevens in the state. Regardless of what Ross and Sandusky may have done against Ashland or any other school, that Mansfield success stamps the Blue Streaks as having plenty on the ball and of knowing full well how to carry it.

Ross Has Weight Edge

It is expected that Sandusky will start much the same lineup against Ross as which faced Mansfield at the opening whistle.

Bob Sprau and Dick Schnittker, brother of Ohio State's Max, will likely be at ends; Marv Benner and Jim Meckstroth at tackles; Don

Ross eleven is a matter of some concern, however, Wally Whitcomb suffering from a leg injury and his understudy, sturdy Wally Weinhardt the victim of a mild attack of flu. Others on the team have minor bumps and bruises, sustained in the Fostoria contest, but they have, for the most part been ironed out to the coaches' satisfaction. The only probable change from the starting Ross lineup listed above is that, in the event Ross kicks off at the opening whistle, Howard Hoffman will replace Dick Abbott at left guard for that play and possibly a few subsequent maneuvers. But Abbott will be in shortly thereafter.

May Have Two Bands

The Ross band will, of course, be very much in evidence and it is ex-

AVOID THE CONGESTION TONIGHT

Those holding tickets for seats in Section A and B for tonight's Ross-Sandusky game will enter the stadium by the south gate. Those with tickets for seats in Sections C, D and E will use the ramp in the center of the stadium. Those with tickets for seats in Section G and all student ticket holders will enter by the north gate. All others will enter from Miller or Haynes streets.

Curtis and Ray Cebull at guards and Dick Pogialli at center. This line will average approximately 170 pounds. In the backfield, composed of four fast, elusive runners containing blocking, passing and kicking ability, will be Bob Groom at quarter, Martin Brasch and Fulton Graves at halves, and Jerry Blair at fullback. This backfield will average roughly 152 pounds, giving the whole probable starting eleven a composite weight of 163 pounds.

Ross will have Bob Zink and Bob Walter at ends; Charley Welckert and Bob Frantz at tackles; Dick Abbott and Captain Al Johnson at guards; and John Tschumy at center. The average weight of this line is, like Sandusky's total, 170 pounds. The backfield, composed of Dick Baron at quarter, Wally Whitcomb and Dick Mohler at halves, and Ted Sims at fullback, will scale to an approximate 160 pounds and gives the over-all starting eleven a 166-pound average. So the line will be evenly balanced, but the Ross backfield will outweigh Sandusky eight pounds per man, giving the entire Ross team a three-pounds-per-man edge, a practically negligible advantage. The physical condition of the pected that Sandusky will bring its band, too. At least 1,000 Blue Streak supporters are anticipated for the contest and the latest information received here was that the band would accompany them. However, should inclement weather prevail, they might not make the trip, at least not as a musical unit. But they'll likely all be on hand to watch the game, nevertheless.

Ross tapered off its Sandusky game preparations last night by running through plays from several formations, working on its defense, passing and punting and (this is a secret) preparing a little surprise for the Blue Streaks which may or may not avail the Little Giants of the hoped-for result.

But be that as it may, Ross will be ready for what comes along, alert to the possibility of winning and the accompanying glory which would follow from defeating Mansfield's conqueror. And the Purple and White and the Blue and White will go at it once again with the same old dash, the same fire and the same eager thought of winning which filled the hearts of those lads who first began this memorable series of football contests just 50 years ago.

TIGERS HEAD FOR VACATIONS

DETROIT, Oct. 12.—UP—The Detroit Tigers, the world's champion baseball team, disbanded today and its members headed for home or vacations. Some admitted they didn't expect to return. Thirty-seven-year-old Paul Richards, the veteran catcher whose errors made him the goat on the first-game loss and whose doubles made him a star of the final-game victory, told guests at a banquet last night that "I'm going back to Washburne Tex. to run my nose."

Sandusky high school's football team and that of Ross high school.

Aside from an impetuous burst early in the second period, Ross and his Little Giants yielded to the touchdowns to the visitors the first time down. Streeks got their hands on the ball on the first play, but the visitors' defense made the fast charges of the Sandusky players fall flat. The Ross tacklers were forward wall. The Ross tacklers were so rugged that on most occasions, the visitors' players would get up five and six yards on a play after being hit and apparently firing within a Fremont player's grasp. The Sandusky players were not able to get a high and highly-effective blocking to avoid their attack, whereas Ross had none of these. Sandusky's players were not able to get a high and highly-effective blocking to avoid their attack. Ross was using practically the same plays on their own 20 as they were on the visitors' 40. It was a matter of one team which had poor line play and another which did not. It was finesse and craftiness against

Dick Mohler took the opening kickoff at the north 17-yard line and passed to the end, who caught it for a 20-yard nice run. Three plays netted six yards and the ailing Wally Whitcomb punted down to the Sandusky 10. On the next play, the first play dusky Fulton Graves picked up 20 around his own left end, going to the Streaks' 16. After a 10-yard punt, the Streaks' Bill Groom ripped through center to the Ross 44, a 13-yard play. Sandusky's first play in the ball in three plays to the Ross 34, where Captain Al Johnson threw a 20-yard pass to the end, who caught the ball on the Ross 20. On the next play, the Streaks' Bill Groom ran for a nine, eluding three Sandusky players to get there. The following play he rounded his own right end for a touchdown and a 20-yard score. The Streaks' point with a place kick. The balance of the first quarter was spent by Ross in testing its defensive line. The Streaks' defense held the ball in three plays and punting.

Techumy Recovers Fumble
In the third period Sandusky kept right on piling up yardage with Ross, Graves, Jerry Blain and Groves. Bruce Alexander took a late turn at spinning the ball cleverly arranged fakes to confuse and confound Premon's defense. Even in this period Fremont was given a second life when John Techumy recovered a Sandusky fumble on the Sandusky 38. After three tries he had netted only six yards, Wally Weinhardt punted to the Sandusky 38. Aside from their advance in the opening period, this marked Ross' deepest penetration of Sandusky territory all

Handusky counted its second touchdown in the final period where the Streaks took one of Weinhardt's punts on the Ross 43 and marched straight to another severe loss. Blair zig-zagged through the line and secondary, escaping one tackler after another to reach the Ross 33. Graves ran over guards to the end and returned the ball spot to the 19 and another first down. Then Graves, again eluding the Ross secondary, ran over his own left tackle, cut to his left, and eluded all the Ross secondary except Ted Sims who caught him on the four-yard line, for another

Twice in the third period Ross was guilty of a poor strategic philosophy when they punted on third down while trailing by seven points. The first instance occurred when they were on their own 31 yard line and needed only two yards for a first down. The second was when, needing 23 yards they turned the ball over to Sandusky via a punt and led directly to the Streaks' second touchdown march.

No Pass Attack

It was noticeable that after the Erchenbrecher to Sims pass made Ross' greatest single-play gain of the night and placed the Little Giants in the only position they could enjoy all evening, just two more passes were thrown by Ross in the entire game, one of those the futile attempt for a touchdown.

Sandusky had several other scoring projects under way at various stages of the game. On each occasion, however, penalties cropped up to check their advance where Ross couldn't. They reached the 12-yard line in the third quarter and lost the ball when a fourth-down pass into the end zone missed connection by inches.

Sandusky's one-sided superiority is clearly shown in the statistics which give them 16 first downs to three for Ross. The Streakers had a total net yardage gain of 352 yards to 82 for Ross. They lost 95 yards in penalties to 50 for Ross. They punted only five times in the game, and never, never on third down.

ROSS, ST. JOE ELE

CRIMSON AT GIBSONBURG FOR DAY GAME

Kohr's Team Meets Columbian At Tiffin Tonight

Two very important football games are on schedule for Fremont's high school football teams today and tonight. This afternoon, starting at 4 o'clock, St. Joe's Crimson Streaks, playing their first game under the coaching of Hank Miesle, former athletic star at the school, will attempt to keep their unbeaten record when they meet Gibsonburg at Gibsonburg. Ross high's Little Giants, facing a tough Columbian eleven, will perform at Tiffin in a contest scheduled to begin at 8 p. m. and which, if they win it, will give the Purple undisputed lead in the Buckeye league race, and keep alive the chances for successfully defending their league gridiron championship.

Both Fremont teams are plagued with injuries. Ross has both Walby Whitcomb, speedy halfback, and Ted Sims, elusive fullback, who are hurt. The Sandusky game last week didn't improve Whitcomb's leg ligaments any, and Sims received a rib injury early in the game. Both are likely starters, however, although the extent of their operations tonight remains to be a matter of doubt.

Jack Wurzel, St. Joe sledge-hammer fullback who is a fancy open-field runner along with his other accomplishments, sustained an internal injury which is not apt to keep him from the starting lineup at Gibsonburg this afternoon but which may curtail greatly his services. Jerry Fresh, whose showing was one of the brightest spots in the Sandusky St. Mary contest a week ago Sunday, also is slightly crippled with a bad elbow.

Try To Stop Hoerig

Other than the complaints, however, both elevens appear to be in good condition. Ross' line will be given a thorough test, both on offense and defense. A total of 32 points have been scored against Columbian in three league contests, but quite a few of these were over the line, not through it. Ross has had no points scored against it in its two contests with Fostoria and Findlay.

But the defensive angle is the one which is giving Coach Sive Kohr a headache. Coach Bob Seale has a hard-hitting young fullback named Harold Hoerig whose prowess is sufficiently great that he now leads the league in points scored with 28, the result of four touchdowns and two points after, both scored through the line. In addition Columbian possesses one sweet backfielder in Merle McKillip whose ability has been overshadowed only by that of Hoerig. Both are fast and excellent broken field runners, however, and carry a constant threat.

In last night's drill, Ross worked without pads, confining their practice to signal drills and punting, passing and place-kicking. Kohr indicated his lineup would be practically the same as that of last week which put Walter and Zink at ends; Welckert and Frantz at tackles; Abbott and Cant. Al Johnson at guards; John Tschumy at center; Baron at quarter; Mohler and Whitcomb at halves, and Sims at fullback.

Miesle, just getting acquainted with the boys on his St. Joe team, likely will string along with the same lineup for this afternoon's game as the one which started against St. Mary. He will have Moyer and Swartz at ends; Snyder and Werner at tackles; LeJeune and Burns at guards; McKendrick at center; Glenn Gabel at quarter; Kritzel and Swint at halves and Wurzel, if in condition, at full.

St. Joe In Light Drill

Like Ross, St. Joe took it comparatively easy last night, after putting in some strenuous ticks during the week. If their two injured members round into shape by game time, the Crimson should be in a good position to keep their record immaculate.

After this afternoon's contest, St. Joe will have three games remaining, all scheduled for Harmon field. Tiffin Calvert will play here Sunday, October 28; Norwalk Friday night, November 2, and Glenview of Cleveland will end the campaign with another night game Friday, November 5.

After meeting Tiffin tonight, Ross also will have three contests remaining. Next Thursday—that's right, Thursday—evening Bowling Green will play at Harmon field in

POLLAKS, OLD DU IN CITY "A" BOWL

The Pollak Jewelers and the C games in City A league bowling contest night and hopped from a third-place. Their respective victims were two other entries before the evening. Individual honors, however, went to Wilbur Decker who began his big 662 series with a 268 blast as he paced the H & M Bakers to two over Herbrandis. He added games of 193 and 201.

The Pollaks were paced by Ben himself who rolled a 577 and by Verne Tilton who shot 556. Ben Recktenwald set the tempo for the Old Dutch five with a 609 on games of 203, 223 and 183. Carl Knapp of Behlmer Packard's came up with the third series over 600 for the evening, a 603, on games of 155, 211 and 234, as his team lost a pair to State Wines.

In the other two matches New Deal Cafe blanked the News-Messenger, sending that team back into the basement, and Fisher-Hi-Speeds won the odd from Howard Zink.

HOERIG, M'KILLIP TOO TOUGH FOR LITTLE GIANTS; STREAKS' FIRST DEFEAT MIESLE'S DEBUT

St. Joe's rosy vision of an undefeated football season was rudely shattered by Gibsonburg's scrappy bunch of gridders on the Gibsonburg field Friday afternoon as the Orange and Black eleven, coached by Bob Krotzer, just back from military service, staged one of the section's major upsets of the campaign by beating the Crimson, 13 to 0. The defeat spoiled the debut as coach of Hank Miesle, still in military service.

Gibsonburg scored once in each of the two first periods and was then content to protect its lead as St. Joe strove desperately but vainly to produce another of its well-known second-half comebacks, but found in Gibsonburg a foe who was stubborn and unwilling to accommodate the Fremonters.

The game was only a few moments old when Gibsonburg scored its first tally. After receiving the opening kickoff and working the ball to their home 35-yard marker, Vince Swift attempted to pass. He retreated a respectful distance, but the entire right side of the Gibsonburg line charged down on him and he hurriedly tried to get rid of the ball on the 45. He hurried it in the general direction of Gene Swint on the 20, but the pass was wobbly and short and Fullback Tom Watt dashed in front of Hipp, snared the pigskin and dashed 75 yards for a touchdown with half the St. Joe team straggling after him as he crossed the goal line. Leonard Shull, who played a great game at end for the home club all afternoon, added the extra point with a dropkick.

In the second quarter St. Joe was forced to punt from deep in its own territory and the ball rolled dead on the Gibsonburg 45. From that point a steady march, highlighted by two passes, one good for 21 yards to the St. Joe 17-yard stripe, carried the ball to the Crimson's three from which point Paul King slanted off his own right tackle for the second touchdown. This time Shull's dropkick was high enough and had good distance, but was carried off course by the strong wind.

The balance of the contest was a see-saw affair. St. Joe marched down to the Gibsonburg 30 on one occasion, only to lose the ball on a pass interception by Shull. Again, the Streaks advanced to a point near the 25-yard stripe where they lost the ball on downs as passes failed to hit their mark. Near the close of the contest, a Krittall to Swartz ran was completed for 25 yards to the Gibsonburg 22 and the big St. Joe end nearly got away for a consolation touchdown but ran into his own interference which had formed rapidly. St. Joe played better ball. They didn't look like the same eleven which humbled Foster's St. Wendelin, Lima St. Rose and Sandusky St. Mary after the famous 15-0 tie with Bellevue. They lacked coordination on the attack. They could not gain ground consistently at any one spot. Their defense, while rugged at times, was more or less spotty.

Gibsonburg, on the other hand, outfought St. Joe. The Orange's forward wall, on occasion, ripped big holes in the center of the line, especially during the first half, through which their ball carriers traveled for substantial gains.

The sum total of the afternoon appeared to present the unfortunate spectacle of a good football team which took its opposition too much for granted, was ripe for an upset and got it.

McQUINN IS NO WORRY TO MACK

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 20.—UP—Manager Connie Mack of the Philadelphia Athletics was unconcerned today at First Baseman George McQuinn's announcement of retirement, declaring it was probably a hint for more money. McQuinn came to the A's from the St. Louis Browns in a trade for Dick Seibert, and Mack said the trade would stand. McQuinn said he was going into business, but Mack said, "I can't help but feel the chances are 99 out of 100 that he will be with us next year."

BLUEJACKETS INTERESTED LANSING, Mich.—UP—Fur farming has appealed to many servicemen—and particularly to sailors—as a post-discharge business. The Michigan conservation department has reported. The department has received many inquiries from men in service concerning fur farming prospects and methods of going into the business.

Led by the power running of Harold Hoerig and Merle McKillip, Tiffin Columbian defeated Ross high, 7 to 0, on the Heidelberg college field in Tiffin Friday night. The defeat of Ross gives Bowling Green undisputed possession of first place in the Buckeye league race, a battle in which the Little Giants are attempting to defend their circuit football crown.

While Ross did not play the ball of which the team is capable it is a matter of fact that a series of misfortunes deprived them of what opportunities they might have had to score after a Ross fumble early in the opening quarter led to the only points of the contest.

After Howard Hoffman's fine opening kickoff was returned to the Columbian 14-yard line Coach Bob Seeler's back gained seven yards in three tries and Hoerig punted to Whitcomb who made a nice return from his own 28 to the Columbian 45. On the first play thereafter Bob Talbert recovered a Ross fumble on the Columbian 43 and Tiffin was on its way. They advanced to the Ross 44 before punting out on the 23. Whitcomb punted right back to the Tiffin 48. McKillip rounded left and for five yards and Hoerig picked up six at right tackle, good for a first down on the Ross 30. Hoerig repeated over guard for a first down on the Ross 24. McKillip galloped through left tackle to the 19 and on the ensuing spinner, reached the 14. Here McKillip took the ball and headed for his own right end. He cut sharply in, side stepped two would-be Ross tacklers and waded his way across the goal line. Hoerig went over guard and center for the extra point.

That was all the scoring, but not all the action, by any means. Midway in the second period, Wally Whitcomb, who played sparkling football throughout the entire contest, was shaken loose around his own right end and heaced from his own 35-yard line to the Tiffin 46 where he was run out of bounds. Here with the location fixed for nearly anything in the book, Ross was penalized 15 yards for holding. He and subsequently had to punt. Later in the same period Whitcomb took one of Hoerig's punts on his own 25 and, after apparently being tripped, escaped a handful of Columbian defenders and ran 38 yards to the Tiffin 37. But again Ross was penalized five yards for off-side and on the following punt, Hoerig kicked out of bounds, not wishing to take another chance with Whitcomb's manuevering. Still a third opportunity escaped Ross in this same period when Hoerig, essaying a punt, got the ball off the side of his foot and its bounce carried it to a point behind where he was originally standing when he kicked. It was one of those rare plays in which a team actually lost ground on a punt without a return run. The ball was taken in by Ross on the Columbian 32, but on the next play Ross fumbled and this went another chance.

The third quarter was played much between the 30-yard lines with Whitcomb and Hoerig matching kicks, neither side seriously threatening the other's defenses.

The final stanza almost produced a second touchdown for Tiffin. Near the close of the contest a long aerial, Whitcomb to Sam Sims was knocked down, but interference was allowed and Ross took the ball on the Tiffin 32. A running play and three incomplete passes gave Columbian the ball at this point, but they had to punt almost immediately. Ross taking over on the Tiffin 46. Here Ross resumed its desperation passing attack and Glen Ritzenthaler intercepted one on his own 32 and carried it to the Ross 23 before being overhauled. Here the game became rough and Ross was penalized 15 yards to its eight for unnecessary roughness.

Hoerig hit center for four and added two more and finally another, all between tackles. And then came an unusual happening. On fourth down, with one yard to go for a touchdown, Tiffin was off-side and Ross was consulted as to its choice in accepting or rejecting the five-yard penalty. The Tiffin backs had become confused by the play and had not made the needed yard. By declining the penalty, Ross would have taken the ball and had time to run one play. However, they accepted the penalty and gave Columbian one more chance from the Ross 49-yard line. Hoerig, however, made only a couple yards through the line as the final gun sounded.

BOTH ELEVENS PASS CHANCE TO MAKE POINTS; FOSTORIA IS ONLY BAR TO CATS' CROWN

Ross high school saw the chance of retaining its Buckeye league football title—or a share of it—glimmering last night as the Little Giants, arrive as they would, could fare no better than a scoreless tie against Forest Crosson's Bowling Green Bobcats at Harmon field. The deadlock practically sewed up the championship for the visitors, they needing no better than a tie in their remaining league battle with Fostoria, to take the undisputed crown. A loss to Fostoria in that game would give the championship to Tiffin Columbian.

The game, the final one on the Ross home schedule, was the last appearance here for an even dozen Ross players and its result gives Ross a record of two victories, one defeat and a tie for the Buckeye league season and runs their season's record to three triumphs, three reverses and a tie. They have two games remaining on their schedule, to be played at Elyria and at Lima against Central.

Because the excellent punting of a couple of Bowling Green kickers kept Ross in hot water during the entire second half and because the Fremont brand of ball deteriorated in the second half from that played in the first, it might be judged that Ross had entirely the worst of the deal. The statistics sheet disproves that theory, though it offers slight consolation. Ross totaled seven first downs to five for Bowling Green; the Purple picked up a net total of 98 yards to 65 for Bowling Green and completed the evening's only pass, the picture play of the game, a play which could have been used more frequently, not only during this game, but during the season, doubtless with results similar to that it attained last night.

Ross early showed a strong desire to win. Taking the ball on their own 37, the Little Giants staged a sustained drive which carried to the Bowling Green 11-yard line before it stalled. From the home 37, Dick Mohler, with the aid of fine blocking, ran to mid-field, rounding his own left end. Whitcomb advanced over center to didn't get it. He was downed on the 20 for a first down. And that's as far as Ross could get, they losing the ball on downs, as the game ended.

Ross showed by their play that they had regained their spirit, if not the ability to score. They played a good brand of ball and gave ground grudgingly. They had two punts blocked by Waugh and both times because the kicker was not standing far enough behind the line of scrimmage. When he was back the prescribed 12 yards or so there was no concern for the safety of the kick.

Bob Frantz, Al Johnson, John Tachumy and Sam Sims on the line played exceptionally well. Ted Sims and Dick Mohler who sliced through the Bowling Green line time and time again for substantial gains in the first half, departed themselves with great credit. They could not get around Bowling Green's left end Jim Mooney, however, nor could they keep Bob Foss nor Waugh from sliding into the backfield. Early in the game the Bobcats lost the services of Don Epen, their star back, who left the game with a badly sprained right arm, at first thought to be broken. They also lost their captain, John Gillespie, as well as several other backfield men and when the game ended were employing three sophomores in their backfield, all under 160 pounds, none over 15 years of age.

Ross, too, had casualties, Bob Walter leaving the contest with an injured pelvis. Whitcomb was hurt and helped from the field, although he returned later to play. The others, once out, did not return. The game was played for Being the last home game of the season, Ross honored the fathers and mothers of the players in particular and all fathers and mothers in general. The fathers of the players were seated on a bench in front of the Ross stands wearing numbers corresponding to those worn by their sons on the field. And each player's mother in the stands wore a yellow chrysanthemum, the gift of the school. Mrs. Sims, whose two boys, Ted and Sam, played so well, wore two.

Between halves the Ross band formed a huge "Mom" and played "Mother Machree" and a "Dad" which they accompanied with "What's the Matter with Father—He's All Right." The visiting Bowling Green band formed a ship and played "Anchors Aweigh" and executed a maneuver which was a merry-go-round in which an inner circle went one direction and an outer the opposite, the musicians stooping at every other step and the inner circle being up while the outer was down, as they played the "Beer Barrel Polka" in true carousel style.

the Scarlet 46. Ted Sims picked up three at center and then Mohler ran to the 36. Whitcomb circled wide around his own right end and was run out of bounds on the Bowling Green 20. Sims ran over center to the 15 and Mohler hit left guard to the 11. But on the next play, Whitcomb was thrown on the 18 by Fred Waugh, the 160-pound tackle who was Ross' public enemy No. 1 all night long. He lost two more and Ross was there penalized five yards for offside before an incomplete pass gave the visitors the ball on the 20. That was as near a score, as far as yards were concerned, as Ross came all night long.

The Bobcats punted out of danger at once and after Ross had taken the ball on their own 41, they tried three plays which netted little and Whitcomb stepped back to punt. His kick was blocked by Waugh and, it being fourth down, Bowling Green gained possession on the Ross 20 where it was downed. John Gillespie was tossed for a neat six-yard loss by Howie Hoffman and Bob Frantz. On the next play Ross was penalized 15 yards to its 11 for unnecessary roughness which took the form of piling on. Here, with a touchdown staring them in the face, the determined Bobcats found an even more determined Ross line. On the first play they lost two and on the second they lost four more. Two passes were knocked down by the alert Ross defense and Ross took over on the 17.

The second half was much less in favor of Ross. Bowling Green's able kickers, Art Miller and Dave Manhart, booted long spirals downfield which kept Ross with its back to its goal line. Neither team threatened until, with a few minutes left to play in the final period, Bob Hied, sub end, recovered a Bowling Green fumble on the Bobcats' 41. After John Erchenbrecher had thrown two passes which missed only by inches of being complete, the picture play came and Dick Baron, taking the ball faked a stub at the line. He whirled, ran back into the backfield and turned quickly to toss a pass to Erchenbrecher who needed but one more block to have his touchdown. He

Little Giants Snap Into Form; Hold Edge In First Downs

By GLEN GIER

The Little Giants of Ross high pulled an upset 7 to 0 victory out of the hat at Elyria Friday night, exploding in the third period to score their touchdown nine plays after they received the kickoff, and continuing to dominate play in such a manner from there on that the host Pioneer team was never again in the game.

The Sive, Kohr-mentored athletes were so far superior to their last three appearances that they hardly resembled the same bunch of boys who performed against Sandusky, Tiffin and Bowling Green in contests in which they failed to dent the opponent's goal.

The touchdown came with such ease and execution of play was so clever and so precise that the score followed as a matter of course. Ted Sims went over from 12 yards out, going around his own right end behind splendid blocking and carrying two Elyria lads on his shoulders over the pay off stripe. Ross received at the outset of the third period the same Sims taking the ball out to the 28. In just nine plays the Little Giants had moved 74 yards. Sims, Dick Mohler and Sims again hit for 11 and a first down on the 37. Bobo Weinhardt went to his right and drove beautifully for nine and one-half. Sims picked up just enough for the first down, and Mohler was stopped before a jump pass from Ted and Sam Sims completely fooled the Elyria defense, the play going 52 yards to Elyria's 20. Ted smashed for eight right up the middle, and on the next play shoved over from the 12. Howie Hoffman came in the game, and with Dick Baron holding the ball, planted the seventh point between the upstarts.

Penalty Hurts

It didn't take the Purple long to get moving again and, but for a backfield in motion penalty, their score would have been at least 13 points. An exchange of kicks found Fremont with the ball on the Elyria 46. It was a fourth down pass from the 38 from Ted to Sam

Sims again that put the ball in scoring position. Sam finally being downed on the 12. Elyria was again surprised, looking for a kick since the Purple was ahead and the game was in the fourth canto. Ted Sims hit for four and Mohler followed up with the same dosage. On the next play Mohler fumbled, but Butler Blachoff recovered for Ross for a yard gain. It was fourth down and one to go for first down or three to go for a TD. Sims drove straight in for a first down, but someone was offside and the Little Giants were pushed back five yards. This called for a pass and again it was a toss. Ted to Sam. On this one Sam was pretty well covered, he was jostled by two defenders before the ball got to him, and was unable to hold it. But that was enough. Elyria barged out for a long pass completion from Tittle Van Dyke to Sherwood Byam that moved the leather from the 25 to Ross' 40, but a 15 yard penalty for intentional grounding of a pass when the Little Giant line broke through to hit him, marched from the 20 yard line to the center of the field to shake hands with Coach Trubey. The program, planned by the Elyria Booster club, was a fine one.

An interested spectator and one of the first persons to move into the Ross dressing room after the game was Jules Bobb, former Elyria high principal, now superintendent of schools at Elyria.

Elyria held the upper hand in the first two cantos but didn't threaten too dangerously. Every time it looked like Elyria was on the move the alert Ross lads bobbed up to upset the offensive. Twice pass interceptions stopped things, Sam Sims jumping high to grab an aerial in the second period on the 15 yard line. Ted Sims came up with another steal in the same period but not quite so deep.

The forward wall of the Little Giants was on the ball all evening. As of Elyria's eight fumbles being gobbled up, almost all of these in the first half when the Pioneer looked like the better team. One of the big factors in Ross' being able to stop Elyria in the first two periods was Bobo Weinhardt's kicking. The Purple sophomore booted the first time for 50 yards and kept up a splendid average all evening, getting a mark of 38 yards in five tries.

Coach Kohr was forced to use a jurgled lineup with Bob Walter not even in uniform and Wally Whitcomb confined to the bench because of his multiple injuries. Walter did a good job of spotting for the Elyria announcer. At the outset Weinhardt was at quarter, Baron at full, Ted Sims and Dick Mohler at the halves. However, many times during the game on certain situations Baron went to quarter, Weinhardt to left half. Sims to full, with several different combinations operating effectively behind a stubborn line, one which must receive much credit for outplaying a much heavier Elyria forward wall. There was no standstill in the corps of the boys up front.

All in all the Purple played the type of ball, which, had it been employed in Buckeye league games would have won an undisputed title. Ross had only one touchdown scored on it in the game, but finished with two wins,

Irish-Navy Tilt Heads National Football Card

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—UP—All roads led to Cleveland today as far as college football fans were concerned as the Navy-Notre Dame clash there overshadowed all other games.

Both teams are undefeated in five games, and opinion was evenly divided on the winner. Bookies were cautious, most of them demanding 6 to 5 odds and giving the better his choice of team. More than 80,000 spectators, drawn by the immense color of the game and the promise of a wide-open passing duel between Navy's Bob Hornschmeyer and Notre Dame's Frank Danewicz, were expected to jam into Municipal stadium. Kickoff was scheduled for 2 p. m. EST.

Every other section of the country also boasted top-notch games. In the east it was the Columbia-Cornell and Yale-Dartmouth games. Columbia, unbeaten and untied, was weakened by sickness of two regular backfield men and Cornell was in a good spot to upset the odds-makers, who made Columbia a 12-point favorite. Yale and Dartmouth were rated nearly even.

The "Little Brown Jug" battle between Michigan and Minnesota at Ann Arbor headlined the mid-west card. Both have been beaten once in the Big Ten, and today's loser will be out of the race. Ohio State entertains Northwestern. The undefeated but tied Indiana Hoosiers, Big Ten leaders, coast against Cornell of Iowa.

As hard to predict as the Navy-Notre Dame game was the south's copper, the Georgia Tech-Duke clash. Tech was a halfline choice.

In the southwest, Arkansas and Texas A. and M. were even in their big game, and Oklahoma was a slight choice over Texas Christian.

The only real challenger to the Middles and Irish for national attention was the St. Mary's-Southern California clash in the far west. St. Mary's fabulous Herman Wedemeyer, the Hawaiian back who does everything but blow up the ball, made the Gaels a favorite.

A loss and a tie which was good enough for only third place, Elyria had a better ball club than any Buckeye league team.

The Ted Sims and Sam Sims combination was too much for the Pioneer. One or the other was in every play, and sometimes both of them. Ted's passing was splendid, despite the fact that a couple of times he tried to find his receiver before he had the ball firmly in his possession. His smashing into the line was superb, and on defense he was a bear. Sam wore some glue on his fingers against Elyria and did a nice job on pass interceptions. Defensively, he, too, was a burn in the side of the host club. The running of Mohler and Weinhardt was their best of the season, too.

Outstanding for Elyria were Tittle Van Dyke and Vic Jankowski in the backfield, and Captain Bill Sutliff and Sherwood Byam at guard and end on the line.

No One Injured

Ross came out of the game without any injuries and is hoping to wind up his season next Friday night at Lima Central with a victory.

Friday was Parents' Night at Elyria and the faithful Fremont fans who saw the game and cheered their lads to victory saw a nice performance. The splendid Elyria band did a neat job between halves, spelling "Pop" and "Mom" and playing appropriate music. Just before time to start play again the father and mother of each athlete, with the gridders walking between them, marched from the 20 yard line to the center of the field to shake hands with Coach Trubey. The program, planned by the Elyria Booster club, was a fine one.

An interested spectator and one of the first persons to move into the Ross dressing room after the game was Jules Bobb, former Elyria high principal, now superintendent of schools at Elyria.

"No Football—No School!"

WHITESBURG, Ky., Nov. 3. —UP—About 300 Whitesburg high school students today walked out on strike and paraded through downtown Whitesburg protesting that a scheduled football game with Fleming high had been cancelled.

Banners carried by the striking students said, "No Football, No School" and the students also were asking that the county board of education take action against Principal C. J. Reed who reportedly had protested playing the game.

EACH ANXIOUS FOR TRIUMPH IN FINALE

Little Giants Play Central At Lima; Glenville Here

Tonight the football teams of Ross and St. Joe high schools will sing their swan songs. On the basis of their performances the last time out, there is no reason to believe the tunes will be anything but happy ones.

Ross will play at Lima, meeting Central high in Lima's Municipal stadium. St. Joe will meet Glenville of Cleveland at Harmon field. The local contest will begin at 8 o'clock.

Coach Sive Kohr of Ross and Coach Hank Miesle of St. Joe are both more than a little anxious to win tonight. A defeat for Ross would give the Little Giants a .500 rating for the year and, naturally, the boys, as well as the coach are desirous of creeping above that figure. To date the Purple has won four games, lost three and tied one.

St. Joe, with a record of four won, two lost and one tied, aspires to give Miesle an even break in the statistics since he took over. After Hank assumed command before the Gibsonburg contest, the Streaks lost two games, to Gibsonburg and Tiffin Calvert, and defeated Norwalk last week in a display of strength which was pleasant to witness.

Then there is always the spirit which youngsters show in their last game of high school football which can be counted on to produce an additional dash to their performance. However, since the opposition team, in each case, likely has some boys who also will be playing their final school contests, the advantage which this source can provide probably will revert to nil.

Be that as it may, 13 lads from St. Joe and 11 from Ross will make their final appearances in high school grid suits.

Both Ross and St. Joe have injuries with which to worry. Ross, with both Wally Whitcomb, half-back, and Bob Walter, end, missing from action will be more crippled than St. Joe, whose quarterback, Glenn Gabel, is their only casualty to date. Bob Heid will likely take Walter's place at end, although both Jack Huddle and Jim Kridler are also available. The Ross backfield will probably start with Ted Sims, Dick Baron, Wally Weinhardt and Dick Mohler. St. Joe's backfield may be shifted to use Jack Wurzel at full, Jerry Freeh and Jim Kritzell at halves and Vince Swint at quarter. Pete LeJeune is expected to start at his regular guard spot.

Also on the day's program are such games as Bellevue at Port Clinton, Genoa at Oak Harbor, Rossford at Gibsonburg, Marion Harding at Sandusky and Lorain at Elyria.

SIMS TO SIMS PASSES SCORE GIANT POINTS

Central Rallies In Third Quarter To Capture Contest

By ROBERT BEACH

News-Messenger Sports Editor

Ross high's 1945 football campaign came to the end of the trail in Lima's Municipal stadium Friday night and only disappointment was there to greet them for, while the Little Giants led in nearly every department, they lacked enough points and lost their fourth game of the season, 13 to 12, to Central.

Thus their accomplishments for the season stand at four victories, four defeats and one tie. This gives Coach Sive Kehr a record of 12 triumphs, five losses and two ties in his two-year reign as gridiron headmaster in the absence of Coach Lester Binkley, who is in the navy.

Ross ran up a net gain from scrimmage of 202 yards to 123 for Central. The Little Giants had 13 first downs to six for the home club. And the Purple's total yards gained for the evening was 205 to 148 for the Dragons. But by the margin of a single point after touchdown Central won the game. The passing combination of Ted Sims to brother Sam produced the only points the Giants were able to score in the game, one coming in the opening quarter from the 15-yard line and the other in the final quarter from the 22.

March 41 Yards

Fremont received the opening kickoff and carried it back to their own 39 and with a sustained march produced a touchdown without losing possession of the ball, the drive ending with Ted Sims' pass to his brother Sam from the 15-yard line. Howie Hoffman's attempted placement kick for the extra point was a little wide.

Ross dominated play in the first half completely and at one time advanced to the Dragon 14 in the second period but lost the ball on downs when a second of the Sims to Sims connections, this one over the goal line, failed.

Central bounced back like a rubber ball in the third period and scored two touchdowns in impressive fashion. They took the ball on their own 49, thanks to a fine kick-off return by Bill Stanyer, and marched right down the field to a six-pointer with left end Hoff scoring on a pass from Bill Sharp, good for nine yards. Jim Hobler added the extra point with a place kick.

Almost immediately after the ensuing kick-off Charley Wheeler, Dragon center, recovered a Ross fumble on the Purple's 32-yard line and in seven plays they had their second touchdown with Hobler going over from 1 1/2 yards out. His attempt for the extra point was blocked by Bob Heid and marked Hobler's first unsuccessful conversion this season.

Again Ross took a kick-off and scored without relinquishing the ball. They marched from their own 30, the 70-yard parade being climaxed by another Sims to Sims pass on which Ted, standing on the 22, tossed to Sam, on the four, the latter eluding a tackler and running across the goal line for the score. Hoffman's attempted conversion kick was blocked by Bill First.

Ted Sims Rambles

Ross showed flashes of power, as the account and the statistics indicate. Ted Sims played one of the greatest games of his scholastic career, dashing through the center of the Dragon line for six and eight yards at a crack, time and time again. The work of Bob Franz and Captain Al Johnson in the line was especially good. But the boys could not solve the mystery of the simple delayed spinner which Central employed with telling effect as Stanyer and Share, Central's standout performers, made consistently heavy yardage, running from a single wing.

The game was the last for eleven Little Giants. They were Charley Weickert, Dick Abbott, John Tschumy, Al Johnson, Bob Frantz, Ted Sims, Dick Mohler, Howard Hoffman, John Erchenbrecher, Bob Walter and Art Frazier.

FOOTBALL

The Little Giants Football squad emerged from the 1945 season with four wins, a tie and four losses. The season's toughest opponent proved to be Fremont's age-old rival, Sandusky, who gave the Giants a 14 to 0 defeat.

Port Clinton invaded Ross for the initial game of the season, giving the home team their first defeat, 7 to 0. This awakened the Little Giants, for the next week they went into action against Ashland and downed them 6 to 0. The following game, with Findlay, proved even better for Ross, chalking up another win to the tune of 13 to 0.

Journeying to Fostoria the Little Giants defeated the Redmen 7 to 0 and piled up great odds against them in statistics. This win put the Rossmen in a tie with Bowling Green for first place in the Buckeye League.

The Kohrmen's next game took the wind out of their sails, when Sandusky drubbed them 14 to 0. Tiffin Columbian then took a 7 to 0 victory from the Giants, shattering nearly all hope for a League Championship.
