

Final Inning Rally Sinks Ross Buckeye Crown Hope

Bob Shetenhelm was throwing two-hit ball and had 11 strikeouts to his credit with six innings gone when the roof fell in

Saturday afternoon. The result on the local diamond was a 1-3 Mansfield victory over Ross in the semi-finals of the Buckeye Conference baseball run-off. Mansfield will now play Lorain Admiral King for the championship.

For the even innings Shetenhelm gave up seven hits, struck out 12 and walked four.

In the final frame relief pitcher Dick Czernewski led off with a double opening the door for his mates to give him a win. Mansfield batters followed with four singles and advanced a base on an error to tally four runs.

Ross had single runs in the first, second and sixth innings.

Czernewski struck out three, walked one and hit one batter in two innings. In five innings starter Bob Mehl struck out three and walked four.
