COLUMBUS – Over the weekend, Fremont Ross was represented by six wrestlers as they took the Purple and White colors into battle. Seniors Bakari Scott, Gage Ross, and Xsaria Puente, Sophomore Jayce Frymire, and freshmen Aidan Autullo and Jaiden Long were in the spotlight at the Annual OHSAA State Wrestling tournament.

Xsaria Puente

Most if not all the Fremont competitors have the sport of wrestling in their backgrounds. They come from generations of Fremont Ross and St Joseph Central Catholic wrestlers. Ross' dad, Jamie advanced to state in 1995 and his grandfather, Eric Wolfe was a wrestler for Fremont Ross. Frymire has two uncles, Trey and Tyler Grine who were standouts at Ross. Trey Grine was a two-time state placer including a second place finish in 2014. Autullo comes from wrestlers as well as his dad, Aaron Autullo was a district qualifier for St Joe. Puente, who had Fremont's top finish placing sixth, comes from a long line of wrestlers. Her cousin Rondal Blackburn was a 2000 state champ while wrestling for Clyde. Her brother, Joaquin Puente, and cousin Rico Puente also wrestled for the Little Giants. Puente appeared at the state for the second year in a row and will be pursuing a college career in the sport. Long, an alternate for the event, is the daughter of Chad Long, a two-time state match runner-up for the Clyde Fliers.

Placing for the Little Giants was Scott, finishing eighth, wrestling in the 132 lbs weight class. From a very young age, Bakari was introduced to the sport by his grandfather and uncles, who were standout wrestlers at St. Joseph Central
