Fremont Ross cross country team experiences growth

By BOB MARKER

Staff writer

A dozen boys and eight girls comprise one of the larger Ross High School cross country teams in recent years, according to coaches John Elder and Tracy Lytle.

The boys' team is a blend of experience and youth.

"We have a good corps of freshmen and sophomores," Elder said.

"We have experience in three seniors — Steve Jay, Mark Sheidler and Dave Boda — who give a solid base of experience."

Boda will be a four-year letterman for Elder after this season while his classmates have won two letters apiece.

While Elder likes the leadership of the group of three, he visualizes a newcomer as possibly sneaking ahead of the group.

"A freshman, Dane Snyder, could be ... could be," Elder said, "our best runner this year. He will challenge Mark and Steve for the top spot.

"Also, a couple of sophomores should contribute. Jeff Pasch was our sixth man last year and should move up."

Other sophomores Elder has are Tim Leeth, Rob Swaisgood, Nathan Cox and Matt Henning.

"Hopefully," he said, "our top four will be in the low 17s (minutes for the 3.1-mile cross country distance) or high 16s for the year. That should make us competitive."

Lytle will be coaching her first varsity sport after serving as a junior high coach several years ago.

"We have eight girls," she said. "We have a lot of new ones but we do have three experienced runners."

Only two of them have lettered, however, senior Leah Lomax and sophomore Heather Mears.

Lytle pointed out that she has some runners who have never run competitively before.

"Heather Mears, is running number one because she ran all summer and she has a very strong base," Lytle said. "She ran a lot of road races. After that, it is really hard to tell because they are clumped together.

"It will probably take a few meets to see that (where runners will be in the lineup)."

Lytle has juniors Tonia Dieter, Erika Pickard and Debbie Lillay, sophomore Tina Holland and freshmen Heather Brooks and Jessica Potter on her first squad.

"I don't know what they will do because many of them have not run in a meet," Lytle said. "Our goal is just to work together and see how fast they can run."

Ross will run its home meets at Wolf Creek State Park.

Central boys, girls win Fremont meet

By BOB MARKER

Toledo Central Catholic dominated the first Fremont Invitational Cross Country Meet Saturday at windy Wolf Creek Park.

The Irish won both the boys and girls varsity divisions handily. The TCC boys had 19 points while sweeping the top four spots and the Irish girls were charged with 27 points in the girls race. Low score in cross country wins.

The meet was a cooperative effort by Fremont Ross and St. Joseph Central Catholic. Teams entered in the race had either purple or red as their main colors. In prior years, the race had been the Purple Invitational hosted by Ross.

"I think the future of this meet is good," Ross coach John Elder said. "I think if we get on to a different course that can accommodate more teams, I think it can grow. The question is can we get other teams with the right colored uniforms down here."

The meet had originally been slated for a new course on the Widman property on Morrison Road but the course has not been completed.

St. Joe coach Gary Logsdon said, "As far as I know, this is the first time that Ross and St. Joe have combined their efforts for a tournament. It turned out excellent."

Elder added, "We (Ross, and St. Joe) worked well together. Gary handled a lot of the organizational awards; we handled the correspondence — it worked out well. We'll do it again."

Logsdon said, ideally, a goal is to have a two-division (big school, little school) race.

"We are definitely going to keep the colors — that is a unique item," the St. Joe coach said.

Maumee was second in the boys race with 86 points. Keystone was next at 100 while Ross was fourth with 107. Huron, Ashland Crestview and St. Joe finished sixth through seventh. Toledo Waite and Vermilion did not have full teams.

□ Fostoria Invitational, B4

Jake O'Leary won the individual race for the Irish, running the 3.1-mile course, which was plagued by a strong wind out of the west, in 16 minutes and 42 seconds. Second through fourth were teammates Aaron Staszak, Mike McManus and Chris Heinrichs.

"The wind doesn't bother people on this course," Elder said. "It is an enclosed course because of the trees; the surface was more of a factor because of the wet leaves and it being slick."

Steve Jay of Ross was seventh in 17:23 and Scott Reineck of St. Joe was 10th in 17:36.

Keystone was second in the girls race with 65. Maumee was next at 91 with Huron fourth at 118. Ross was fifth at 119, followed by Waite and St. Joe.

Gretchen Weiher, Kristin Avery and Cathy Blondo of the TCC finished 1-2-3. Weiher recorded a 19:40 while Avery finished in 20:11.

Heather Mears of Ross was ninth in 21:37 while Nanci Luc in 21st was St. Joe's top finisher.

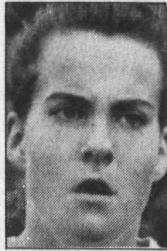

In the varsity open races, Suzie Harraman of Ashland Crestview was first in the girls race in 22:32 LUC while Chris Athey of Vermilion won the boys open race in 17:35.

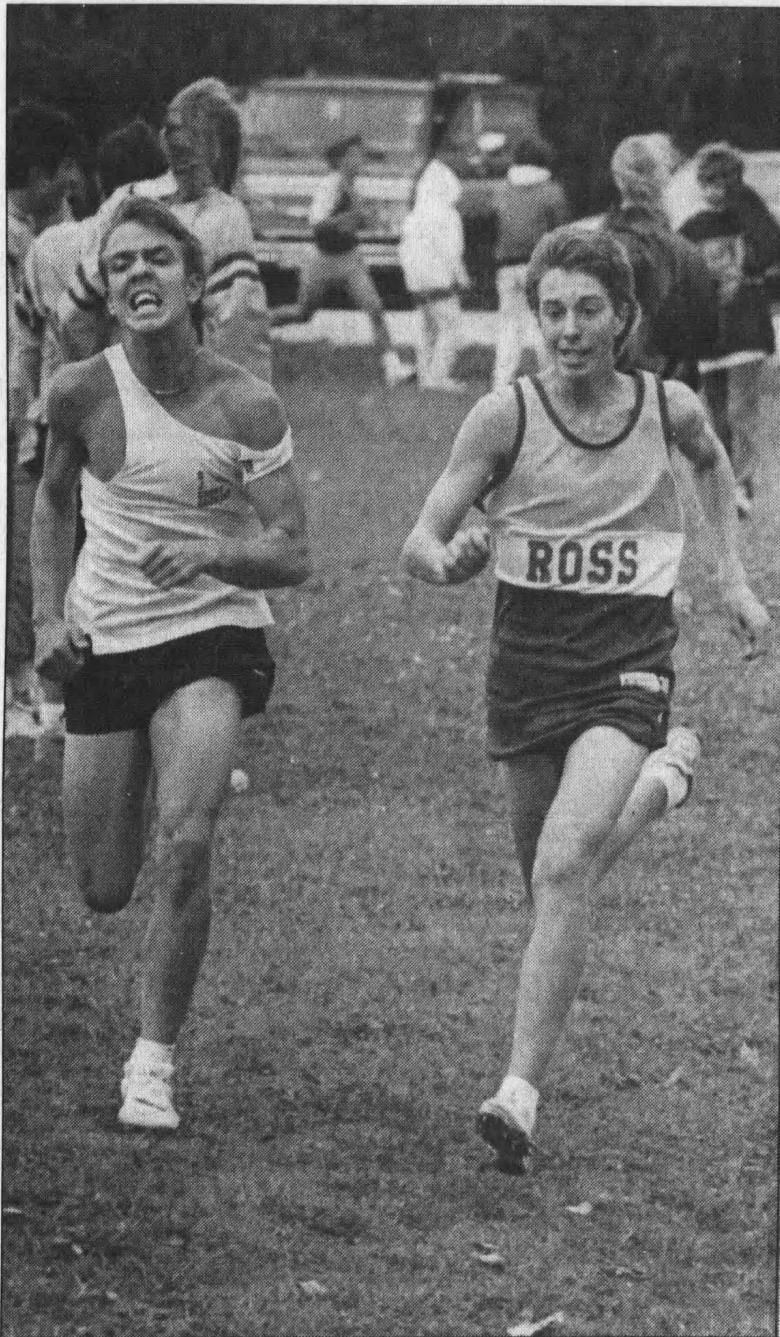

Fremont Junior High School won the junior high boys race with 48 points, six ahead of runner-up Maumee. Keystone was third with St. Joe fourth and Huron fifth.

Jeremiah Wagner of the Fremont Junior High was the individual winner in 12:14. Brett Reineck of St. Joe finished third in 12:37.

Maumee was first in the girls junior high event with 30 points. Huron was second with 33 and St. Joe third with 67.

Sarah Yeager of St. Joe was third in 12:30. Star Foos was 19th for Fremont Junior High's best finish.
