Local high schools get football season started with two-a-days

Ross will have its security blanket back this fall.

At least that's what 10th year coach Derek Kidwell is calling his offensive line. The Little Giants welcomed linemen Jarvis Jones, Kyle Lamalle, Mike Muffler, Dylan Jagodzinski, Blake Moyer, Tyler Tran, Alec Carnicom and others to camp on Monday as two-a-day practices started around Sandusky County.

A total of 90 kids, including 25 freshmen were present on the first day of Ross practices.

"We're going to rely a lot on those experienced big boys up front to control the line of scrimmage," said Kidwell, whose team enters 2012 off a disappointing 3-7 season that saw them finish 1-6 in the Three Rivers Athletic Conference. "We're going to be a run football team. We got a nice stable of running backs and having a new quarterback, I'm not going to ask them to go out and win us games. We're going to manage games for them."

Kidwell's offense averaged 23.4 points per game in 2012, led by three-year starter Tyler Wolf. However, Wolf is gone. Junior Jaleen Slick is the frontrunner to replace him, but Kidwell says he'll get plenty of competition.

Dick Kidwell moved to offense after coaching the defense the last nine years. He'll be working with the running backs and helping with the offensive play-calling where they hope he can breathe in some new life.

"He's always been an offensive guy," said coach Kidwell of his father. "We just wanted to make a change defensively to see if we could get better."

With that in mind, Kidwell nabbed former Clyde assistants Chad Long and Troy Albright. Long, a former college football player at Bowling Green State University, like Kidwell, will be the new defensive coordinator, while Albright will work with the defensive line.

Ross gave up an average of 33.1 points per contest, including 34 or more points in six games a year ago.

"Chad has his own style he brings to his defenses," Kidwell said. "He's an aggressive defensive coordinator where he can adjust his schemes to different offenses and different formations, so we'll have a lot of flexibility defensively."

The Little Giants open the season Aug. 30 with a visit to their long-time chief rivals, the Blue Streaks of Sandusky, before visiting Maple Heights in Week 2. Ross' first home game is Sept. 13 when it hosts Pickerington North.

"We need to have a good season," Kidwell said. "We haven't represented ourselves well since we've gotten to this new league. We need to get back to playing hard-nosed and fundamental Fremont Ross football."

SJCC

Across town at the Naderer Sports Complex, new St. Joseph Central Catholic coach T.J. Buckley had 30 kids in camp who have made it no secret that they want to follow up a banner season, by one-upping themselves.

The Crimson Streaks rebounded from a 4-6 campaign in 2011, going 10-2 and winning their first outright Midland Athletic League title since 1996 with a perfect 7-0 league mark. They topped Ottawa Hills (27-3) in their first-ever home playoff football game, before falling to Delphos St. John's (54-21) in the Division VI regional semifinals.

"We just came off of eight days of camp where the kids only had four days off, so everything was still nice and fresh for them today," said Buckley, who served as co-defensive coordinator and special teams coach at Elmwood a year ago after five successful years as an assistant coach at Genoa.

Amor's play and development was one of few bright spots for Ross during a 3-7 campaign that started out with so much promise after a blowout win over Sandusky (52-18) and a come-from-behind road win over a good Brecksville-Broadview Heights team in Week Two (32-29). But like the season before, health became an issue. The team that was on the field in the first two weeks was the never the same.

Injuries to key players piled up, as did the mistakes. Ross was minus-20 in turnover margin, as untimely mistakes cost them games they could have won.

The Little Giants' five-game losing streak to the end of the year was the first of that length under coach Derek Kidwell, who enters his 10th season.

this new league. We need to get back to playing hard-nosed and fundamental Fremont Ross football."

Since starting TRAC play in 2011, Ross has gone 3-11 in league play, including 1-6 a year ago. Two of those wins came against Lima Senior, the other was a home victory over St. Francis de Sales in 2011.

Ross was picked seventh by league coaches. Toledo Central Catholic — the defending state champions in Division II — were pegged as the TRAC favorites with Whitmer — the Division I runners-up — in tow.

"I don't see why we wouldn't be voted anywhere except where we were after the way we've fared the last two years," Kidwell said. "I mentioned the preseason vote to the team, but we're not dwelling on it."

"I like our effort so far. I've had teams with more talent, but the chemistry and work ethic have been good. Our senior leadership has been extremely good and I think we're a lot more physical than we were in recent years at the present juncture."

Usually Kidwell has had quarterback picked out coming into two-a-days, too. Not the case this time around.

Junior Jalen Slick and sophomore Jared Hampton are locked in a neck and neck dual.

"I've never been a two-quarterback type of coach before, but these two guys may force us to play both of them," Kidwell said. "Neither one has separated themselves yet to have full possession of the position, they've very comparable to each other. But with as much time as they'll be playing on defense, that could be a good thing."

Whoever gets the nod, though, won't have quite

Coach: Derek Kidwell, 10th year.

Last year: 3-7 (1-6 Three Rivers Athletic Conference).

Key Newcomers: Jared Hampton, So., QB/DB; Uriah Haun, So., RB; Isaiah McDonald, So., RB.

Outlook: Thru the second week of the 2012 season, everything was looking up for the Little Giants. They enjoyed a thorough beating of arch-rival Sandusky in Week One (52-18) then beat a solid Brecksville-Broadview Heights team on the road in Week Two (32-29). But Ross could only win one of its final eight games, finishing seventh in the TRAC standings. Through two seasons of play in the league that started in 2011, Ross is 3-11. With the loss of Wolf and his top receivers, the Little Giants should be a run-heavy team. The entire offensive line returns with the exception of DeAndre Gates, and Trautwein will lead a talented stable of running backs. New defensive coordinator Chad Long came over from Clyde and has breathed instant energy into a defense that surrendered 33.1 points per game a year ago. Jabree Lather, who rushed for more than 800 yards a year ago, moved out of the district during the off-season. Senior Hunter Trautwein, along with sophomores Isaiah McDonald and Uriah Haun are expected to see a majority of the carries. Ben Root, Amor and Zane Cox will be the fullbacks.

They'll be running behind a line that includes Jarvis Jones, Kyle Lamalie, Mike Muffler, Dylan Jagodzinski, Blake Moyer, Tyler Tran, Alec Carnicom and others.

Devin Benson, Ajayi Patterson, Elijah Hampton, Stefan Johnson, Tanner Albert and Jeffrey Barnett will be receivers.

Long excited for new coaching challenge

By Kevin Shields
Sports writer

FREMONT—Derek Kidwell had his eye on new Ross defensive coordinator Chad Long for quite some time.

"I tried recruiting him three years ago when he left (Tiffin) Columbian, but he had already committed to Clyde," said the 10-year Ross head coach. "Then this off-season we decided we wanted to make a change defensively, so I went out and recruited Chad a second time and the second time he came over. Lucky for us. I think that'll be a huge upgrade for us on our coaching staff."

Long, a social studies teacher at Tiffin Columbian High School, had coached at Clyde—his alma mater—since the 2010 football season, after coaching at Columbian under former coach Steve Gilbert.

The Fliers gave up an average of 16.1 points per game in 2012, 11.8 in 2011 and 10 in 2010 with Long in charge of the defense. Clyde won two Sandusky Bay Conference titles and advanced to the second round of the playoffs twice. Ross surrendered 25.4 points per contest during that same span, including 33.1 last season under former defensive coordinator Dick Kidwell, who moved back to offense where he's always been more successful and more at home.

"Chad has his own style he brings to his defenses," Derek Kidwell said. "He's an aggressive defensive coordinator. And just in the summer camp and the start of practice, the defense has improved a lot. We'll definitely be aggressive and I don't have a problem with that one bit."

Long liked the idea of testing his coaching abilities in the Three Rivers Athletic Conference—a league featuring some of the top talent in the state.

"Getting to work with Derek Kidwell was big," Long said. "Plus, I want to see where I'm at as a defensive coordinator. I've seen teams like Central Catholic and Whitmer from my days at Columbian, then when you add in opponents like Maple Heights and Pickerington North, it's going to be a tough assignment."

Gone are the Starks twins (Drew and Dylan and their play-making skills from the secondary. However, Long will have one of the area's top defensive ends to work with in Ross senior Kole Amor.

"I'd be surprised if the Amor kid isn't setting records for sacks this year," Long said. "He's just a ball of fire on the field and he's a born leader for this football team."

The other side of the line isn't bad either.

"Hunter Trautwein is a ball of fire, too, at the other end spot," Long said. "Then behind him, Trey Grine is just all over the field at the outside linebacker spot. So you got two crazy people running after the ball on that side and they're both fast. They're making a lot of plays right now in practice."

Ben Root and Zane Cox are Ross' other linebackers. Devante Daniels should also see time, as the Little Giants want to utilize his speed on the edge.

Devin Benson and Jeffrey Barnett are penciled in at the defensive back spots, while Jalen Slick and Jared Hampton will play the safety spots.

"Our strength will be the secondary and the defensive line," Long said. "I think our defensive line is really going to carry us. We'll be underdogs this year, but these kids want to get Fremont Ross football back on track."

Troy Albright, the Little Giants' new defensive line, came over from Clyde with Long.

"He's an awesome addition," Long said. "He brings a good amount of energy and he's a great technician on that front line. I'm excited to see how those kids have advanced under his coaching."

Seth Childers, a former player at Otsego and at Adrian College, is a student teacher at Ross and will serve as a second line coach.

"We just call him young Seth," Long said.

Long's hire has created a new dynamic in the coaches' office—one that Kidwell said is a change that needed to happen.

"Derek was very happy seeing his dad back on the offensive side," Long said. "It's been great looking over the field to the other side, those offensive coaches are challenging us based on our defense and what we're doing and then they counter that. It's been a real chess match out there. I think it's making us better as a whole coaching staff and Derek said the atmosphere among the coaches is definitely better because of that."

The players like it as well.

"It's been a really good change ... one for the better," Amor said. "I think it gives us a lot more opportunities to make plays, too. He's more of a teacher than coach (Dick) Kidwell was. He's breaking things down for us and helping us understand what we're doing better."

During his playing days, Long played for Clyde's 1995 state title team before going on to be a four-year starter at Bowling Green State University. He was given the Coaches' Award by Urban Meyer and his staff as a senior in 2001, a year the Falcons had the largest turnaround in NCAA football, going from 2-9 to 8-3.

Ross thumps Sandusky again

By Kevin Shields
Sports writer

SANDUSKY — Hunter Trautwein likes the vibe around him in the Ross backfield — and with good reason.

Trautwein ran for a career-best 222 yards on 20 carries and had touchdown runs of 18, 20 and 36 yards as the Little Giants, for the second straight season, put up more points than ever before on their arch-rivals,

Little Giants run for 514 yards in fourth straight win over chief rivals thumping Sandusky 64-30 Friday night at Strobel Field at Cedar Point Stadium.

Ross' 52 points in the 2012 opener was the previous high.

"Me and the two fullbacks Ben Root and Kole Amor have this whole new stitch kind of thing," Trautwein said. "They blocked real good for me tonight. So, too, did the offensive line. Things were opening up real good out there ... I found holes where I could and ran hard."

Trautwein's 18-yard scoring run at the 5:03 mark of the opening quarter, ended Ross' second drive where he accounted for all 64 yards. Patrick Rusher's extra point gave the Little Giants an early 7-0 lead and some momentum after Ben Root fumbled at the 1-yard line on their opening possession.

Trautwein added a 20-yard run on the first play of the second quarter to up the advantage to 14-0, rushing for 114 yards in the first half. Root added 66 yards on six touches for the game and scored twice, while Jeffrey Barnett had two long reverse plays go for 69 yards.

Barnett's 48-yarder in the final minute of the opening half answered a 65-yard scoring run by Sandusky's Gene Porter that cut the Little Giants' lead to 21-12.

As a group, the Little Giants ran for 514 yards on 51 attempts.

"Speed kills," said Ross coach Derek Kidwell. "It was a crazy game. A lot of these points were because of fluke things tonight. But what I liked was anytime they scored, we answered. We gave them zero momentum all night."

Insanity ensued in the third quarter as Ja'Vion Moore ran a kickoff back 85 yards at the 2:10 mark to get the Blue Streaks back to within 43-24. But right on cue, Barnett received the ensuing kickoff and followed suit, taking his return back 70 yards for a score.

"Jeffrey made some huge plays tonight," said Trautwein of the junior. "His return was a huge confidence booster for this team. And then that reverse on the third-and-long play saved a drive before that."

New quarterback Jarren Hampton ran for 37 yards and threw for 45, completing three passes on only five pass attempts. He was thought to be sharing snaps with Jalen Slick, but Slick never saw the field as a quarterback.

"(Hampton) didn't have to do a lot, but what he did do, he did very well," Kidwell said. "For this to be his first start, in a rivalry game, you couldn't ask for much more."

"He's out there during special teams talking to the special teams group and he does the same thing on defense. For a sophomore, he's got a lot of composure about him and he's taken ownership of this team."

Does that change the whole two-quarterback system that was planned?

"We'll see," Kidwell said. "I'm comfortable with Jarren right now and I think it'll be his job again next week. But Jalen (Slick) has to be ready to play, too, if something happens. And Jalen knows we have confidence in him. He's just a big piece to our defense right now and we need him out there."

Moore finished with 182 rushing yards as the Blue Streaks ran for 302 yards. Most of their scoring plays came on special teams plays, or plays where he made something out of what looked to be nothing.

"He's a hell of an athlete," said Kidwell of Moore who had two returns for scores. "He's going to cause problems for a lot of teams."

Ross' defense wasn't without big plays, though, as Trey Grine and Barnett both had interceptions. The defense also forced a fumble.

"I expected Hunter Trautwein and Ben Root to run the ball well tonight," Kidwell said. "The kids we were counting on came through, but it doesn't get any easier from here on."

Barnett is turning some heads at Ross

Little Giants travel to Maple Heights on Friday for Week 2

By Kevin Shields
Sports writer

FREMONT — Football fans love play-makers.

So it's been understandable that a lot of the talk surrounding Ross's Week 1 64-30 win at Sandusky has centered around the return of junior Jeffrey Barnett. At first, the 5-foot-7-inch wide receiver/defensive back had lots of people scanning the Little Giants' roster to see who this electrifying kid was in the No. 5 jersey. But by night's end, no one could forget.

Barnett ran a kickoff back 70 yards for a touchdown and ran for another on a 48-yard reverse play. A second long reverse run on a third-and-long play saved a Ross drive in the third quarter. On defense, he intercepted a second quarter pass.

Not bad for his first game back on the field in two seasons.

"I think missing football last year, not only hurt him, but it made him appreciate it more," said Ross coach Derek Kidwell of Barnett, who missed the 2012 season due to academic ineligibility. "He's been nothing but a pleasure to have around the weight room and locker room during the entire off-season. I've told him, 'don't even be satisfied.' Hopefully he won't."

Watching his team from the stands on Friday nights was agonizing for Barnett.

He did that.

Barnett put his talents on display moments after an 85-yard kickoff return for a score by Sandusky play-maker Ja'Vion Moore cut Ross' lead to 43-24 late in the third quarter. After evading a defender's grip that forced him to lose his balance, Barnett found a way to keep his footing before racing, untouched, up the visiting sideline, putting the same speed that made him a regional and district qualifier in track the last two respective years, to work.

"I put my hand down, looked up and saw the field was open," Barnett said. "That made me feel real good to see that."

His coaches were even happier.

punts," Kidwell said. "When we learned he was going to be ineligible we were really disappointed because we were really going to count him. He's just a special football player, whose his own kind of special athlete."

ONE WEEK TO THE NEXT: The old saying in high school football is that team's learn the most during the week of practice between the first and second games. Going into Friday's game at Maple Heights, coach Kidwell is pleased with the overall performance of his team, except for one obvious area.

"Special teams," Kidwell said. "Our returns were solid but our coverages were very suspect. That's been something we've been working on this week."

Aside from some missed tackles on defense, the Little Giants coughed up the ball twice — one that was turned over on the 1-yard line that went from a touchback in the end zone — on fumbles in the red zone. Yet, each time the Blue Streaks got points, the Little Giants always seemed to have an response.

"I liked our intensity and how we always answered," Kidwell said. "I think that's the sign of a team that is maturing. That could be a key thing for us this year, learning how to battle and stay in games. The next nine are going to be tougher games than this first one was."

GRADING OUT: Coach Kidwell said his offensive line, which returned in its entirety this fall, graded out as he expected: well.

Ross ran for 514 yards as group, utilizing a variety of running backs and fulbacks. According the unofficial records, the total is one of the top five all-time single-game rushing performances by a Ross team.

"It's good for our offensive line to go in and get confidence, but that's one thing," Kidwell said. "They definitely don't need to be walking through these doors feeling cocky, though, because we got a lot of room for improvement, too. Sandusky was pretty undersized on the line."

MAPLE HEIGHTS: The Mustangs rolled through Fremont back in the fall of 2009, topping Toledo St. Francis de Sales, 34-21, in the Division II, Region 6 title game at Don Paul Stadium en route to finishing as state runners-up — something they'd rectify a year later.

That's the only known time Maple Heights — 18-7 winners over John Adams in Week 1 — has had any dealings with Ross.

"They're a spread team offensively with plenty of athletes," Kidwell said. "They're a run team, but they'll chuck the ball around a little bit, too. They got a tall receiver like to get the ball to on fade routes and a little scat kid they like to get in space. Then defensively, they got good size up front and active linebackers.

"We'll have our hands full, but I think our style will cause them problems. They haven't seen a tight end, fullback and a power running game like ours. Hopefully, it'll make a kid that's use to playing in space, have to come up and play over somebody and have to be more physical than they normally are."

Ross earns big win against Maple Heights

By Kevin Yanik
News-Messenger correspondent

MAPLE HEIGHTS — A one-score Fremont Ross lead wasn't going to do Friday night. Not with the way Maple Heights kept threatening to make big plays with its slashing ground game.

Fortunately for the Little Giants, they overcame a missed-touchdown opportunity midway through the fourth quarter and sealed a 35-26 win late in the game on Ben Root's 6-yard touchdown run.

"There was a big sense of relief once we got that touchdown," said Root, a junior fullback. "I was pumped up and really glad I could help bring home a win for my team and my city."

The Little Giants (2-0) had a chance to put the game away on their previous drive. They pulled within five yards of the end zone around the eight-minute mark of the fourth, but quarterback Jarren Hampton took a 9-yard sack that backed Ross up to Maple Heights' 14-yard line.

The Little Giants inched closer on Isaiah McDonald's 2-yard run, but an incomplete pass on third down and a completion to Uriah Haun on fourth that fell a few yards short of the end zone gave possession to the Mustangs.

Ultimately, the turnover on downs didn't matter, because the Little Giants defense kept the Mustangs (1-1) pinned against their own end zone on that drive.

The Little Giants also forced a poor punt from the back of the end zone, giving themselves a second chance to put a second straight road win away.

Root's late touchdown, which McDonald set up with an 18-yard run off a pitch, gave Ross a nine-point advantage and virtually assured the Little Giants the win.

"I thought it was really important to get up two scores because our defense struggled throughout the game," Little Giants head coach Derek Kidwell said. "Sometimes, the defense is going to struggle and the offense has to complement them. Sometimes, we're going to struggle offensively and the defense has to keep us in the game."

The Little Giants defense certainly had its struggles in this one. Collectively, the defense allowed 271 yards to nine different rushers.

But Ross' defense overcame several big Maple Heights gains with even bigger plays of its own. Hunter Trautwein's 75-yard interception return for a touchdown late in the first half was one such big play.

"That was a big play," Kidwell said. “They had the momentum and looked like they were going to go in and score and be up at half. Then, (Kole Amor) tips the ball and (Trautwein) takes it down the sideline.”

Trautwein made the play with the Little Giants trailing 14-13. His touchdown and an ensuing 2-point conversion put Ross up 21-14 to give the Little Giants a lead they wouldn’t relinquish.

“All I saw was the end zone on that play,” Trautwein said. “I was just trying to go for it.”

Friday’s game started with a pair of touchdowns in the game’s first 66 seconds. Jeffrey Barnett handled the opening kickoff for the Little Giants, found a seam down the right sideline and raced 87 yards into the end zone for a quick 6-0 lead.

After a missed extra point, the Mustangs took over and needed only two plays to score their first points, as Cameron Crews faked a handoff, juked a Ross defender and sprinted into the end zone for a 56-yard touchdown.

All of this after a mere minute and six seconds.

The teams settled into their offenses later in the first quarter. On its second possession, Ross marched 62 yards for yet another touchdown — this one on Hampton’s 31-yard run.

The Little Giants maintained a 13-6 lead until early in the second, when the Mustangs overcame a penalty and a Zane Cox sack to inch ahead. The Little Giants forced a third down inside their own 20-yard line, but Maple Heights’ Josh Coffee found an opening and scored. A 2-point conversion put the Little Giants in a 14-13 hole.

Yet, they overcame that touchdown and held the Mustangs off for the win.

“It was a tough overall victory,” Kidwell said. “We scored defensively, on special teams and offensively — and we needed every last one of them. I thought our kids showed a lot of character. ... Hopefully, this victory goes a long way for us in showing our character.”

FREMONT ROSS FOOTBALL

Root bringing back the fullback to Ross

By Kevin Shields
Sports writer

FREMONT — Up until three seasons ago, kids like Ross' Ben Root never gave much thought to playing fullback.

The position had become a lost art in the new age four- and five-wide offenses of high school, college and even pro football. And before Trent Stout made being a fullback a prominent position at Ross again in 2010, it had been a long time since a Little Giants' offense featured one.

"I just started playing fullback in high school when the coaches told me to play it," said Root, a junior. "For a second there, I had to almost ask them,

'what's a fullback?' Luckily, I had Trent in front of me and I was able to look off a lot of the things he did, but before him, I can't remember watching any other fullbacks at Ross.

"But I like it."

Root has been the main fullback in a Little Giants' power run game that, unofficially, has run for 657 yards in two games. Individually, Root, who is listed at 5-foot, 10 inches tall and 205 pounds, has rushed for 94 yards and three touchdowns. He and Kole Amor — Ross' fullback in the power look — are also big reasons for why tailback Hunter Trautwein has been able to rush for 257 yards, including 222 against Sandusky in Week 1.

Ross (2-0) will host Pickerington North (2-0) on Friday at 7:30 p.m.

rington North (2-0) on Friday at 7:30 p.m.

"We knew Ben would be a heck of a blocker with how strong and physical he is," Ross coach Derek Kidwell said. "But he'll definitely get more touches this season, too. He and Amor are two of our best players and we feel if we can get them on the field as much as possible, it gives us the best chance to succeed."

Personnel changes going into the team's final season in the Greater Buckeye Conference forced Kidwell to move away from his typical spread offensive look. Instead, he opted for the old I-formation pro set type of offense that he and his father, Dick Kidwell, ran at Fostoria.

"We have fullback type of kids who are physical players," Kidwell said. "When I first got here in 2004, we'd have 30 receivers and five running backs."

Simplifying the game for the offensive line was also a concern.

"When we played top teams, we always had trouble protecting the edges," Kidwell said. "We had good athletes, but we think you can still get the ball to those kids just as easily in this system, like we are with Jeffrey Barnett and Devin Benson."

Another side effect from the switch has been toughness.

"Our defense is going against a downhill running

See ROSS, Page 2B

ROSS

football team everyday in practice," Kidwell said. "I think it's made every individual we have, a tougher football player. And it's the type of offense teams and players just aren't prepared for anymore and it's showed against some of the teams we've faced."

Root's 6-yard touchdown run with 4:04 left was the final score in the Little Giants' 35-26 win at Maple Heights this past Friday.

Ross has started a season 2-0 each of the last four years.

"There's definitely a lot more excitement when you walk in the locker room now as oppose to the end of last year," Root said. "Even when you walk through the school, it seems like there's a lot more students excited for this weekend. It's a big opportunity for us and we should be excited."

42: That's the amount of total plays the Ross offense ran against Maple Heights, including only 20 in the first half.

"We need to run more plays than that if we want to save our defense," Kidwell said. "That's been a big emphasis for us this week, we want to control the tempo of this game with our offense."

HAMPTON: New Little Giants' quarterback Jarren Hampton has thrown only 14 passes in the first two games, completing eight of them for 98 yards and one touchdown.

The sophomore may not be wowing onlookers yet, but he's doing what his coaches expect.

"The passing game will evolve more as Jarren gets experience," Kidwell said. "For the most part, he's played mistake-free football for two games, which is impressive for a sophomore."

PICKERINGTON NORTH: The

Panthers enter Don Paul Stadium 2-0 after wins over St. Charles (20-0) and last week at Cincinnati Princeton (47-22).

Pickerington North went 12-2 a year ago, losing in the Division I state semifinals to Cincinnati Moeller (26-21). Included in the Panthers' wins was a 41-13 Week 3 home win over the Little Giants. North tailback Godwin Igwebuike, now a Northwestern freshman, zigged and zagged his way to 223 yards and four scores as the Panthers piled up over 500 yards of total offense.

"Their offensive schemes are the same as they've been, but their running backs try to get outside," Kidwell said. "They got a nice stable of running backs, they'll use two or three of them. But their quarterback is probably the most dangerous kid they have on the field. He was their backup last year and he came in that game and really hurt us with his legs."

Pickerington North QB Zeph Miller accounts for 406 yards of total offense

FREMONT — Ross got a glimpse of Pickerington North quarterback Zeph Miller's talents at the end of last year's Week 3 contest in Pickerington.

On Friday night on Harmon Field at Don Paul Stadium, the Little Giants got the whole shebang.

Miller tossed for 284 yards and four touchdowns, adding another 122 yards and two scores with his feet as the Panthers handed Ross its first loss, 60-27 in its non-conference finale.

"He's a difference-maker," said Little Giants coach Derek Kidwell of Miller. "We had a hard time containing him, which we kind of knew may happen watching film, and that's the way it played out tonight."

North (3-0) — Division I state semifinalists a year ago — blew open what was a 34-27 game late in the third quarter by scoring 26 unanswered points in the final 12 minutes, 8 seconds.

Jabree Lather, a transfer from Ross, scored on a three yard run with four seconds left in the third quarter as the Panthers went 58 yards in seven plays to steal the game's momentum back.

The Little Giants (2-1) had pulled with a single possession when Jeffrey Barnett took a reverse in from 15 yards out. Patrick Rusher's extra point made it 34-27 at the 3:10 mark. That came on the heels of a big defensive play by defensive end Kole Amor, who stripped Panther tailback Brett Howell at the North 14.

Ross trailed 34-14 after North scored on its opening possession of the second half.

Miller found Quincy Storey down the left sideline for a 27-yard scoring pass, two plays after an interception by Tony Welch ended Ross' drive to start the half.

"That's the killer in a lot of games ... the momentum change," North coach Tom Phillips said. "We got the changes we needed it and (Ross) didn't."

Tanner Albert's 17-yard touchdown grab from backup quarterback Jalen Slick got the Little Giants within 34-20 at the 5:39 mark.

"We're not far off from being a very good football team," Kidwell said. "We played with them for over three quarters. It was 34-27 and we had the momentum.

"We've got to learn to get stops, we've got to learn to finish a half and we've got to learn to protect the football and get first downs. But we don't have to learn to fight. Our kids fight."

Miller's 27 yard scoring run on the opening drive of the game, got the Panthers out to a quick 7-0 lead just 2:11 in.

Ross' Hunter Trautwein answered Miller's scoring run just 13 seconds later. The senior broke through the middle of the line, and nearly fell twice on North's side of the field as two different Panthers tried to get him by the ankles, but he stayed upright for an 80-yard touchdown run. Rusher's point after tied the score at 7-7.

But after a long 29-yard kickoff return by Jaye Williams, the Panthers retook the lead at 14-7 on their first play. Miller found Chris McDowell who caught the ball in the center of the field at the Ross 2, before falling into the end zone.

Trautwein carried the ball on Ross' next possession but never re-entered the game as he required help to leave the field after second down run.

as Isaiah McDonald racked up 101 yards on 25 touches.

Lather added 102 yards and two scores for North, which ran for 275 yards.

But the night belonged to Miller.

"It was a big game for (Miller)," Phillips said. "He didn't have too good of a game in Week 1 or Week 2.

"I think a lot of that is because he's new to the starting role. It's taken him a good two to three games to get a grip on things. He made good reads tonight. But he's best when we get him in space."

Ross will look to rebound next week when it starts Three Rivers Athletic Conference play at Lima Senior.

"I thought this Ross team was a lot better, just because it seems like they have more unity this year," said Phillips, whose Panthers beat Ross 41-13 a year ago. "And they got speed. I know coach Kidwell runs a great program here and he has tough kids. They'll win a lot of games this year."

SPARTANS RALLY PAST LITTLE GIANTS

Two throws in quagmire give Lima a win

LIMA — This isn't the same old Lima Senior football team.

Losers of 21 of their last 23 games — 61 of their last 73 going back to the start of 2005 — and winless a season ago, the Spartans, under new coach Mike Fell, are shedding the stigma of losing that has followed them since winning a Division I state championship in 1996.

Lima topped Piqua last week to end a 20-game losing streak and on Friday took another big step forward, winning its first-ever Three Rivers Athletic Conference game by downing Ross 13-12 on a rain-soaked night at Lima Stadium.

"It doesn't feel real," said Spartans' quarterback Justice Graham of the win.

Graham found receiver Marquis Graham streaking across the field for a 46-yard touchdown with 2:34 to play. It came four plays after he saved the Spartans' go-ahead drive with a 12-yard toss to Graham on a long 3rd-and-11 play at his own 32-yard-line.

"I was just thinking, throw the ball," Justice said. "Let my receivers make the plays."

Lima (2-2, 1-0) had a chance to ice the game after Cory Jackson fell on a squib kick at the Ross 31. But the Little Giants (2-2, 0-1) forced a turnover on downs with 1:48 to go.

Sophomore quarterback Jarren Hampton hit Devin Benson four times on what would be a 10-play drive for Ross. But after getting all the way to the Spartans' 31 with 28 seconds to go on the clock, Hampton was intercepted by Lima's Marquis Miller, sealing the win for the Spartans.

"The key tonight was the defense," said Fell, who is coaching at his alma mater after 23 years at Columbus Grove, Celina and Ada that saw his teams go 169-83. "Coach (Frank) Crea and his defense got a little maligned in the first couple weeks, but right now, they're doing a good job for us."

See ROS, Page 2B

ROSS

The same could be said for the Little Giants' defense, which surrendered 214 total yards to a team that had averaged 35 points per game in its first three contests.

However, lost opportunities, particularly two turnovers on downs in the fourth quarter inside the Lima 25, loomed large in the game's reflection.

"We left too many opportunities out there," said Little Giants coach Dick Kidwell, who filled in as active head coach Friday. "Penalties killed us. We had first downs and a touchdown called back because of penalties.

"We just left things on the field that we shouldn't have. We got to be more disciplined and take advantage of opportunities."

Dick's son Derek, was unable to attend the game after having spinal surgery on Tuesday in Sandusky.

Ross let another golden opportunity for points slip through its hands early in the third quarter. Trey Grine fell on a fumbled punt return at the Spartans' 18, but a touchdown was called back for a holding call. The drive ended with Patrick Rusher missing a 22-yard field goal.

Jalen Slick made another special teams play for the Little Giants in the second quarter, when he blocked a punt at the Lima 12. A play later, Devante Daniels gave Ross a 12-7 lead with a 12-yard scoring run with 4:08 left until halftime.

Jeffrey Barnett brought a 17-play, 62-yard scoring drive to an end in the first quarter with a 15-yard score on a reverse. Rusher's point after, though, was blocked.

That answered Lima's opening drive that saw Juniel Liles run for a 22-yard score on the fifth play of the game.

"The kids got to come back from this and get better," Kidwell said. "We're probably playing the best team on our schedule (Toledo Central Catholic) next week and we have to have a good week of practice."

IN THE END: Little Giants no match for loaded Irish

By Kevin Shields
Sports writer

FREMONT — For the second time in three weeks, the Ross football team showed it could perform with the big boys.

But much like the Pickerington North game in Week 3 (a 60-27 loss where Ross trailed 34-27 in the fourth quarter), the Little Giants imploded in the game's latter stages Friday, allowing Toledo Central Catholic the chance to walk off Harmon Field at Don Paul Stadium with a comfortable 35-7 Three Rivers Athletic Conference win.

Ross (2-3, 0-2) — losers of three straight games — trailed 14-7 near the mid-point of the third quarter, before a 14-point swing, aided by an on-side kick, turned the game completely in the favor of the Fighting Irish (5-0, 3-0).

"(Ross) caused two turnovers in the first half, which really cost us," said Irish coach Greg Dempsey. "They came out and played with a lot of passion tonight after coming off a tough loss (13-12 at Lima Senior) without their coach (Derek Kidwell) last week.

"You could tell (the Little Giants) were inspired tonight. They're a very athletic football team and a young and hungry football team."

In need of some positive momentum again, Dempsey turned to his star quarterback — Notre Dame recruit DeShone Kizer. Kizer was 4-for-4 in the air for 27 yards and ran the final 15 with his feet on an eight-play, 56-yard drive that answered Ross' lone touchdown drive to start the second half.

Then, just like the Little Giants tried to no avail on the previous kickoff, Central Catholic kicker Patrick Schommer's onside kick was recovered by the Irish at the Ross 47.

The Irish got down to the Little Giants' 9 in nine plays, before Paul Moses, getting a caravan to the end zone by his offensive line, upped Central's lead to 28-7 with 10 seconds left in the third quarter.

"We can't have our defense on the field the whole third quarter," Kidwell said. "We scored and then didn't get the ball back again in that quarter. We got to find a way to stay on the field offensively and get stops defensively."

ROSS

After being held scoreless on three trips to the Irish side of the field in the opening half, Ross finally hit on some long pass plays to help it march 68 yards in 10 plays to start the half. Jeffrey Barnett ripped the ball away from a Central Catholic defensive back – and lost his helmet in the process – for a 27-yard pickup to the Irish 17. That was four plays after he drew a pass interference call on third-and-long to keep the drive alive.

Jarren Hampton brought the Little Giants to paydirt when he found a wide open Tanner Albert for a 15-yard scoring toss at 7:08 mark.

"(Hampton) is nice young quarterback that can make some plays," Dempsey said. "He's not going to be fun for us to watch, but he'll be fun for the people of Fremont to watch over the next couple of years."

Central Catholic needed only 1:34 to get on the scoreboard first thanks to a 54-yard touchdown run from Tre'Von Wade.

Three carries for 29 yards by Isaiah McDonald and 25 yard pass play to Barnett had Ross down to the Irish 9 on its first drive. But things stalled when after McDonald got the Little Giants to the 5, Hampton was dropped for a 10-yard loss, before his fourth down pass fell to the turf.

Elijah Hampton fell on a fumble on Central Catholic's next drive, but Ross couldn't take advantage.

After a nice defensive stand where the Little Giants forced the Irish into a three-and-out, Ross got as close as the Central 34, but the trip ended in a punt.

Five plays later, Kizer found Moses for a 30-yard touchdown grab on a screen pass. The ball was tipped initially at the line, before Moses caught it and made defenders miss in the secondary en route to the goal line.

The Irish threw for 211 yards and ran for 253. Kizer finished 17-of-21 and threw one interception to Devin Benson in the second quarter.

"We definitely have a talented quarterback, but we're trying to stay more balanced," Dempsey said.

Ross ran for 60 yards, getting 68 on the ground from McDonald who had 13 carries.

"I told our kids if they keep working hard, they can win out," Kidwell said. "I think we've played the best two teams we'll play. But the TRAC is tough. Each week will be a battle."

Little Giants overcome Clay passing game in win

FREMONT — It's never fun to lose, and after four weeks of it, Ross finally said enough is enough.

The Little Giants played solidly on offense and special teams, and received timely stops from their defense as they survived a 356-yard passing performance by Clay quarterback Josh Pennington on Friday to earn their first Three Rivers Athletic Conference victory of the year, topping the Eagles 49-38 on Homecoming night on Harmon Field at Don Paul Stadium.

"Our kids were just tired of losing," Ross coach Derek Kidwell said. "This is good for them. It's Homecoming week and I'm glad they have a victory and glad that they can go to Homecoming and feel good about themselves."

first half of what had become a battle of "Can you top this?" A total of 20 points were scored in the final 46 seconds of the half, including 13 with one second remaining. It all started with Dylan Jagodzinski hauling in a 6-yard touchdown pass from Jalen Slick on a jump ball in the back left corner of the end zone to give Ross a 21-20 lead.

But it took Pennington only three pass plays to move the Eagles (2-5, 0-4) 64 yards to the Little Giants' 7. After a false start penalty and an incompletion, Pennington found Kyle Row from 12 yards out with a second left for his second of three scoring grabs — he had a 60-yard TD reception in the first half and a 72-yard one the Eagles' first possession of the second half.

But just when it looked like Clay had seized the momentum going into the half-time locker room, Ross took it right back.

Devin Benson's 90-yard kickoff return for a touchdown on the final play of the half was one of two scoring kickoff returns on the night for the senior. He added a 95-yard return for another score to give the Little Giants the lead back after Row's 72-yard play.

It was marked difference from Ross' special teams of the last two weeks, in which the Little Giants had multiple turnovers — including a few on botched punt returns and kickoffs.

"Devin Benson was a huge contributor on special teams tonight," Kidwell said. "We switched some personnel around this week and maybe that sparked us."

Ross led 28-26 at halftime, despite allowing Clay 218 yards in its passing game.

However, after completing his first nine passes, Pennington's third missed pass found the arms of Ross safety Jarren Hampton just moments after Benson gave Ross a 35-32 advantage.

Hampton intercepted the ball at the 50 and returned it to Eagles' 18. Four plays later, Isaiah McDonald, who had 31 carries, found paydirt with a 3-yard TD run to give the Little Giants a much needed 10-point cushion.

"I told the team to believe in me and I'll get them the victory," said McDonald, who had 163 yards and a pair of scores.

McDonald was the main tailback again as an ankle injury kept Hunter Trautwein out of the lineup for the fourth time this fall.

"We expect that kind of effort out of him," Kidwell said of McDonald. "He's worked hard."

Ross' defense didn't waste time going back to work, forcing a three-and-out before the offense went 90 yards in 16 plays to take more than seven minutes off the clock and close out the game.

McDonald did most of the work, again.

Slick's pitch to Kole Amor, a 2-yard TD run, upped the Little Giants' edge to 49-32 with 10:16 remaining.

"I thought our defense played extremely well in the second half," Kidwell said. "(Clay's) is a tough offense to stop. But coach (Chad) Long and them made nice adjustments at halftime ... got some things figured out and got some pressure on the quarterback."

Clay found it tough to get pressure back as Slick made plays with both his arm and feet.

Slick, a junior, was making his first career start.

"I got the call on Saturday after the Whitmer game and I knew I had to step up," Slick said. "We didn't have a spark on offense, so I knew I had to come out and do something."

"And we did."

Slick wasn't asked to be a playmaker, just to facilitate and keep the offensive operation running smoothly.

"I thought he managed the game extremely well," Kidwell said of Slick, who finished 6-of-12 passing for 78 yards. "He had a great grasp of the game and didn't force stuff."

Ross will host St. Francis in its final home game Friday.

"We played with all our hearts tonight," Slick said. "We came out to practice this week and battled that adversity."

"We're going to turn this thing around."

For now, though, Kidwell is happy to see his team respond to the challenges he and his coaching staff laid out.

"I'm proud of them," Kidwell said.

TURNOVERS HAUNT ROSS

Little Giants commit seven turnovers in loss

FREMONT — It's been an all too familiar tune for the Ross football team the past two seasons.

Instead of having to find ways to just beat their opponents, the Little Giants have, too many times, tried to beat themselves and the opponent.

For the second time in three weeks, Ross turned the ball over seven times and didn't give itself a fair chance to win what otherwise was a pretty evenly played Three Rivers Athletic Conference game. Toledo St. Francis de Sales, aided by the Little Giants' giveaways, seized control of the game's momentum right from the start and never looked back in a 31-14 victory Friday night on Harmon Field at Don Paul Stadium.

Knights quarterback David Nees ran for 158 yards and 2 TDs on 27 carries, while throwing for another 66 in the air. He carried the ball on all 10 plays of a 63-yard drive to start the second half, which gave St. Francis (6-2, 4-1) a commanding 24-7 lead.

Ross (3-5, 1-4) got within 17-7 at half-time on a 1-yard run from Ben Root late in the second quarter.

"I tell you what, there's a lot of good quarterbacks in this league, but I wouldn't trade any of them for David Nees and what he brings to our football team," Knights coach Chris Hedden said. "The guy doesn't come off the field. He plays middle linebacker for us, too, as well as every special teams play."

The Little Giants looked poised to answer Nees' score with a six-play drive that spanned 60 yards to the Knights' 5-yard-line. A chance for points went by the wayside, though, as Devante Daniels was tackled in the backfield and fumbled the ball at the 10, where Nees fell on it.

Ross had three turnovers alone in the first quarter, including a fumble on the opening kickoff that went between the legs of return man Devin Benson. St. Francis recovered at the Little Giants' 9-yard-line. Keontae Johnson's three-yard scoring run had the Knights up 7-0 just 1:16 in.

"It's been our Achilles' heel all year," said Little Giants coach Derek Kidwell, whose team is minus-10 in turnovers the last three games. "When we lose, we turn the ball over way too much and it started from the opening kickoff. We never got momentum. It was free points for (St. Francis). There's no excuse for it.

"Overall, it just wasn't a good night. I feel bad for these seniors and everything they've given to us. But turnovers continue to be our Kryptonite."

The Little Giants had three fumbles, two interceptions and two other drives that ended on downs—both in St. Francis territory. Of the seven turnovers, five were committed on the Knights' side of the field.

"The game is all about momentum, so turnovers and big stops on defense really changed the game a lot tonight," Nees said. "We got some and we gave some to (Ross), too.

"Otherwise, it was a great game."

With leading rusher Lamar Carswell out, Nees took over as his team's main rusher.

"Whatever coach asks me to do, I'll do it for him," Nees said. "If that means run the ball, I'll run the ball."

St. Francis had 292 yards of total offense, of which 226 came on the ground. Johnson, who took over Carswell's spot at running back, added 68 yards on 21 touches.

Hedden's offense was a mix of the run and pass a year ago. However, in his second season, the former University of Toledo offensive coordinator has made pounding the ball his team's focus.

"There's so many good offenses in this conference," Hedden said. "We wanted to find a way to run the ball, keep those other offenses on the sideline and give our defense a break. It's been effective for us."

Their victory kept the Knights tied for second in the TRAC standings with Lima Senior. Both are a game back of unbeaten Toledo Central Catholic.

Ross' loss keeps them in a three-way tie for fifth with Findlay and Oregon Clay. The Little Giants will visit the Trojans on Friday.

Little Giants rough up Findlay

Hunter Trautwein turns in a big game

By Kevin Shields
Sports writer

FINDLAY — Ross has been a completely different team when No. 26 has gotten the ball in his hands.

After missing a majority of the last six games with off-and-on leg injuries, Hunter Trautwein was once again the Little Giants' featured tailback Friday. And when he's been in, he's been a difference maker.

Findlay found that out the hard way.

Trautwein ran wild on the Trojans' defense, running for four touchdowns, of 6, 3, 3 and 66 yards, and accounting for 190 of Ross' 334 rushing yards in the Little Giants' 42-7 rout of their Three Rivers Athletic Conference rivals at Donnell Stadium.

Ross piled up 529 total yards of offense.

"Hunter Trautwein makes a huge difference for us," Little Giants coach Derek Kidwell said. "When he's been healthy, we've been very, very good or had the potential to be very good. And tonight, he ran the ball extremely well."

Missing most of his senior season has been a tough pill to swallow for the 6-foot, 2-inch, 210-pound tailback. Trautwein played exclusively at defensive end in Week 8 after missing games in Week 4, Week 5 and Week 7.

Ross is 3-1 in games in which he has seen significant action at tailback, losing only to Whitmer when Trautwein was lost late in the third quarter in what was at the time a seven-point game.

"I was feeling my ankle out all week," said Trautwein, who was injured in a Week 3 loss to Pickerington North after he ran 80 yards for a score on Ross' opening possession.

"The worst thing would've been for me to come out here, get hurt again, and not be able to contribute to the team. But it felt great all week and didn't bother me one bit."

Emanuel Mogolu's 52-yard score on Findlay's second play of the game got the Trojans (2-7, 1-5) on the board first after Ross was forced to punt.

The run was one of few highlights for Findlay's offense, which was pretty well kept in check by the Little Giants. Take away that run and the Trojans had only 14 rushing yards and 198 yards of offense.

"We didn't pass protect very well," Findlay coach Mark Ritzler said. "We got a few runs early, got the nice trap. (Ross) made some adjustments and we've struggled with inside penetration all year."

Trautwein finally got the Little Giants on the board on the second play of the second quarter, ending a quick 6-play, 28-yard drive that was aided by Findlay's punter bobbling the snap on fourth down.

A drive later, Jeffrey Barnett's 79-yard scoring catch gave Ross the lead for good.

Junior signal caller Jalen Slick was 6-of-11 passing for 195.

"He played excellent tonight," said Kidwell of Slick. "There were some opportunities out there where he could have done some things, but I'm a coach."

Jarren Hampton stalled a promising drive for the Trojans in the second quarter, intercepting Jordan Dean in the end zone for a touchback. Three plays later, Slick hit Stefan Johnson for a 49-yard gain, setting up a Trautwein scoring run from three yards out.

Dean started at quarterback in place of regular starter Brandon Muehl, who had to sit out after sustaining a concussion. Dean was one of three quarterbacks used by the Trojans.

Ross led 21-7 at the half and then took a commanding 28-7 advantage late in the third. Trautwein's second TD run of three yards, ended a long 16-play, 90-yard scoring drive that took more than seven minutes off the game clock. The drive was exclusively run plays.

"The offensive line and fullbacks were amazing with their blocks tonight," Trautwein said. "The field opened up nicely all night."

The field was all that was between Trautwein and paydirt as he went 66 yards for a 35-7 lead early in the fourth. That was a play after he battled his way to a first down on a fake punt on 4th-and-4 in Ross' territory.

"We played close to a complete game," Kidwell said. "We still had our brain lapse in the first series on defense. But besides that, I thought we played a very solid game."

Ross will close out the season next week at Toledo St. John's Jesuit.

ROSS WINS SEASON FINALE

Little Giants finish .500 with back-to-back victories

By Kevin Shields
Sports writer

TOLEDO — Moral victories are hard to come by in a .500 season.

Ross' finish to its 2013 campaign, however, is one of those rare exceptions. Battling an up-and-down season for the third straight year, which saw injuries to key players and the Little Giants wrapped in a four-game losing streak at the midway point, Ross refused to quit.

to work, continued to get better and put together two of their strongest full games to finish the year. That included Friday's dominating, 28-7 Three Rivers Athletic Conference victory over Toledo St. John's Jesuit in a game played at Lyden Field.

Ross played solidly in all three phases once again. The offense rushed for 227 yards, the defense bent at times but never broke and with the exception of a missed 22-yard field goal to end the first half, the special teams did what was asked.

"It was an all around performance tonight," Little Giants coach Derek Kidwell said. "Hunter (Trautwein) had a big night again. Jeffrey Barnett made some key plays and the offensive line played well. Then the defense came up with turnovers and we didn't turn the ball over."

Trautwein, playing his final game in the purple and white, ran for 114 yards on 33 carries and scored a touchdown in each of the third and fourth quarters as the Little Giants (5-5, 3-4) pulled away in what was a 14-7 lead at the half.

"This is a great way to go out," Trautwein said. "Everyone wants to go out on top and we did just that."

The Little Giants needed only three plays to steal the lead for good. Following a big return on the kickoff that got Ross to the Titans' 35, two runs by Trautwein setup a 29-yard scoring pass from Jalen Slick to senior Devin Benson. Senior Zane Cox's extra point made it 7-0 just 1 minute, 21 seconds in.

St. John's (2-8, 2-5) tried to answer back, moving 77 yards in 14 plays. But Joe Pool was stopped short on 4th-and-5 at the Ross 3.

Jeffrey Barnett's 22-yard touchdown run on a reverse upped the Little Giants' lead to 14-0 on the third play of the second quarter. His run ended a 12-play drive as Ross ate up the clock and controlled a majority of the game's possession time.

"I liked the way our offensive line controlled the line of scrimmage and I liked the way that Jalen Slick managed the football game," Kidwell said. "I would have liked to score at the end of the first half, but we kind of got short on time."

A blocked punt setup the Titans' lone score in the second quarter. Needing only 25 yards, St. John's scored on the ninth play of the drive when quarterback Dick Anderson found Pool from 17 yards out on 3rd-and-12.

After a touchback, Ross utilized runs from Trautwein, Slick and Barnett to go 75 yards in the final 5:29 of the half, before the missed field goal.

Stefan Johnson recorded his first of two interceptions in the third quarter when he ended St. John's second drive of the half with an 11-yard return to the Titans' 30. That setup a two-yard TD plunge from Trautwein for a 21-7 lead with 3:05 left in the period.

"I thanked the seniors for keeping the locker room together," Kidwell said. "It didn't feel like a 5-5 season because of these seniors and the leaders they are. They kept everything positive and they kept working and working."

"Every last one of them is going to be successful with whatever they want to do after they leave high school."

FREMONT ROSS FOOTBALL

Derek Kidwell out as the Little Giants' head football coach

By Kevin Shields
Sports writer

FREMONT—Derek Kidwell is out as the head football coach at Fremont Ross.

Ross athletic director Chad Berndt confirmed the district's decision not to renew Kidwell's coaching contract Thursday. The district has plans to advertise the position starting Monday, with the goal of having a new coach in place by March 3.

Berndt said he informed Kidwell of the decision at a meeting between the two Thursday morning.

"I'm disappointed about it, but I wasn't going to resign and give up on these kids," said Kidwell of the decision via a phone interview late Thursday night. "They made a decision to go in a different direction. Time will tell if it was the right one or not.

"Right now I feel bad for the kids that got on that bus after the St. John's game who were feeling good about themselves and where our program was. But we tell them everyday that they have to fight through adversity, and they'll have to fight through this one. I wish them nothing but the best going ahead."

The Little Giants went 5-5 this season and 3-4 in the Three Rivers Athletic Conference. They were 3-7 in 2012 and 5-5 in 2011.

Ross last made the playoffs in 2010 going 9-1 and winning the final Greater Buckeye Conference championship, before falling 45-35 to Toledo St. John's Jesuit in the opening round. The Little Giants also made the playoffs in 2006 after the school's first perfect regular season since 1997. Kidwell's teams were 61-41 in his 10 seasons at Ross, winning two Greater Buckeye Conference titles in 2006 and 2010.

Kidwell took over a program in 2004 that had gone 1-19 in the two previous seasons.

"The sad thing is this decision doesn't just affect me, it affects a lot of individuals," Kidwell said. "There's a lot of assistant coaches and other people associated with this program that people don't think about. That's what upsets me more than anything."

Berndt said the district has a plan in place to help with the transitional period.

"There is currently a transition plan in place to ensure the football team continues to move forward," he said. "A strength and conditioning schedule will be made available to students this upcoming Monday and students interested in playing football will have access to the weight room beginning Jan. 6."

Kidwell said he fully intends to honor his teaching contract.

"I'll continue to show up, unless they tell me otherwise," Kidwell said. "I haven't decided yet if I'll coach again. Everything is still fresh.

"I'll take some time, enjoy the holidays with my family and go from there."
