

1997 Season Review...

FREMONT ROSS (BOYS)

Ten Fremont Ross boys went to the regional track meet in 1996, but none went to state. That was the result of a tough regional, coach John Elder said, but he still would like to see improvement in 1997.

"We feel we have enough talent, we should train kids to go to Columbus," Elder said.

Elder admitted, however, that his runners are not in running shape entering Tuesday's season opener against Lexington. "We don't want to be. This way we have things we have to work on after the first meet."

Not as many runners are out for the team this year, Elder said, but those that are there are good athletes.

FREMONT ROSS (GIRLS)

The faces are familiar from Ross's 1996 team, which won its second straight GLL title.

"We basically have everyone back," Elder said.

News-Messenger reports

Fremont Ross's girls track team won the events which required the most running — and the least — Tuesday, and the Little Giants outscored three teams for a season-opening win.

Ross scored 78 points, followed by Lexington (74), Sandusky (48) and Marion Harding (25).

Junior Kristyn Warner won the 3200-meter run and anchored the first place 3200 relay, and Michelle Salas and April Brenamen took the top spots in the shot and discus, respectively.

Ross also got wins from Tonya Elder (100 hurdles, 300 hurdles), Marcy Reinbolt (100 dash), Lindsay Frontz (800 run) and its 1600 relay team.

Ross's boys team scored 62 points, finishing second to Lexington (84) in a meet which also included Sandusky (57) and Marion Harding (41).

The Little Giants won the 3200, 1600 and 400 relays and got individual first places from Rashad Brown (high jump), Kenny Morrisette (100 dash), Jeremiah Smith (800 run).

Anna Noggle, who traveled to Columbus for discus, won that event and the shot Tuesday.

Lakota sophomore Charlie Garcia turned in the best individual performance, but Oak Harbor more than doubled the Raiders' team points total.

TOLEDO — Jeremiah Smith won the two distance events and Johnny Alridge captured the 110 high hurdles before helping the 4x100 relay team win as the Fremont Ross boys finished third at the Toledo Whitmer Golden W Track & Field Relays Saturday.

At Kent State University, the Little Giants girls team, led by Lindsay Frontz's first-place finish in the 800 (2:22), finished eighth out of 25 teams.

Smith, a senior crossed the finish in 4 minutes, 39 seconds in the 1,600, and his time of 10:11 was tops in the 3,200.

Alridge, a junior, won the 110 hurdles in 15.1 seconds. He then joined Harry Liggins, Demetris Simms and Kenny Morrisette to win the 4x100 in 44.2 seconds.

Ross shot putters Chris Shull, Frank Kaiser and Aaron Root combined to throw 136 feet.

"The boys performed great," said Ross coach John Elder. "This meet really tests our depth. Our first-place finishers did what we expected."

Little Giants claim girls' title at A.W. Hendricks

News-Messenger reports

Fremont Ross's girls track and field team won three field events and three more on the track Saturday en route to team title at the A.W. Hendricks Invitational.

The Little Giants had 116 points to beat runner-up Toledo Notre Dame by eight points. Margaretta took third with 68, followed by host Clyde with 58. Woodmore was seventh with 28.

"We thought the girls' team was strong enough to win," Ross coach John Elder said. "Coming into the meet, we weren't sure that we would do well because our top two runners were injured.

"We took them out of some events, but we won even though we weren't at full strength."

In the field events, Michele Salas of Ross won the shot put, April Brenamen won the discus and Christy Linder won the long jump.

The Little Giants also got firsts from Tonya Elder in the 100-meter high hurdles and 300 low hurdles and Marcy Reinbolt in the 100 dash.

Margaretta's girls won one event, the 4x200 relay, while Clyde's Jenni Staats took first in the 1600.

Toledo Central Catholic won the boys' meet with 120 points. Clyde was seventh with 26.5, while Woodmore was ninth with 22 and Ross was 10th with 14. Margaretta finished 11th with 10 points.

"I took my top boys to Mansfield (Mehock Relays) and sent my younger athletes to the Clyde Invite for a chance to build depth," Elder said. "Mansfield is considered to be one of the biggest boys meets in Ohio."

The Little Giants had 11 points at Mansfield, good enough for 20th place. Ross earned a pair of second-place finishes there — by the 4x100 relay team and by Demetrius Simms in the long jump.

"With the way things are going for both the girls and boys, it is encouraging," Elder said. "If major injuries can be avoided, we will be on the right path."

Shawn Tooman pole-vaulted to a second-place finish for Ross at the Hendricks Invitational.

Clyde's Chad Long was second in the 110 hurdles and fifth in the high jump. Woodmore's Ted James was third in the 110 hurdles and fourth in the 300 hurdles.

Margaretta's Jon Folk was second in the high jump.

St. Wendelin Invitational

Gibsonburg's Eric Rogers took second (46 feet, 4 $\frac{1}{4}$ inches) in the shot put to set a new school record.

The Golden Bears' boys were ninth, with 23.5 points; the girls were eighth, with 18.

Ross sweeps GLL triangular

TONYA ELDER of Fremont Ross blows away the competition from Toledo Whitmer and Oregon Clay in the girls 100-meter hurdles Tuesday in Fremont.

Reinbolt reaches her limit; Ross hurdlers dominate

By BRIAN SPIESS

Only the Ohio High School Athletic Association caught up to Marcy Reinbolt Tuesday.

The Fremont Ross senior was a perfect 4-for-4 in a key Great Lakes League track and field meet with Toledo Whitmer and Oregon Clay, winning in the long jump, 100-meter dash, 200 and 4x100 relay. OHSAA rules prohibit competitors from participating in more than four events.

"I would do more if (the rules) let me," Reinbolt said.

Her spectacular day was one of many for both the girls and boys teams, as the Little Giants won both triangular meets against Toledo Whitmer and Oregon Clay behind Ross High School.

The girls outscored second-place Whitmer 69-50, and the boys beat the same foe by a 89-66 margin.

"In the GLL race, you have to go through Whitmer to get there," Ross track coach John Elder said.

Forget through. Reinbolt blew by the Panthers.

After her leap of 15-feet-10 won the long jump, Reinbolt took the blocks for the 100 dash. A Clay runner appeared to false start, but the official starter did not fire a second gunshot, so the race continued. Reinbolt won easily in 13.1 seconds, drawing objections from a Whitmer coach who believed the awkward start distracted her sprinters.

"The only time I stop is when I hear the second gun," Reinbolt said.

And she did not stop winning either.

Reinbolt finished off the Little Giants' first place 4x100 relay. And during her final event, the 200, a Whitmer boys team member said to a teammate, "look at that blonde girl blowin' out."

Two-hundred meters in 25.9 seconds to be exact.

"We expect that from Marcy," coach Elder said of the four wins. "There are two other events Marcy could run if rules would allow it. The 4x400 relay, the open quarter mile. And we think she could run a good 800."

"She's a great athlete," he said. "Depth is always a problem in the GLL, but four first places makes up for it."

One thing Reinbolt did not do Monday was hurdle.

No problem. Tonya Elder and Johnny Alridge had it covered.

Elder overcame a nagging back injury to destroy her competition in the 100 hurdles, running a 15.6 (1.6 seconds ahead of the next fastest runner).

Clyde's Chad Long and Gibsonburg's Corey English, competing in separate track and field meets Tuesday, each won three events.

In girls track action, Woodmore's Jessica Emch and Stephanie Rospert won twice, as did Gibsonburg's Sarah Hilt.

"It's sore. I feel it when I go over the hurdles," Elder said of her back, which she rested last week.

She finished one second behind defending GLL champ Beth Kohler in the 300 hurdles, and also ran a leg of the 4x100 relay.

Hurdlers pace Ross's win against GLL foes

Alridge won the boys 110 hurdles (15.26) and 300 hurdles (40.2).

"I believe Johnny is the best hurdler in the GLL right now," coach Elder said.

Alridge, who set a goal of breaking the 110 school record of 14.1 by season's end, said he gets technique advice from Tonya Elder. In exchange, he has reminded her to keep running when she has big leads "because someone could catch you from behind."

The 6-0 senior also ran the second leg of the boys 4x100 relay winners (43.8).

Several other Little Giants played key roles:

Jeremiah Smith won the 1600 by more than 8 seconds and the 3200 by more than 21. "I wanted to save some for the (3200) for points," Smith said after his easy 1600 win.

Kenny Morrisette anchored the 4x100 before winning the 200. "I'm not that quick in a 100, but I have speed in the 200. I slingshot off the corner in the 200 like Michael Johnson, he's my mentor," Morrisette said. "I read his books and watch his videos."

Rashad Brown won the high jump and 400, and Michelle Salas won the shot put and the discus. Lindsay Frontz won the 800 and ran a leg of the 4x400 relay. Sara Thiessen and Christy Linder were part of the 4x100 and 4x400 relays.

Tiffany Sweeney, who was also part of the 4x400 relay, won the closest battle of the day when she held off a late surge from Whitmer's Lindsey Heigel to win by 0.1 with a 1:04.

■ Single-event winners for Ross were Chris Shull (shot put), Frank Kaiser (discus), Kurt Snyder (800), Harry Liggins (4x100) and Demetrius Simms (4x100).
