Nucleus strong on Ross mat team

By BOB MARKER
Staff writer

The nucleus is there, but only time will tell how strong the Ross High School wrestling team will be this season.

"I really don't know how strong the team is," Coach Al Voggenthaler said, "because of all the question marks. We have a nucleus for a solid team but we have a lot of freshmen in the lineup and with the type of schedule we have, it will not be easy."

Voggenthaler is in his 16th season at Ross and 25th year as a wrestling coach. The Little Giants open this evening at 6:15 at Oregon Clay High School.

Matt Marinis, a three-year letterman, and Jon Ramirez, two-year lettermen, both seniors, are the Ross co-captains and are part of the nucleus the Ross coach talked about. Others in that group are Jamie Ramirez, a two-year junior letterman, senior Rob Beck and junior Dave Carroll, both lettermen. Also, Jeff Tomlinson, a transfer, lettered at Clyde High School last year.

Voggenthaler will be without one and possibly two lettermen this season. Brian Palomo is out definitely and Greg Abdo, who lettered as a freshman and a junior, is doubtful this season. Both had surgery recently. Another two-year letterman — Andy Alejandro — moved out-of-state.

"The loss of those three left a hole in the lower weights, at least for right now," Voggenthaler said. "As the season goes on, we should be able to fill it because of kids moving down in weight."

Voggenthaler said several wrestlers could move down in weight within the next couple of weeks. Marinis and Jamie Ramirez are expected to move down one weight class. Jon Ramirez and Carter may flip-flop weight divisions.

"We have a very good group of freshmen," the Ross coach said, and hinted that two others may slip into the lineup shortly into the season.

Jason Koebel, 103, and heavyweight Joe Frederick are the other freshmen who have caught Voggenthaler's eye.

"We will probably be a better tournament than a dual meet team," Voggenthaler said, "because we have five proven place finishers."

He will get to see if that opinion carries weight this weekend when his team competes in the Rogers Tournament Friday and Saturday. On Dec. 29-30, the Little Giants will compete in the Medina Tournament.

Ross second at Rogers

News-Messenger Reports

Matt Marinis won his third title and two teammates won championships to lead Ross to the runner-up spot in the 15-team Rogers Wrestling Tournament Saturday.

Host Rogers High School won the title with 217 points to the Little Giants' 155. Third was Anthony Wayne with 125½ and fourth went to West Jefferson with 126½. Wauseon had 120½ to round out the top five. Port Clinton finished eighth with 95.

Ross was fourth after the two Friday night rounds, building what Coach Al Voggenthaler termed "a good base."

"When we were fourth," Voggenthaler said, "I felt confident we could get to second. It was sort of a drafting (stock car racing term used for helping passing a car) position."

Marinis, 130, seeded first in the division, defeated fourth-seeded Kevin Bucher of Rogers 3-1 in the finals. A senior, Marinis was fourth at 98 as a freshman before winning the tourney title at 112 and 119 the next two years.

Junior Jamie Ramirez won his second Rogers title, defeating second-seeded Bob Delrue of Rogers 10-7 in the 130-pound finals. Ramirez won the 98-pound title as a freshman and was second 112 as a sophomore.

Also placing for Ross was Rob Beck, third at 171, and a trio of sixth place finishes: Troy Williamson, 140, Terry Carter, 145 and Dave Carroll, 189.

Carroll, however was a casualty, breaking his ankle in the semifinal match against Alex Beekley of Bowsher.

"He will be out at least six to eight weeks," Voggenthaler said optimistically.

The Little Giants' wrestling team will begin competition at 11 a.m. in the 30-team Medina Invitational Wrestling Tournament. The second round at Medina High School begins at 5:30 p.m. while the semifinals are at 11 a.m. and the finals at 6:30 p.m., Wednesday.

In addition to Ross, Oak Harbor is in the competition as well as traditional Ohio powers Bedford Chancel, Elyria, St. Paris Graham Local and Toledo Rogers. Also, the Michigan big school champion and defending Medina tourney champ, Detroit Catholic Central is in the field.

Little Giants shoot for fourth Mal Mackey title

News-Messenger reports

The 15th Mal Mackey Memorial Wrestling Tournament is Saturday at Ross High School with the Little Giants vying for their fourth straight title.

Nine teams are in the one-day, double-elimination tourney. Clyde, Genoa, Lorain Senior, Sylvania Northview and Southview, Toledo Scott and Waite and Vermilion along with host Ross comprise the field.

Wrestling begins at 11 a.m.

with the finals beginning at 6 p.m.

The Little Giants have won the tournament three consecutive years.

Ross Coach Al Voggenthaler hedges on predicting a fourth title.

"I have only seen one team, Scott, this season, so I don't know what the others have," he said. "I believe that each team has some good competitors."

Voggenthaler said before the season he felt his team was a better tournament than dual meet team.

In two tournaments, Ross was second in the 20-team Rogers Tournament and 23rd in the 30-team Medina tourney.

"That's because we have a good blend of veterans," he said, "but in this tournament, I don't know. Hopefully, other teams will knock each other off."

"I know Waite and Lorain traditionally have strong teams."

The tournament has nine teams this year, an insurance system that will hopefully mean all of the weight division brackets will be filled.

Abdoo is returning after recovering from an injury.

Veterans Jamie Ramirez and Matt Marinis will be at 130 and 135, respectively. Marinis was second at the Medinal tourney.

Either junior Troy Williamson or freshman Charles Chapman will be at 140 with sophomore Terry Carter at 145. Senior Jon Ramirez is at 152 and senior Jeff Tomlinson will wrestle at 160.

Rob Beck, a senior, is at 171 and freshman Brian Moreno will step in for Dave Carroll at 189. Carroll broke an ankle in the Rogers tourney. The heavy-weight is Corby Chudzinski.

GREG ABDOO of Fremont Ross fights to keep control of Marcus Cervetto of Waite in the 125-pound finals Saturday night in the Mal Mackey Memorial Tournament at Ross High School.

Ross wins fourth straight Mackey title

By BOB MARKER

The Mal Mackey Memorial Wrestling Tournament has become a tourney of streaks.

The 15th tourney at Ross High School Saturday was won by the Ross Little Giants for the fourth consecutive year and a trio of Ross matmen added to their individual Mackey titles.

Ross had 173½ points, comfortably ahead of runner-up Waite's 135½. Sylvania Southview was third with 86 and Genoa shaded Vermilion 85½-85 to take fourth place. Lorain, Toledo Scott, Sylvania Northview and Clyde rounded out the field.

Matt Marinis, 135, won his fourth Mackey crown to highlight the tournament. Teammates Jamie Ramirez, a junior, won his third tourney crown and senior Jon Ramirez picked up his second Mackey championship.

"It was a goal I set," Marinis, a two-time state meet qualifier said, after outpointing Monty Long of Southview 8-1 in the finals. "I wanted to be the first to win four titles."

The first four-time champ won previous titles at 98, 112 and 119 pounds.

Jamie Ramirez won the 130-pound championship, defeating Brad Jakeway of Northview 12-3 in the title match. His other Mackey crowns have been at 98 and 112 pounds.

Jon Ramirez added the 152-pound title to the 145-pound championship he won a year ago. He stopped Eric Stamper of Lorain 7-0 in his title bout.

Keeping in line with the streaks was Nick Cianciola of Genoa. The Class AA 105-pound state champion won the 119-pound crown this time around. The junior dominated Tyrone Jones of Scott in the finals, winning by a technical fall (a win by 15 or more points).

"This was a good tournament, not only for our experienced wrestlers, but for the younger ones," Ross Coach Al Voggenthaler said.

Of the eight Little Giants in the championship matches just three were seniors. The fourth tourney title for Ross went to senior Rob Beck in the 171-pound division.

Runner-up finishes went to senior Greg Abdoo, 125, freshman Charles Chapman, 140, sophomore Terry Carter, 145, and junior Corby Chudzinski, heavyweight.

Abdoo, after just three days of practice, competed in his first matches of the season. The first part of the season was wiped out by a groin injury that required surgery.

"That was a heck of a job after only three days of practice," Voggenthaler said. "His effort was especially pleasing."

Ross freshman Dan Costilla, 103, was third. Jeff Tomlinson, 160, was fourth, also for Ross.

Clyde's best finishes were third places by Tom Lozier, 135, and Mike McClanahan, 189.

Defensive end Bruce Smith of Buffalo, selected the Pro Bowl Most Valuable Player, had five tackles and two quarterback sacks for the AFC.

Ends Reggie White of the Eagles, with seven tackles and one sack, and Chris Doleman of Minnesota led the NFC defense.

The other AFC score came on a safety in the final quarter, when NFC quarterback Joe Montana of the 49ers stepped out of his own end zone while trying to pass.

The only NFC scoring was by Morten Andersen of the New Orleans Saints, who kicked field goals of 25 and 36 yards in the first half.

Ross evens dual record

News-Messenger reports

Ross won seven of the 13 matches while defeating Whitmer 36-29 in a high school wrestling match Wednesday at Ross High School.

The victory leveled the Little Giants dual record at 4-4 for the season.

The Little Giants got two falls and two technical falls in key the victory.

Other Ross victories went to Daniel Costilla, 112, and Matt Marinis, 135.

"This is the first time we have wrestled with five freshmen in the lineup," Ross Coach Al Voggenthaler said.

Koebel, Costilla, Rodney Pettiford, 119, Charles Chapman, 140, and heavyweight Joe Frederick are freshmen.

"It was the best that Costilla has wrestled this season," Voggenthaler said.

Costialla was up 4-2 when Steve Sickmiller defaulted because of an injury with 12 seconds remaining in the match.

"Sickmiller is a good wrestler," the Ross coach said.
