GREG BROWN of Ross is in midair as he goes over a hurdle at the Ross Relays Saturday afternoon. The Little Giant boys team finished second behind Port Clinton.

Lemanczyk baffles Tribe

CLEVELAND (AP) — Toronto right-hander Dave Lemanczyk went almost nine months without recording a victory, but he wrote the fast impressively in the Blue Jays' 5-3 defeat of Cleveland on Sunday.

"It's hard to win the first six innings," said Cleveland Manager Dave Garcia, after Lemanczyk held the Indians to three hits and one walk.

Ron Hassey finally put Cleveland on the scoreboard with a three-run homer in the seventh, but Blue Jays' relievers took charge thereafter, allowing only one Cleveland baserunner the rest of the way.

"Dave (Lemanczyk) got the ball up to Hassey," said Toronto Manager Bob Mattick, "but overall he did a good job."

The outing was encouraging for the 23-year-old Lemanczyk, whose last victory had come July 28, 1979, when he three-hit the Detroit Tigers. An inflamed nerve kept him on the disabled list much of the second half of the year, and he started this season with a pair of losses. He carried a 7.11 ERA into Sunday's game.

"I felt real strong out there today," said Lemanczyk. "Our catcher, Bob Davis, called a real good game for me. We were working zones, pitching their hitters in and out. We were getting lots of outs on balls hit to the opposite field."

Rugby a social happening

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Rugby, its enthusiasts agree, is more than a sport. It's a social happening.

In fact, the competing sides gather for beer drinking and a songfest after they have gone after each other in the rugged sport.

"The host club is always responsible for the post-game beer," said Mike Maloney, a three-year member of the Ohio State Rugby Club from Sidney.

"It's part of the ritual. If we played somewhere and there was no party, you can be sure we wouldn't get back," said Maloney of the post-game revelry.

A single pitch proved to be the undoing of Cleveland starter John Denny, 0-1. After a weak first-inning singles by Francisco Alvarado, Griffin and Rick Bosetti, Denny struck out the next two batters before designated hitter Otto Velez slammed a three-run homer from which the Indians never recovered.

"He hung a curve ball in the wrong place to Velez," Hassey said. "That was the story. But it was the sign of a good pitcher that he came back to shut them out for six innings."

The Blue Jays added one more run in the eighth, but Blue Jays' relievers took charge thereafter, allowing only one Cleveland baserunner the rest of the way.

"Dave (Lemanczyk) got the ball up to Hassey," said Toronto Manager Bob Mattick, "but overall he did a good job."
