

1923-1924 Season Review...

SIXTY CAGERS CHECK IN AT FREMONT HIGH

The call of the wild had nothing on the call of the cage, when Coach Charles Taylor sounded the S. O. S. and brought about 66 likely looking candidates out into the melting pot, wherefrom a varsity basketball five will be moulded this season. The lads are keen for the work and they came forth great and small and with the towering Gust, Thatcher and Fox came the smaller Thrums, the Rardon and some who are even smaller.

Coach Taylor will have his work cut out for him in picking the cream off this collection of material for as yet no man has invented a cream separator that will work to an advantage in picking out good looking athletes. They have hamburger grinders that will cut up the hams but the cream must come to the top on its own hook.

With the team and the candidates are "Judy" Lerch, Ralph Gust and Myron Bloom, the lettermen back on the cage job and they will have an election one of these days in which the democrats and the republicans will have no business nosing in. They're going to elect a cage leader and there'll be no monkey business in connection with this cage. It is said that Ralph Gust, sea going halfback who did yeoman's service on the floor last year and padded his fame greatly with his fine work on the grid, stands a good chance of being elected captain of the F. H. S. five. Ralph is popular and would make the ideal leader.

During the time that the new high school gym is under course of construction, the F. H. S. cohorts of Charley Taylor will work in Educational hall, where they will also play their games until the new quarters are finished.

There is lots of cage pep at high school this season and that, like football, appears to have taken one fine boom. Indications point to a big fast team to work out a rather hard schedule.

TAYLOR'S FIVE TO BE HUGE VETERAN BUNCH

Coach Charles A. Taylor is busier than the proverbial one-legged rope walker with a stone bruise on his heel. He's working with 50 stalwart lads, some of whom are not so stal, to mould out a basketball five and he believes he will accomplish his aim as there is an ample sufficiency of veteran material on hand to select a fast going five from. The big squad is to be cut down gradually until only ten men remain on the outfit and this survival of the fittest will have to be the top cream of the crew.

The indications point to F. H. S. having a big husky crew of veterans that should make a lot of hay when the sun shines. The Taylorites open their cage season against the St. Joe team in Educational hall on the evening of Friday, Dec. 21 and they will stack into some keen opposition as the "Joes" will have three games under their belts and four or five weeks of good stiff practice. These games for the scholastic championship of the city will draw the big crowds, as competition between the teams of local high schools is very keen, but also very friendly. The F. H. S. will be used to practicing on Educational floor, as that spacious arena will be used until the new F. H. S. gym is completed. These games will be whizz bang affairs from gun to gun.

ELYRIA TRIMS FREMONT HIGH IN JUMP OFF

Fremont high as badly "crippled" by accident and simon pure hard luck as any cage team that ever ventured forth from this seaport, went over to Elyria Friday evening to pry off the lid on the 1924 Little Big Seven season. They assisted in prying off the top of the old can but they had to take a second position on the official crowbar. That is to say, the purple and white lost by the accumulation of 25 to 10 points.

Minus the services of Captain Gust and the useful Walter Zink, who is out on account of "beezers" trouble, and will not be ready to return to the game until his nose is operated upon and his air line has direct communication with the outer ozone once more, Capt. Gust is out for the season on account of heart trouble and there you are.

With this bugaboo of hard lines and which can be listed as worse luck than the gink who forgot and took a chew of fine cut and sprinkled up his dress shirt bosom at the Pail Makers' ball.

The purple and white team went into the old game down Elyria way and working on the wide space of the Elyria gym, made the heroes from the "House of Houserman" step like a bunch of frozen crickets on a hot plate. The count at the end of the first half was 17 to 5 in favor of the place where Cy Croxford has taken up his place of residence and where the N. Y. C. engineers shine up their goggles to see through the smoke of Cleveland.

Fremont made five points in each half but in the final section the Elyrians made but 8, which showed that the Taylorites were getting used to the scenery and were more useful than ever.

"Hotch" Fox, tall as they make 'em, and a cage star in the making, was Fremont's leading point getter as he shoved two fielders and boosted the leafier for a free toss and made half of his team's points. Clarence Cox also made himself quite useful, as did Myron Bloom. The Fremont team was not disgraced, if beaten, and they will not be last in the league race by any means as the sun always shines brightest for the purple and white after it gets a poor launching on the order of the late football campaign.

Given half a break with the luck, the Taylor outfit will crawl over a few of them before the basketball is laid away in the spring, tra la.

The score and summary:

Fremont Hi to Tangle With Lorain Friday Night

One of the nifty pieces of entertainment at Educational hall this week will be pulled off Friday evening, when Lorain Hi comes over this way for its annual go with Fremont Hi. Fremont has several bones to pick with this gang from down east and the feathers will fly when the birds are sent together in the cockpit. Coach Taylor will have his tall rangers that include Fox, Thatcher, Lerch, "Jumpin' Joe" Hurley, Schneider, Overmyer and a couple of others set for the action and if they remember their lessons and pull their bags of tricks at the right time, Lorain will take on a beating. A mammoth crowd will view this game which will be the first F. H. S.-Little Big Six attraction of the season.

St. Joe Hi and a car load of rooters will go to Woodville for a game with the student team of that place Friday evening.

FREMONT HIGH BOWS TO LORAIN IN FAST DUEL

By Kenneth I. Henne

Fremont high opened its league basketball season at home Friday night with Lorain. This was one of the fastest battles ever played on a local floor.

The fast Lorain quintet started off in the first minute of play by making a free throw. "Jumpin' Joe" Hurley enraged by this sudden start, made a brave attempt to make one from the center of the floor and Zink followed with a try from the enemies' territory. At this point Gove came out with one of his famous shots from the center of the floor, giving the visitors a lead of three points. Fremont seemed to find itself here and with some of the prettiest passing sent the ball to Zink who tossed one in from under the basket. The quarter ended with the score 3 to 2 in Lorain's favor.

In the second period Lorain got away for a fast start and again tossed one into the net. Lorain was called for a broken dribble and Zink added one more point. The purple and white crew, by some very clever passing and floor work, gave Lerch the ball and he tossed it through the hoop from in front of the board.

Lorain alarmed at this sudden comeback, took time out. When play was resumed a foul was called on Fremont. Gove then took a terrible wallop at Lerch, who was trying for a shot, nearly putting Judy out of the game. Referee Slocum gave Fremont two chances to score. Coach Collins protested the decision but when asked whether he would go on with the game or not, quickly assented. Judy then got his revenge by making the two free throws allotted to him. The lead was short-lived, however, for Horn speared one from the right corner of the floor and Smith repeated from the same place. Score at end of half, Lorain 9, Fremont 7.

The second half started fast and looked as if that period would be as good as the first. Both teams soon tired, however, and the game commenced to drag. This period was noted for the football tactics used. The players fell on the ball as if they thought it was to be held to the floor. Comcsak started the scoring by making two points from under the basket. Lorain was given the ball for a free throw which gave the visitors one more point.

Referee Slocum reversed his former decision and waived the point. Lorain shot one from out of bounds.

Lorain's two attempts to put the inflated leather in the net failed. Then Zink speared two free throws. Hurley had a couple of nice chances to even up the score but his powerful shoves put the ball over the backboard.

The fourth period was a repetition of the third. Both teams being unable to keep their feet. Zink started the scoring by getting one from the front of the board. Lorain made a free throw. Zink then missed two free shots. Zink also shot one after the whistle blew. Warner tossed one in from under the basket.

Thatcher tossed the big pill into the fish net on a free throw. Hermy Schneider then in a brave attempt to keep the ball, took a flying dive into the sidelines that reminded of some of "Windy" Wendler's dives off the top of Tucker's mill. The dive as kebab here with the Holly Majors a little too much for Hermy's already tired anatomy and he was retired.

Al Foos took his first crack at big league basketball. This quiet little lad is a find for Coach Taylor's six-footers. He may be an inch or two shy of the much touted six feet but he's all there when it comes to taking the ball away from the opposition. "Foosy" played only a few minutes, but that was enough to show what he can do.

A little better placing of the leather will give the Taylorites next week's game at Norwalk. If Joe Hurley will just put a little less energy behind those long shots of his, Fremont will not need to worry over the score. Zink never misses the ring, but still that keeps them from dropping through.

The lineup and summary:

Lorain, 14	Fremont, 11
Phillips .....	R. F.....
Warner .....	L. F.....
Gove .....	C.....
Smith .....	R. G.....
Comcsak .....	L. G.....

Referee, Slocum of Toledo. Time-keeper, J. R. Clarke, Fremont. Field goals, Zink 2, Lerch, Smith 2, Horn, Warner, Gove, Comcsak. Free throws, Zink 2, Lerch 2, Thatcher, Warner, Gove. Substitutions, Foos for Schneider, Horn for Phillips, King for Comcsak.

GREAT INTEREST BEING SHOWN IN BRONSON'S SHOW

The promoters of the big boxing show that is to be conducted at Castle hall Monday evening, under the auspices of the Croghan Athletic club, have posted their $100 bond with C. C. Young, secretary of the Fremont Boxing Commission, as a guarantee of good faith in carrying out their show to the last letter.

All details of the biggest amateur card ever held in Fremont have been completed and the boxers are all awaiting the merry clang of the gong. Buddy Kinker, famous Waite high grader, who is to come on in one of the main bouts with "Monk" Delmont, of Toledo, refrained from mingling in. Ad Thatcher's go in Toledo last night just because he wanted to be set and in good shape for his mix with Delmont here Monday night.

Douglas Gray, Al Ritchie, Bill Krupp and Art Kolbe are also in excellent trim and their workouts at Krizel's gym have been viewed by crowds during the past few weeks. Gray, Kolbe and the other Fremont performers have done all of their work here.

It's great sport to see this gang get up there and take on all comers in their weight for a workout canter. Douglas Gray, Fremont's coming featherweight star, is said to be one of the best rope skippers in the business and it's sure a pleasure to see him hop the hemp in training. It will take a good man to make "Dougie" hop the ropes in a regular mill, however.

Tickets for the big amateur show are going big and a record crowd will be around the arena when the gong taps for action.

Yale university's highly touted basketball team, took another tumble last night when it fell before the University of Vermont team, 34 and 25. "Dolly" Stark, former major league baseball player, and who played basketball here with the Holly Majors last week, is assistant coach to the

Collision Puts Two Star F. H. S Cagers in Hospital

Fremont high school basketball hopes received another jolt the other night, but this time the jolt came three ways. The great old school got the biggest bump and Herman Schneider, star athlete and the best tackle in the Little Big Seven league, and Julius (Judy) Lerch, captain-elect of Fremont high's footballers for the 1924 season and both of them great cagers, that got the other jolting.

It came about in Educational hall when Hermy and Judy came together while engaged in a practicing bee. Lerch received a long deep gash on the head, while Schneider received a severe bump on the chest and had several teeth loosened. The collision will cause Coach Taylor to keep Lerch out of the game against Norwalk next Friday evening but Schneider may recover sufficiently to make the game.

Hard luck seems to be on the trail of the old purple and white but if it ever lets up that gang will just fill the locker room in the high school with trophies.

“Judy” Hard Luck Champ

Julius (Judy) Lerch, captain-elect of the Fremont high school football team for 1924, and a star guard on the basketball five, is confined to his home with an infection that developed in the cuts he received on his head when he came into collision with Herman Schneider, another good cage worker, during a practice session several nights ago. “Judy” is the champion hard luck athlete of F. H. S. for 1923, having had bone fractures, “Charley horses” bumps and bruises enough to do the Canton Bull Dogs for one season.

FREMONT HIGH CAGERS AGAIN TAKE A DEFEAT

You remember how Sherlock Holmes used to trail his game over the moors of England and how Nick Carter used to pursue the villain on many an occasion? Well, that's just the way old Casper J. Toughluck keeps on the trail of Charley Taylor, Fremont high school coach, and any athletic undertaking he undertakes to undertake. That the villain still pursues him was again very noticeable at Educational hall Friday evening, when a crew of high school lads from New Philadelphia (now known as Donaheville) tramped into this city for the first time in history of sports, and left Saturday morning all covered with smiles and glory, they having done it to Fremont just like the rest of the teams have been doing this season.

The final round-up in the various precincts of this game shows that the Taylorites were bombed, sunk and submerged to the grand total of 36 to 24. The victory wasn't won without a struggle, however, as the Fremont team worked hard all the way and took no detours off the main highway.

The New Philadelphia boys arrived in Fremont early Friday and they parked themselves at the Hotel Fremont to get used to the climatic change. Fremont is considered above the Arctic circle down there where they only put three horse shoes on a horse and train him to walk on one leg to save expenses and it took the visitors several hours to regulate their bellows and they sure did a good job. This trip to Fremont was an outing for the clever fads from down where they still hunt the fox and where, perhaps, the sly fox hunts the still. They won and they'll have to be given all the credit in the world and several colonies that have been established in a rubber orchard just off Catawba, where they have a bathing beach for those who only take their ablutions on Saturday night.

Early this winter Charles Taylor started the world and the L. B. S. with reports concerning his veteran aggregation of six footers who were billed to win the pennant and perhaps challenge the original Celtics for the championship. Came that speaking old creature, Jacob Wreckem, who does scout duty for the Toughluck agency, and he sure did his work well. Captain Gust went out of the lineup owing to illness; "Judy" Lerch and Myron Bloom were out of it on account of injuries; Hurley was away for some reason or another last night, and "Hotch" Fox has quit the game. There goes your old basketball game and the prospects for the season. If this isn't the tough luck, then peanuts make good paving material and malted milk is good bed covering.

The F. H. S. team went out there last night and made the N. P. crew hurry as though it was running for a train or training for a run, but their best proved to be of no avail. A lad named Morgan, probably a descendant of that great Confederate raider, Gen. Morgan, took down 12 fielders and shot free toss, making 25 of his team's 36 points. "Was a pretty fair night's work for any cager and a chore that would have pleased Dan Hickey or "Snooks" Dowd. Without Morgan the visitors would have been as helpless as a carpenter without a rule or a bedroom without a bed or a boarding house town without a roller.

Fremont sent a team composed of Zink, Schneider, Thatcher, Foos and Wngard and they all did well, exceptionally well. The count was 15 all at the half and the final period they worked 24 all. The visitors had too much in reserve, however, and they pulled away like a bird at a taffy pull with sandpaper on his mitts instead of butter.

A great crowd saw the contest which was a hard one to lose. Coach Taylor will keep on trying to work out a winning combination with the material that hard luck has left him and by and by perhaps he'll round the crew into line and finish the cage season just like the purple and white knocked off the football business last fall. Cheer up, gang, the best is to come according to the old dope and a fighting spirit will overcome a heap of trials and tribulations.

SENIOR GIRLS CAPTURE CLASS TITLE FRIDAY

By their defeat of the Juniors Friday night, the Senior girls quintet has won the title of class champs. In the last inter-class series the Seniors defeated the Sophomores and the Juniors defeated the Junior high. Friday evening the Junior high out shot the Sophomores and the Seniors overwhelmed the Juniors. The Seniors now have challenged the Junior high in order to give them the undisputed title.

The Junior high-Sophomore game started the action in the high school gym Friday evening. The Sophomores couldn't seem to find themselves during the first half and allowed their opponents from the Junior high to get a lead of 14 points. Physical Director Collier certainly has some steam roller of a team when they are permitted to run loose. The work of Florence Beck, the fastest forward of her size for many miles, stood out in this game.

Then the veteran Senior team met the undefeated Juniors. Bradner dropped the ball through the ring so often that the score keepers were dizzy from marking down the count. When it comes to team work, the Senior aggregation is all there. With only one girl on the team who has not played before, they can take them on and come back for more. The Seniors held the Juniors to one field goal and two free throws, while they amassed a total of 23 points.

The scores and summaries of the two games follow:

Pancho Villa, world's champion fly-weight, has been signed to meet George Marks of California. They tangle in the "Garden" on Feb. 8th. This may be George Marks, a tough bozo, or it may be "Easy" Marks as it were.

Abe Skinner says: "It doesn't seem possible that these car experts can save a cent of money because they're always making a run on the banks. Willie Hoppe is going to take a vacation from his straight rail and balk line duties and is now going in for three cushion stuff. Newt Blue says that one cushion or pillow is enough for anybody."

ALL KINDS OF BASKETBALL GAMES TONIGHT

There'll be lots of chance to step out and enjoy yourself in the line of cage meanderings Friday evening, if you are onto the ropes. If you want to stay at home and enjoy your favorite sport, there's the Bellevue-Fremont high game at Educational hall, and if you want to go touring, there's the St. Joe high and its journey to Fostoria, this evening, to take on the fast St. Wendelin's five of that city. Take your pick.

The Fremont high school five is sadly shot to pieces, as the latest star to bid the cage game goodbye is "Jumpin' Joe" Hurley, who has suffered an injury that will keep him off the floor. This list of those who have passed away from the team that had such brilliant prospects early in the season, now includes Captain Gust, Fox, Hurley, Bloom and Lerch. Injuries and sickness have taken the greatest toll. Bellevue has a rattling good team and will put on a breezy, speedy contest.

If Fremont takes this game there'll be hopes of getting out of the cellar, but if not, they'll be down there with the old hoodoo man that has been on their trail in all kinds of sports for the past two years. Coach Taylor no more than gets one combination working in good order than sickness, accident or scholastic trouble develops and causes a shift. He has more trouble than a marine land oil lease but he sticks to his task with that grim determination that rounded a crippled outfit into shape and finished his 1923 football season in a blaze of glory.

The St. Joe team is in prime condition for its game up in Fostoria tonight and all the regulars including Eddie Gabel, captain and chief floor walker, Walter Krupp, Wurzel, Winters, Koch, Paul Measley, Clarence Meisle and that faithful "Mope" Hotz. This lightning passing gang will be accompanied by at least two car loads of rooters and many others who will make the trip via auto. Joe Lauer, cheer leader, has injected some new pep into his cheering sections and they'll sure take Fostoria apart if they win tonight.

FREMONT LOSES HEART BREAKER TO BELLEVUE

By Kenneth I. Henne

Before a record crowd of 850 basketball fans, the local lads took the fourth and most disheartening defeat of the season Friday night at Educational hall, from the Bellevue high school quintet.

With a lead at the start of the last period of six points, the purple and white cagers permitted the boys from the east end of the county to add 13 points to their score. The slow aerial game of the local lads could not compare with the fast passing of Wolf's protégés.

It was only on the ninth attempt that the Fremont cagers could drop the ball through the net in the first period and the gun mercifully put a stop to their wild shooting at the end of the half. Out of a total of 51 attempts, only nine located the ring. Bellevue made a slightly better average by making one out of every four attempts.

Little "Skunk" Wingard and Foos did the best work for the locals, while Fadley performed the wizard acts for the visitors. If the athletic association of the high school would purchase sun shade for Zink, it would help him to distinguish colors and improve his passing.

The team was somewhat weakened in the third period when Schneider was taken out for personals. Lerch went out on the floor to replace him, still wearing the gauze on his forehead which has made him the receiver of so many expressions of condolence for the past few weeks.

Judy hasn't got back the old nerve that he had before the near fatal practice session of Wednesday night. With only two more league games to play, it looks as if Fremont will not get out into the warm rays of the sun and is destined to linger in the damp of the cellar.

The lineups and summary:

Bellevue, 27	Fremont, 24
Welys	Zink

Fadley	Wingard

FREMONT HIGH GAVE SANDUSKY A HEART ATTACK

(By Kenneth I. Henne)

Fremont high took defeat but not a drubbing at the hands of the much "ooted" Sandusky high quintet Friday night in Sandusky. The snappy passing and shooting of the blue and white squad before the game made them the high favorites of the evening. The first quarter increased the confidence of the Sanduskyans, even though the majority were disappointed at the showing made. The purple and white players, on the other hand, showed much improvement and a different style of play from that which had been displayed on the local floor so far this season.

The scoring was opened by Homberger inside of two minutes after the first whistle blew. He quickly followed it by successfully placing a free throw inside the net. Thatcher then gained a point from the charity line and Zink immediately speared a fielder. Score at end of quarter, Fremont 3, Sandusky 5.

The second quarter was much like the first, Sandusky taking the lead and the Fremont cagers doing their best work near the close of the period. There was little excitement and the game was slow. It was not until near the end of the period that the visiting quintet could work up enough nerve to invade the enemy's territory. It was near the middle of the scene the the Fremont rooters became very indignant at the rough treatment given the "Little Midget," as Sandusky girls were pleased to term Wingard. He was taken up into the air and was nearly dropped on his head during the course of the wild ride.

It was during the second half that excitement became the most intense. Both teams played a faster game. Sandusky had difficulty to keep the ball located, but did so often enough to give themselves a chance to make their spurt at the end of the last quarter and get the winning point.

Foos was taken out in the third period to make way for Lerch. Both boys played a nice game, favoring the long shots. Wingard clearly stands out as the best player on the Fremont team. He did make mistakes during the evening, but threw himself so heartily into the correction of them that everyone felt that he did his share and more. Taylor's squad seems to have profited by the Belleme game and no long shot was left uncovered in case it should go wrong. There was always some one down there under the basket to give it more shove to send it in. The passing, though much improved, is still somewhat slow. If the purple and white lads improve as much the coming weeks as they have during the past they should have at least one league game to their credit and a good chance of getting in the state finals at Columbus.

F. H. S. DEFEAT LAID TO POOR OFFICIATING

(By Kenneth I. Henne)

To the poor refereeing of Referee Vaughn of Elyria, is laid the blame for the last, and most undeserved defeat of the basketball season. Hooted throughout the game by the local fans, Vaughn threatened to give the visiting team many more chances to run up the score. He seemed to know the style of play indulged in by the Oberlin players and never ceased to watch Taylor's crew. Many of his decisions were contested, at one time during the game both coaches went to the center of the floor for conference.

At only one point of the game were the Fremont players able to take the lead. This was at the opening of the second period, when Wingard took the ball on the jump and neatly laid it in the net, and immediately followed this with a shot which he earned by intercepting an Oberlin pass.

Oberlin then speared one and Zink followed with another. This left the score 10-9 in Fremont's favor. Oberlin made one of two free throws and tied the score and then a basket. They kept the lead for the remainder of the game. The half ended with the score 16-12.

Early in the third quarter it seemed that Vaughn would have to call on the police to escort him out of town. An Oberlin player dribbled down the west side of the court with Wingard in hot pursuit, when in the belief of the Fremonters, the Oberlin player stepped out at the side line. He proceeded down until he was under Fremont's basket and shot, making the goal. The dispute was not settled until Coaches Atkinson and Taylor went to the center of the floor and agreed to the official's decision.

Fremont's main difficulty still seems to be their inability to put the ball through the ring. They do not have much difficulty in breaking up the defense of their opponents, but far too many of their shots go wild. If they can but improve on their basket shooting they can easily win from the Tiffin quintet tonight.

The lineup and summary:

Oberlin, 30	Fremont, 29
E. Weis	Zink
	Right Forward
Williams	Wingard
	Left Forward
Barnes	Thatcher
	Center
Gains	Foos
	Right Guard
Van Ausdales	Schneider

Field goals: Zink 6, Gains 5, Wingard 3, Williams 3, Thatcher, Lerch, Weis, Van Ausdales.

Free throws: Gains 5, Zink 2, Wingard 2, William 2, Thatcher 2, Lerch, Van Ausdales, Barnes, Weis.

Substitutions, Lerch for Thatcher, Engler for Wingard, Knepper for Barnes. Thatcher and Wingard were returned at the half and again taken out later.

Referee, Vaughn of Elyria. Score at end of half 16 to 12 in favor of Oberlin. Final score, Oberlin 30, Fremont 29.

Joe Jackson received an award of $17,000 from a Milwaukee jury but what's the use as the judge set the verdict aside and now it is said that Joe is under arrest for perjury. This is the same as being tried for auto stealing, found innocent and then having the verdict point you out as a hoss thief.

A lot of the word painters for the larger journals have gone down to Washington to do a little oil painting.

Twenty-five years ago today, taking it from the efforts of the sport historian, Tom Sharkey, famous sailor-battler, was feeling rather cocky. He challenged any two men in the world to meet him in the ring on the same night. Nobody ever accepted Tom's defy but several other boxers, namely Terry McGovern, Jim Jeffries and one or two more did.

Tiffin Defeats Fremont High in Basketball

The Fremont high school basketball team walked into its hardest beating of the season at Tiffin Saturday evening, when the Seneca county crew nailed the purple and white down by a score of 39 to 7. The Fremont boys appeared to be off form as a result of their hard game against Oberlin on the night previous and they proved to be easy prey for the Tiffin five. "Judy" Lerch shot one of Fremont's baskets and Walter Zink the other, and the latter also bagged three free throws. The Fremonters say that the Tiffin team is one of the fastest they have met this season and that includes all the teams in the Little Big Seven.
