Legg a Bobcat-to-be

Ross senior commits to wrestle at OU

By MATTHEW HORN
Staff Writer

Senior wrestler Andrew Legg hasn't been the kid who worried about being the last one picked.

Regardless of memberships' exclusivity, Legg was never left out in the cold.

An Ohio national-level summer wrestling team has invited him to participate each of the last four years.

And Legg, 18, signed a national letter of intent with Ohio University in the Hall of Fame Room at Fremont Ross on Friday. The Bobcats have won the most Mid-American Conference titles with 12 and 92 wrestlers have captured individual championships.

"Coach (Joel) Greenlee is really enthusiastic," Legg said. "He's a motivational guy. He works guys mentally and physically. He wants to keep the program the best in the MAC. I feel the program will continue to set the standards as the top team in the MAC."

Legg decided to make OU his wrestling destination last week after taking an official visit in October.

His visit covered two days, and Legg was impressed Greenlee hardly left his side.

"Coach gave me individual attention. He showed he cares for his wrestlers very much and would do a lot for them," Legg said.

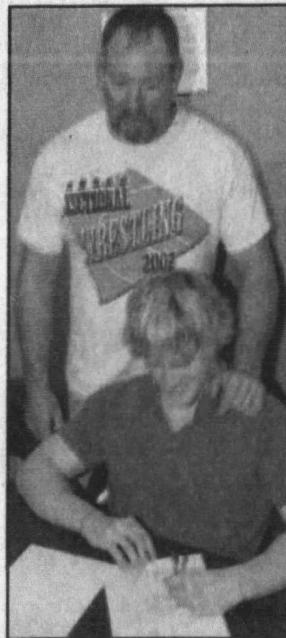

Legg will receive a 90 percent scholarship and believes he can rapidly acclimate himself to the college environment.

"Going into my first college year, I know half the team pretty well," Legg said. "With athletics and academics, I can adjust to the college atmosphere a lot better."

Future Bobcat teammate Brian Caesar placed one spot ahead of sophomore Legg at state two years ago, and Legg roomed with Caleb Metcalf on his visit.

"I will have great workout partners that will help me develop into a very successful wrestler," Legg said. "I feel I will have exceptional opportunities to take my wrestling to a higher level."

Legg went 36-4 and placed fifth in the 171-pound weight class at state two years ago — the only sophomore to place between 140 and heavyweight in Division I. He was a state qualifier last season and will wrestle at 174 or 184 pounds in college.

MAL MACKEY TOURNAMENT

Giants garner lucky No. 13

Ross coach wins his final Mackey title

By SCOTT BLACK
News-Messenger correspondent

If you heard a large roar on Saturday, don't be alarmed.

It was just the Fremont Ross Little Giants flexing their muscles as they tossed aside the competition in winning the 31st annual Mal Mackey Memorial Tournament.

Austin Earle, Andrew Legg, Jorge Perez won championships as host Ross rolled up 168 points to win the team title for the 13th straight year.

There was no mistaking the prevalent purple and white colors of the crowd, and there was no mistaking the purple "Grover's Last Dance" T-shirts that a lot of those people were wearing.

Ross coach Grover Dowell is retiring at the end of this season, so the T-shirts make sense. There is also a bit of an inside joke to them.

"I feel good about winning my last Mackey," Dowell said. "But it's because we have such a good group of kids. They won this tournament, and the good kids we've had over the years and good assistants all helped win the other 12, too. They've made it a lot easier than it could have been.

"My assistant coaches came up with these T-shirts for my last year," Dowell continued.

"There's a little joke about me getting upset at a tournament up in Toledo last year and kind of doing a little dance and jumping and shouting around."

Sylvania Northview (131.5), Northwood (113.5), Port Clinton (111) and Otsego (96.5) rounded out the top five on Saturday.

Otsego's Andy Cocke picked up the trophy for the most pins in the fastest time, and Bowling Green's David Briggs won the tournament's MVP Trophy.

The Little Giants advanced 10 wrestlers to the finals.

Earle won the 152-pound title with a 3:49 fall over J.D. Zetzer of Port Clinton; Andrew Legg won the 171-pound title with a 15-0 technical fall over Kyle Masney of Northview and Jorge Perez won the 215-pound title with a 5:38 fall over Corbet Griffith of Northwood.

The Little Giants also got second-place finishes from Zac Brunner (112), Sam Krueger (130), Jake Gutschalk (140), Garrett Stine (160), Myles Porter (189) and Rob Durnwald (275).

A uniformed Army PFC, Chris Kayser, who is stationed at Fort Lewis, Wash., presented Earle with his first-place trophy.

Kayser who graduated from Ross last year is one of only three four-time winners in the history of the tournament.

"I've been wrestling with Austin since I was in the eighth grade," Kayser said. "We're really good friends. It just made me feel proud that he won his senior year, and that I was able to give him his award. I'm home on leave right now, and I was just lucky enough to be back and catch my guys at home."

Dowell said the Giants are now primed and ready to roll.

"We're sitting at 4-0 in dual meets, and we won the Mackey," he continued. "We have a good team. ... We're ready to go and get on with the rest of the season."

Grover is grouchy about Giants' effort

By SCOTT BLACK
News-Messenger correspondent

SANDUSKY — The Sandusky Bay Conference took on the Greater Buckeye Conference in wrestling action on Wednesday at Sandusky High School, and it was the SBC that came away with a one-two punch.

Clyde, ranked eighth in this week's Division II coaches wrestling poll, beat GBC members Sandusky and Fremont Ross 50-24 and 50-22, respectively, to raise its dual record to 4-0.

The Little Giants then defeated archrival Sandusky 40-35 to improve to 3-1.

Clyde coach Dale Carroll was happy to take the double win, but he still wants to see more improvement.

"I thought that we wrestled pretty good tonight," Carroll said. "This is now the middle of the season, and it's time now to get ready for the league and sectional tournament. We've got little things to take care of, but I'm real happy with the team."

Adam Thurn, Robbie Micheals, J.R. Ysaguirre, Jake Zieber, Jon Taylor, Jared Martin, Eric Schwartz and Matt Guhn each notched a pair of wins for Clyde.

Ross's Jake Gutshalk, Austin Earle, Andrew Legg and Miles Porter also notched two victories.

Ross coach Grover Dowell was not pleased with his team's performance — not with the win and certainly not with the loss.

"I really wasn't happy with anything tonight," Dowell said. "We really should have blown Sandusky out. The kids were quitting halfway through their moves. They didn't hit the moves we work on in practice, and they were pulling crap I've never seen before."

"That wasn't Fremont out there," he continued. "I don't know what got into them. I don't know if we were scared or what, but I was disappointed with the whole team."

One of the most anticipated matches of the night was between state qualifiers Ysaguirre of Clyde and Brock Davis of Ross. The match, however, ended early when Ysaguirre caught Davis in a fall at 2:40 to gain a little revenge.

"I knew that it was going to be a tough match because he beat me pretty bad last year," Ysaguirre said. "So I wanted to come back this year and prove that I could take it to him. Brock comes right at you, so if you're not ready for it you're in trouble. I was able to catch him sitting on his butt, and I just drove him straight back to his back and pinned him."

Carroll was pleased with Ysaguirre performance in the match and on the year so far.

"That's four state qualifiers that J.R. has beaten in a row," Carroll said. "He's wrestling hard, and I think that he's got his mind focused on what he needs to do."

Ross trailed Sandusky 23-12, but Gutshalk, Josh Howey and Earle reeled off three straight win — the first two by pins — as the Little Giants took a 28-23 lead.

Angelo Jones gave Sandusky the lead back at 29-28 when he recorded a 3:41 pin of Garrett Stine.

Falls by Legg and Porter sealed the win for the Little Giants.

Earle certainly was satisfied with the evening.

"The Clyde match went the way I thought it would, but I really thought we do better against Sandusky," he said. "Their lighter weights hurt us. I thought we'd win that match big-time. We didn't show our potential tonight, but we'll get stronger if we work harder."

Ross wrestlers capture Celina Invitational title

Krueger, Davis, Legg win crowns

News-Messenger reports

The Fremont Ross wrestling team captured the team title at the Celina Lions Invitational Saturday at Celina High School.

The Little Giants tallied 200.5 points to edge Greenville by 5.5 points for the team championship.

Host Celina was third with 193 points followed by Versailles with 180, Coldwater 116.5, Elida and Worthington Kilbourne with 77.5 each and Toledo Whitmer with 76.5.

Winning individual titles for the Little Giants were Sam Krueger at 125 pounds, Brock Davis at 130 and Andrew Legg at 171.

All three wrestlers went 4-0 in the round-robin, pool format tournament. Krueger had two pins, a technical fall and a major decision. Davis won all of his matches by falls, including three in the first period and one in the second. Legg had two pins and two technical falls.

Other placers for the Little Giants were Zac Brunner (fourth at 112), Chris Bias (fourth at 135), Jake Gutschalk (second at 140), Josh Howey (sixth at 145), Austin Earle (second at 152), Garrett Stine (fifth at 160), Myles Porter (second at 189), Jorge Perez (second at 215).

NORWALK'S Pat Brown, left, tries to restrain Fremont Ross's Brock Davis in the 130-pound weight class on Wednesday. Davis won the match 12-7 and lost 11-8 to Port Clinton's Nick Wadsworth as the Little Giants won 36-30 and 67-9, respectively. Davis qualified for state last year.

Ross wins two in coach's finale

Grover Dowell's last home meet as Fremont Ross wrestling coach came down to the heavyweight class on Wednesday.

Rob Durnwald registered a pin at 5:49 as the Little Giants edged Norwalk 36-30 to complete a tri-meet sweep.

"Other than winning for ourselves, we wanted to win for coach," said Durnwald, who also notched a pin in Ross's 67-9 victory over Port Clinton. "He's so important and has done so much for the program, it only seems right to send him off with a win."

Durnwald was proud to have participated in the consequential match.

"I worked hard to show what he's taught me — to work hard and give it your all," he said. "I knew I had to go in there and play it smooth. I knew I could work him into a pin."

Dowell will retire after his 14th season as head coach.

"I'll remember all the supportive people — the parents, fans and outstanding people I had to work with," Dowell said. "I'll miss the camaraderie with the kids and the assistant coaches. You put so much sweat and blood into it that it becomes family year after year."

Norwalk took a 16-3 lead into Jake Gutschalk's match at 140 pounds.

Gutschalk tied his match 8-8 in the closing seconds and defeated Kyle Jameson 10-8 in overtime.

Gutschalk narrowly avoided being pinned before mounting the comeback and pulling the Giants within 16-6.

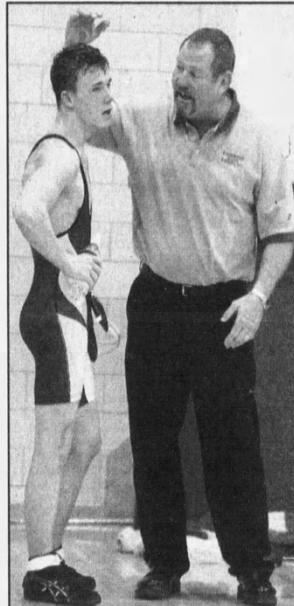

Ross lost its next match before Austin Earle (152) won a decision, and Garrett Stine (160), Andrew Legg (171) and Myles Porter (189) won by fall in successive matches to knot the score at 24-24.

"I was disappointed in our lack of aggression," Dowell said. "I thought Norwalk came out aggressive, and we looked tentative. Gutschalk had a great match."

"We have three weeks to work on setting up take-downs and having more control and drive on the mat."

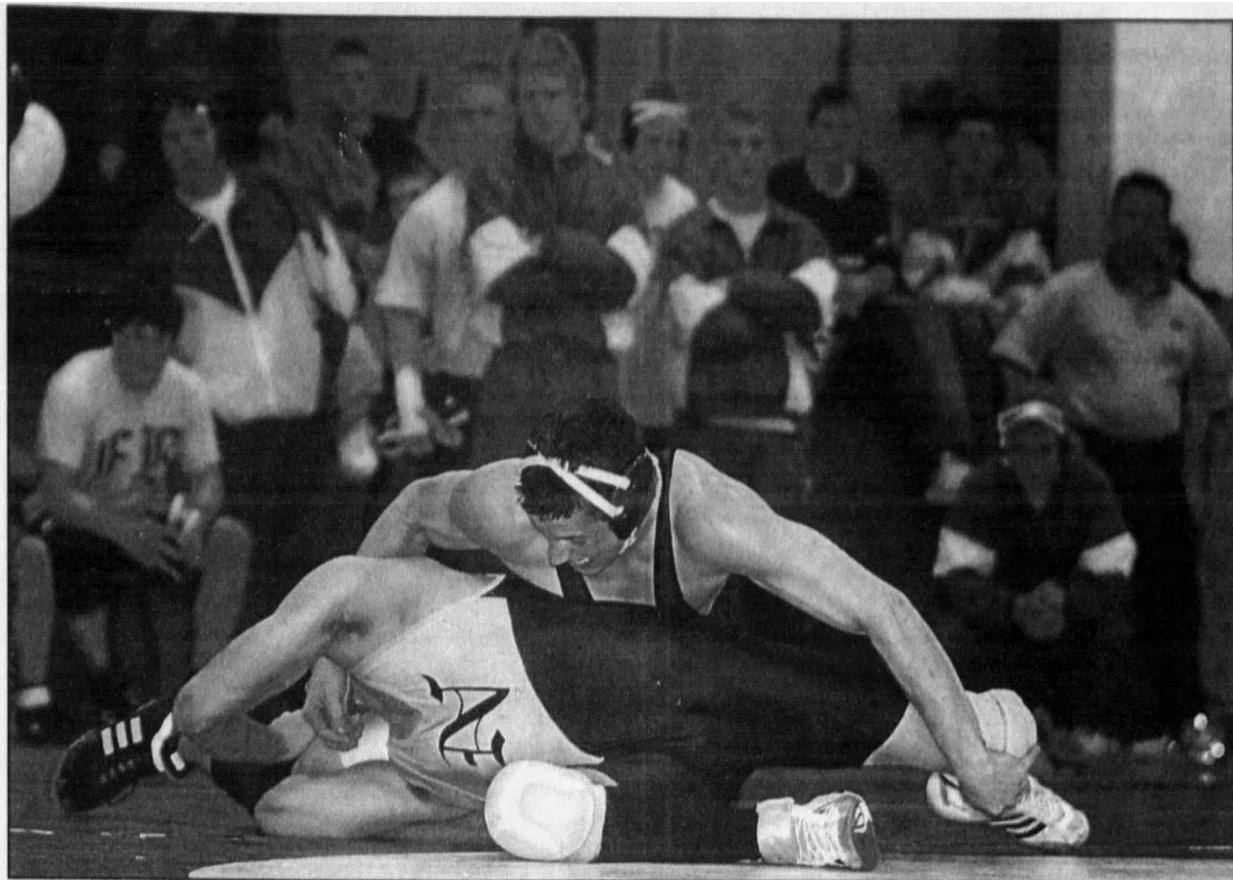

Norwalk coach Ronald Deluca said his team needed a few pins at the lower weights but managed only one.

"Ross's upper weights are outstanding," he said. "We have a young heavyweight. We knew we'd have to win and score points early."

FREMONT ROSS coach Grover Dowell talks with Chris Bias following a 9-0 loss to Norwalk's Chas Lang on Wednesday at Ross. Dowell was coaching in his last home meet after 14 years at the Little Giants' helm. Dowell's time at Ross was marked by his gruff sense of humor, honesty and generosity.

Giants give coach tri-meet sweep as farewell gift

Gutschalk won two decisions, and Porter joined Durnwald as the only Giants with two pins.

Deluca was impressed with Legg, who pinned Brenton Parker in 1:10 to run his record to 29-0.

"You can't ever beat aggression," he said. "That will carry him a long way. He wasn't out there long enough for me to see him really demonstrate his skills."

Deluca's team participated in the Rossford Invitational last weekend, and he said no wrestler there was in Legg's class.

"I wanted to get the guys fired up," Legg said. "They were down about losing at the lower weights.

"I wanted to go intense and minimize mistakes with leagues and sectionals coming up."

"Aside from coach's last meet — we had to be intense as a team. A win is a win sometimes. Overall, we wrestled tough, but there's some refining to do in the wrestling room."

Legg said Durnwald has already done a great deal to improve.

"He's improved 150 percent since the beginning of the year," Legg said. "He's always open-minded and willing to learn."

And Dowell undoubtedly played a major role.

"There's no B.S.," said senior Brock Davis, who split his two matches. "(Dowell) tells you how it is, what you have to change and when. He doesn't beat around the bush, he just tells you the truth."

"He lets you know what you need to do to get better, and with somebody with his experience you ought to listen."
