Ross wrestlers open here Saturday

Ross will send a young wrestling team into the toughest part of its schedule in December.

Five sophomores will mingle with a mixture of returning lettermen and inexperienced juniors and seniors when Ross opens the season at 1 p.m., Saturday, when Port Clinton visits the home of the Little Giants.

"We are awfully young," Ross Coach Al Voggenthaler said, "but we have some good sophomores in the starting lineup."

"The first part of the season," the Ross coach continued, "is the toughest part with Lorain Southview, Sandusky plus the Rogers and Medina tournaments."

"If we can survive December, we should be in pretty good shape," Voggenthaler offered.

The tentative lineup for Saturday's match will have a super light (approximately 90 pounds) sophomore Jeff Weickert at the 98-pound slot. Louis Rodriguez, a sophomore, will be at 105 but could go to 112 later.

Mark Schmidt, 119, a junior letterman, along with two-year letterman, Corey Beard, 126, and letterman heavyweight Anthony Gardner, Mike Wendt, 185-pound letter winner, Mitch Curliss, a senior letterman at 167 plus junior letterman Ricky Heidelberg, 138, are definite starters against Port Clinton.

Blaine Hines, senior, plus sophomore Rod Logan and junior Kevin Schaffer are listed in the 126-pound bracket. Sophomores Reggie Parks and Gene Simmons are at 138. If one of these two move into the slot, Heidelberg will likely move up to 145.

Doug Zink, a junior, will go at either 167 or 175 and senior Orlando Carter, if he can sink to the weight, will battle at 185.

Craig Trick, a junior, has the inside track at 155.

"You can say one thing about the group," assistant Coach Rick Boggs said, "they are very scrappy; not a lot of technique, but scrappy."

Ross flattens Port Clinton

"If this keeps on, it will be over in 20 minutes," Ross wrestling coach Al Voggenthaler was able to smile during breaks at Saturday's season opening match against Port Clinton.

The first four matches in the Little Giants 45-21 victory ended in falls, three in the first period and three being claimed by Little Giants grapplers.

Tim Stanley, 105, Luis Rodriguez, 112, and Mark Schmidt, 119, secured the pins for Ross with only Stanley's going into the second period. Port Clinton 98-pounder Pat Heckard had pinned Ross's Jeff Weickert in the first period to start the afternoon of matches.

The match slowed in the 126-pound bout when Corey Beard of Ross scored on a reversal and a nearfall in the final period to ice an 8-4 win.

"It was a good match," Voggenthaler coined, "and the kids showed a lot of scrappiness; not too much finesse but I was surprised at some of the moves.

"The sophomores were not afraid of going for a move. They were not always successful but they went after them."

Besides that trio of Little Giants getting falls, Ricky Heidelberg, Mitch Curliss, Mike Wendt and Tony Gardner recorded falls for Ross.

The quickest fall for Ross was turned in by Rodriguez, a sophomore. He needed one minute and 44 seconds to stop Chris Raff. Schmidt followed with a 1:55 effort on Aaron Garza. The rest of the Little Giants' match-stoppers were in the second or third periods.

One aspect of the match that was pointed out by the Ross coach had him smiling.

"I think we got the takedown (first) in most of the matches," he said. He was right. . . the Little Giants got the first two points of the match in nine bouts.

"We have been promoting that first takedown," Voggenthaler said.

The promotion turned out right and for Voggenthaler, it got his team off on the right foot.

Ross's next match is Thursday, at Lorain Southview. The match begins at 7:30 p.m.

Southview flattens Ross

LORAIN — Three falls saved Ross from a shutout at the hands of the Southview wrestling team Thursday.

Southview rolled to a 48-18 verdict over the Little Giants, now 1-1 for the season.

Sophomore Luis Rodriguez, 185-pounder Mike Wendt and heavyweight Tony Gardner turned in the pins for Ross.

Rodriguez, 112, stopped Jorge Rivera in one minute and 12 seconds. Wendt knocked off Greg Vrbangic in 1:46 and Gardner flattened George Vukelich in 1:23.

Southview wrestlers turned in four falls.

Sandusky decisions Ross; Woodmore wins tourney

Mike Wendt and Anthony Gardner kept two personal streaks going, but Sandusky trimmed Ross 45-25 in a high school wrestling match Saturday at the home of the Blue Streaks.

Wendt and Gardner, 185 and heavyweight, respectively, recorded their third consecutive pins, in as many matches, this season. Wendt knocked off Scott Van Dootting in 2:40 and Gardner took care of Daryl Gant in 1:58.

Other Ross victories belonged to Ricky Heidelberg, Corey Beard and Mitch Curlis. The latter was by default when Sandusky 167-pounder Deno Maschari dislocated his elbow in the first period.

In the junior varsity match, Ross won 42-33.

Around the area, Woodmore won the 11-team Golden Bear Invitational at Gibsonburg while Oak Harbor split with Cardinal Stritch and St. John's.

At Gibsonburg, the Wildcats racked up 223 to easily outdistance runnerup Northwood by 93 points.

Woodmore had four individual champions led by the tournament's outstanding wrestler, 175-pound Bruce Lenox. Lenox pinned Van Buren's Joe Chalmers in 1:43 in the finals.

The Wildcats' other champions were Mark Riggle (105), Andy Johnson (132) and Bill Hammer (155).

Runnersup for Woodmore were Ted Wegert (98), Todd Miller (112), Scott Hathaway (126), Don Foltz (138), Bob Dunlap (167) and Bob Damschroder (185).

Gibsonburg, meanwhile, finished 10th. The Bears' top individuals were John Schell (119) and Rod Burdette (112), both who captured third-place finishes.

At Oak Harbor, the Rockets ran into the Cardinal Stritch steamroller and were flattened 59-12, but they came back to topple St. John's 34-26.

Norm Cool (167) and John Ishmal (185) were the lone two-time winners for the Rockets.

Ross 13th at Rogers

TOLEDO — Ross is 13th and Oak Harbor sixth after one day of the Rogers Invitational Wrestling Tournament.

The Little Giants have 29 points but have 12 of their 13 wrestlers still "alive" in the 15-team tourney. Two Ross matmen are in today's semifinals which begin at noon.

Mike Wendt, 185, and Tony Gardner, heavyweight, are the Ross semifinalists. The other Ross wrestlers must wait to see if the wrestler he lost to wins today in order to be "pulled" back into the tourney.

Oak Harbor has 53 points in the tourney.

Eastwood leads with 70½, Rogers is second at 67½ and Wauseon is third with 63½.

Oak Harbor 5th, Ross 11th in Rogers meet; Huston wins tourney 'pin' title

The Oak Harbor Rockets, paced by individual champs Rob Huston and John Ishmael, finished fifth and the Ross Little Giants, led by runnerup Anthony Gardner, came in 11th place out of 15 teams in the Toledo Rogers Holiday Invitational Wrestling Tournament held Friday and Saturday at Rogers High School.

Huston picked up his championship trophy in the 98-pound weight class while Ishmael's came at 185. Gardner's second-place finish was in the heavyweight division.

Huston was particularly impressive as he added the Tom Kingsley Memorial Award to the hardware he took home.

The Kingsley trophy goes to the wrestler who records the most pins in the least amount of time. Huston flattened all four of his opponents in a collective time of 8 minutes and 29 seconds.

Ishmael gained the 185-pound title with three decisions and one pin while Gardner made it to the finals with three pins which took only 7:11 to record before being decisioned 13-3 in the finals by Maumee's Mike Farley.

The Rockets' Norm Cook (167) and Ross' Mike Wendt (185) each garnered third-place finishes, OH's Gary Bowman (126) took a fourth place, Mike Zunk of Oak Harbor (145) and Craig Trick of Ross (155) each came in fifth place while the Rockets' Mark Bryant (175) claimed a sixth-place finish.

Wauseon won the team title with 171½ points. Rogers (155½), Whitmer (137) and Eastwood (127½) were next, followed by Oak Harbor with 123½ points. Ross tallied 74.

In other area wrestling action over the weekend, Clyde defeated Port Clinton 45-22 in a dual meet and Genoa split with Gibsonburg and Elmwood while the Golden Bears dropped a pair in a triangular at Genoa.

At Port Clinton, Clyde once again got a big lift from its lower weights as 98-pound Rick Rosen, 105-pound Hiro Persons and 112-pound Scott Gilbert all flattened their Redskin opponents.

The two teams then split the next four weight classes with Clyde's Rolando Garcia (126) and Ruben Rodriguez (138) picking up a pair of decision wins before the Fliers reeled off three wins in the next three divisions — one by a decision (Jeff Wise at 145), one by a pin (Kelly Thrasher at 155) and one by a default.

Heavyweight Frank Crockett closed out the scoring for Clyde.

Clyde will host a quadrangular with Lakota, Woodmore and Genoa Tuesday night beginning at 6 p.m.

At Genoa, Comets Coach Grover "Mike" Dowell picked up his first win in 2½ years as a head coach at Genoa as his team defeated Gibsonburg 43-32.

However, in the other part of the triangular, the Comets were humbled by Elmwood 68-6 as were the Golden Bears 57-6.

In the match that ended Dowell's infamous skein, there were a total of eight pins, three forfeits and only two decisions.

Ken Reinhart (98), John McClear (145), Todd Dauterman (175) and Kevin Deibert (185) had pins for Genoa while Rod Burdette (112), Tim Widmer (132), James McLaughlin (167), and Paul Sanchez (HWT) returned the favors for Gibsonburg.

The Comets had the advantage in forfeits by getting two, and they also had both of the decision victories, one by Russ Helle (126) and the other by Nick Encheff (119).

The Bears' Sanchez also picked up a pin against Elmwood.

Gibsonburg hosts a quadrangular with Loudonville, Evergreen and Ottawa Hills Tuesday beginning at 2 p.m.

St. Francis is Mackey champ

St. Francis claimed five individual titles and the team crown in the Mal Mackey Memorial Wrestling Tournament Saturday at Ross High School.

The Knights racked up 176 points to finish comfortably ahead of runnerup St. John's. Edison was third with 127 while Huron edged Ross in the final two matches to take fourth with 104.

The Little Giants had 100 points with Vermillion, Bowsher and Bellevue rounding out the second division.

Greg Delong of St. Francis was tabbed by the eight head coaches as the tourney's "outstanding wrestler." The 132-pounder "pinned" his way through the tourney to win the title. In the finals, Delong flattened Fred Babson of Vermillion just as the buzzer ended the first period.

Toledo St. John's heavyweight Bruce Schneiderbauer won the trophy for the most pins in the least amount of time. Schneiderbauer defeated Tony Gardner of Ross in the finals, pinning the Little Giant in 5:09.

In his previous two matches, the St. John senior pinned two opponents in 29 seconds, the quickest was a nine-second effort against Ron Dabowski of Edison.

Ross had two wrestlers finishing second. Gardner and 185-pounder Wendt. Carl Rogers of Vermillion pinned Wendt in 2:44 in the finals.

Corey Beard, 126, Rick Heidelberg, 138, and Craig Trick, 155, of Ross were third. Mark Schmidt, Reggie Parks and Mitch Curless finished fourth for the Little Giants.

"I can't single any particular person out," Ross Coach Al Voggenthaler said, "I thought it was a pretty good team effort."

The Ross coach was especially pleased with the way his team performed in the consolation rounds of the double elimination tournament.

Little Giants knock off 3 foes

By BOB MARKER

News-Messenger Sports Editor

Ross wrestled into a triple killing Thursday, taking all three matches in a marathon quadrangular at Ross High School.

The Little Giants topped Sylvania Southview 38-22, polished off Lima Shawnee 32-24 and defeated Findlay 39-24.

"This is almost tougher than a tournament," Ross Coach Al Voggenthaler said after the triple win night. "You get three matches back-to-back and this has always been a good quadrangular."

In the past three years, the quadrangular has taken some weird twists for the Little Giants. Two out of the past three, Findlay has defeated Ross while Lima Shawnee has defeated Findlay. In both those years, Ross has defeated Shawnee.

"It was just the way we matched up in individual matches," the Ross coach explained the reversal from the previous two seasons.

Findlay was Ross's final opponent Thursday and Voggenthaler admitted that is when he wanted to go against the Trojans.

The Little Giants began the evening of wrestling with the win over Southview, the team that Voggenthaler considered the toughest of the trio of opponents.

Rick Heidelberg pinned his 138-pound opponent "Cat" Wagner in three minutes to highlight the match for Ross.

In the match against Shawnee, Ross fell behind 12-0 after two bouts because of a fall and a forfeit. Luis Rodriguez turned Ross's fortunes in the 112-pound match, pinning Mike Palmer in 2:45. It was the second of three impressive victories for the Little Giants sophomore. He had stopped Sam Russo of Southview 6-1 in his first outing.

Mark Schmidt, Corey Beard and Blaine Hines followed with decision wins in the 119, 126 and 132-pound divisions, respectively. Heidelberg kept the string going with a 9-1 victory over Randy Lewis but Ross lost the next two before Mitch Curless of Ross edged Tim David 13-11 in the 167-pound skirmish.

Doug Zink followed with a decision and Ross closed out the narrow win with a pair of forfeits from the Lima crew.

Ross had one forfeit and Findlay three in the final Little Giants match.

Heidelberg registered his second pin of the evening, a 1:37 effort against Jack Bimber and Curless knocked off Wade Schilty in 1:15 of his match to key the victory. Heavyweight Tony Gardner of Ross topped off the win with a fall on Doug Geyer 45 seconds into the third period.

During the evening, in addition to Rodriguez, Beard and Curless, accounted for three wins apiece.

"Really," Voggenthaler said, "everyone did well in at least one of the matches."

"These kids are improving every week and we are still predominantly sophomores and juniors. The last two weeks, especially, they have shown a lot of improvement."

In the other dual matches, Shawnee defeated Findlay 36-18; Southview defeated Findlay 38-33; and Shawnee got past Southview 34-30.

The next outing for Ross will be Saturday, Jan. 23, when the Little Giants host the second Eagles Invitational.

ROSS' CRAIG TRICK RECOVERED FROM THIS PAINFUL PREDICAMENT
TO WIN HIS 155-POUND CONSOLATION MATCH WITH CENTERVILLE'S MARVIN FISHER

Centerville tops Eagles field; Ross 4th

By BOB MARKER

News-Messenger Sports Editor

Centerville bounced back from a fall from the flu bug a year ago to win the 1982 Eagles Invitational Wrestling Tournament at Ross High School Saturday.

The Elks, ranked number two in the Dayton area coming into the tournament, had been scheduled to be one of the teams in the inaugural event of the tourney, but the flu put a bear hug on Coach Kenny Simmons' team that was unshakeable.

"We wanted to come up here a year ago," the Elks leader said after accepting the championship trophy from Fremont Eagles Lodge leader Rod Lash, "but seven of our kids had the flu and we did not want to come and give it (flu) to the kids up here."

The Elks piled up 161½ points with five individual champions. Runnerup was Troy, the Elks' archrival in the Dayton area. The Trojans claimed three individual titles and 150 points. Third went to Buckeye Conference power Sandusky with 138½ while host Ross was fourth with 108.

Sylvania Northview and Toledo Central Catholic rounded out the six-team field.

"I knew we would have a tough time with Troy," Simmons said. "They were ranked number one in the Dayton area and we were number two and I knew it would be tight. Now we will be number one."

The Centerville coach said he knew Sandusky would have a tough team and that Ross would put a few good individuals on the mat, but other than that, "I did not know what the other teams had," he offered.

The Elks held a 132½ to 125 point edge on Troy going into Saturday night's championship round but Elks' 98-pounder Brian DeCamp stopped Troy's Mike Dehart 7-3 in the final bout to get his team breathing room. After that, the Elks won both of their head-to-head bout with the Trojans to insure the win.

While the Elks were taking the team hardware, Charles Jones of Sandusky walked away with a pair of trophies. The Blue Streaks' 155-pounder was named the "most valuable wrestler" by the six coaches and won the trophy for the most pins in the least amount of time. He had three in nine minutes and 39 seconds.

Ross, with four wrestlers in the championship finals, did not claim an individual title but had three wrestlers finish third to go with the four runnersup.

"We had four in the championships," Ross Coach Al Voggenthaller pointed out, "and that is more than in the past (tournaments this season)."

"We also did not have a 175-pounder but each week we are improving."

Corey Beard lost to Kevin Hogan of Centerville 11-6 in the 126-pound finals for Ross. Other Ross finalists included Rick Heidelberg at 138, a 5-4 loss to Nick Finefrock of Troy, Mike Wendt at 185, an 11-5 loser to Matt Bradley of Centerville and heavyweight Tony Gardner lost to Steve McAdoo of Central Catholic 12-2.

Taking third for Ross were Mark Schmidt at 119, Reggie Parks at 145 and Craig Trick at 155. Taking fourths for the Little Giants were Mel Clark at 112 and Mitch Curliss at 167.

In addition to Jones' title at 155, Sandusky claimed championships at 112 in Neil McCarty and Bill Curley at 175.

Elyria matmen stop Ross

ELYRIA — Ross and Elyria stepped out of line Thursday but the Pioneers walked straight enough to shock the Little Giants 45-23 in a high school wrestling match.

The two teams drew for order of matches. Instead of beginning with the 98-pound match, the heavyweights led off with 126 second, 98 third and so on through the leap-frog arrangement.

The Little Giants had three falls in the contest. Craig Trick pinned Elyria's Greg Bishop at 155 and 185-pounder Mike Wendt flattened the Pioneers' Scott Mackey. Mitch Curliss, wrestling up a weight at 175, pinned Jim Lyons of Elyria.

In a mild upset, Mark Schmidt of Ross used a pair of escapes plus a takedown and a three-point nearfall in the second period to springboard to a 10-8 decision of Denny Trivett in the 119-pound match. Trivett was third in the Buckeye Conference in 1981.

Two falls save Little Giants

Bellevue caught Ross on the rebound but the Little Giants had just enough muscle to bounce past the Redmen 34-29 in a high school dual wrestling match Thursday.

Mike Wendt, 185, and Tony Gardner, heavyweight, turned in first period falls to pull Ross from a 29-22 deficit to the five-point victory.

"It was the same old case," Ross Coach Al Voggenthaler said as he thought back on previous matches against the Redmen, "they caught us coming off the Buckeye Conference Tournament and they were ready to wrestle and we weren't.

"It happens every year. We started sluggish and they were fired up and ready to wrestle but I have to give them credit, they are a much better team than when they were in here last."

Bellevue finished near the bottom in a tournament at Ross this year.

The Little Giants were fresh off a fifth place finish in the BC tourney last Saturday at Sandusky.

Mark Ruffing of Bellevue brought Ross's lone conference champ, Rick Heidelberg, crashing to earth in the 132-pound match. Ruffing surrendered a 5-1 lead to Heidelberg in the first minute of the match but before the period was over, the Bellevue wrestler had a 5-4 lead.

Heidelberg scored only two more points as Ruffing manhandled the Ross junior 16-6.

The turnaround match for the night was in the 145-pound skirmish between Ross' sophomore Reggie Parks and Scott McConnell of Bellevue.

Parks held off a pinning combination by McConnell for 90 seconds of the first period to trail 5-0. He was caught again in the second period and trailed 11-4 going into the final two minutes of the match.

In the final period, Parks scored on a reversal and slapped two cradles on McDonnell for six points and a 12-11 win.

Ross 155-pounder Craig Trick followed with a 3:34 pin on Don Miller and Ross led 22-20.

Bellevue retook the lead on a decision by Tim Ruffing at 167 and John Didion's pin at 175 before Wendt and Gardner took command for Ross.

Wendt stopped Dan Whiting in 65 seconds and Gardner, after trailing 3-2, got a takedown at the 1:30 mark and had the fall five seconds from the end of the first period.

Ross's next outing will be Saturday, Feb. 20, hosting a triangular against Whitmer and St. Francis. Wrestling begins at 7 p.m.

Little Giants win one, lose one

Ross split a double dual wrestling meet with Whitmer and Toledo St. Francis Saturday at Ross High School.

The Little Giants finish the season with a 6-4 mark after downing Whitmer 46-23 and losing to St. Francis 33-16.

Five Little Giants had two wins apiece in the triangular with Craig Trick's 63-second pin against Jeff Preston of Whitmer in the 155-pound match the quickest of the meet for Ross. Trick's other victory was over Mike Osborne of St. Francis 6-2.

Mike Wendt (185), Mark Schmidt (112), Tony Gardner (heavyweight) and Reggie Parks (145) were the other double winners for the Little Giants. Parks, Wendt and Gardner had falls in their wins. Also coming up with a fall for the Little Giants during the evening was Corey Beard, a 1:24 effort over Greg Imes of Whitmer and Rick Heidelberg pinned Ernie Lewis of Whitmer in 4:16 of the 136-pound division.

The triangular closed out the regular season for Ross. This Friday, the Little Giants will be at Mansfield Senior High School to compete in the Class AAA Sectional. The tournament begins at 5 p.m. Friday with Saturday's sessions at noon and 7 p.m.

Giomi named 'AAA' player of year

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Newark Coach Gary Walters says the presence of Mike Giomi, The Associated Press' Class AAA Ohio Player of the Year, is a prime reason for the Wildcats' success in boys basketball games.

"We've won 63 and lost 12 over the last three years with Giomi," Walters said Monday. "He's a great leader."

The 6-foot-9 senior center, headed for Indiana

University, broke seven Newark school records and ranks as the Wildcats' all-time scoring leader with 1,316 points. He shot 61 percent from the field in the last three seasons, earning first-team All-Ohio honors in the last two years.

Art Signore of Columbus Northland, the state's No. 1 ranked power during the season, was named as the AP's Class AAA State Coach of the Year in the boys sport. Signore led the Vikings to a 17-1 regular-season record.

Giomi was the lone player to earn first-team berths on the all-state squad for two years in a row. He edged another big man, 6-9 Keith Wesson of Niles McKinley, for the No. 1 player's award. Wesson, a senior, averaged 20.6 points.

Darrell Dulaney, a 5-11 senior guard from Columbus East, moved up from last year's third all-state squad to the first unit with Giomi and Wesson. They lead an eight-player first team.

Other first-team players were 6-5 Clinton Smith of Cleveland John Adams, 6-1 Rob Barkett of Mansfield Malabar, 6-1 Pepper Bego of Springfield South, 6-4 Steve Cluxton of Wilmington and 6-2 Demetrius Henderson of Cleveland St. Joseph.

All are high-scoring seniors, topped by Cluxton's 27.6 average and a 27.3 mark by Bego.
