The Little Giant golf team had its best round in three years on Wednesday at the Clay Invite TRAC Shootout.

Ross posted an 18-hole score of 365 – its best score in three years, according to coach Jim Scharer – and accomplished a long-term team goal of breaking 370. The Little Giants scored 20 more shots than TRAC rival Toledo Central Catholic.

Zane Rusch

Zane Rusch (86), Cole Druckenmiller (89), and Mike Keegan (100) all shot career-low rounds, while Rusch's front-9 score of 39 is also Ross's lowest nine-hole score in three years.

Braxton White rounded out the scoring with a 90.

"Overall, a great day for the Little Giant boys golf team," Scharer said.

Thursday Ross split a three-way match with Lakota and Northwood. Lakota shot the lowest score of the day, a 169, while Ross posted a 189 and Northwood scored a 204.

Druckenmiller led Ross with a 43, White carded a 46, O'Brien shot 49, and Rusch a 51.

Ross' golfers are back in action Wednesday at the TRAC Championship, at Stoney Ridge, at 1 p.m.
