

1942 Season review...

Life Begins In Earnest For 70 Schoolboys Today

Initial Football Practices Started With 40 Candidates Reporting At Ross High And
30 At St. Joe; Streaks Still Seek Mentor

Life began in deadly earnest for some 70 schoolboys here Tuesday. Football drills got underway at both Ross and St. Joseph's high schools with a two-a-day schedule until classes start September 14, when the training grind will be pared to one session daily.

Some 40 candidates, including 10 lettermen, reported to Coach Legs Binkley at Harmon stadium while 29 boys received equipment from Rev. Albert Sprenger, taking over the St. Joe duties until a coach can be hired.

Except for some slight weeding out and a few casualties along the way, the training routine will continue for the next 11 weeks for these squads, both of which swing into competition the same week school opens.

Two Drills Daily

Mentors at both schools will hold drills at 9 a. m. and 6 p. m., both to get their charges in shape as rapidly as possible and to provide at least one practice a day for students who intend to remain on jobs until the last possible moment.

The Little Giants are drilling at Harmon stadium while the Streaks are holding their initial workouts back of Recreation hall preparatory to switching either to Lutz or Anderson fields.

Rev. Sprenger said efforts were still being made to hire a coach at St. Joseph's, but the school was encountering the same difficulties as other institutions which have found themselves without athletic tutors in this, a war, year. At present Dick Freeh is assisting Rev. Sprenger.

Streaks Listed

The list of candidates reporting to Coach Binkley has already been printed, while those reporting at St. Joe was as follows:

Jim Freeh, Bill Freeh, Dutch Laurer, John Kowaleski, Ed Celek, Steve Celek, Gene Mosser, Len Mosser, Joe Durnwald, Joe Halm, Dick Frederick, Doyle Kusmer, Joe Kusma, Herb Redding, Walt O'Neill, Tom Rich, John Gabel, Art Bruggeman, Dick Leahy, Jim Courtney, Jim Kritzel, Dick Hershey, Bob Parks, Cy Mehling, B. Mehling, Bill Miller, and Don Stang. Bill Heschel and John Mullholand will report later.

The Little Giants play a nine-game schedule and will open here on September 18 against Bellevue. The Streaks have booked eight games and pry off the lid here on September 20 against Genoa.

COACHES FIND DRILLS TOUGH

Mentors Paying Price As Grid Squads Start Blocking Drills Early

Les Binkley, Ross high mentor, and Rev. Albert Sprenger, acting coach at St. Joseph's high, are wasting no time in their football drills this year. Both mentors already have their charges doing a bit of blocking and thus far it is the tutors who are paying the price.

It was a toss-up Thursday morning as to which was the sorriest and stiffest—Coach Binkley or Coach Sprenger. Their boys didn't seem to mind it so much.

Coach Binkley stated that he has had his full squad of 41 candidates working out, a pleasurable surprise to the Little Giant boss who expected some laggards. With the exception of Jim (Whizzer) Wisbon, who is experiencing the horrors of hay fever, all are in good physical condition.

Plan Scrimmages

The Little Giants are doing a bit of blocking and may get their first taste of scrimmage the end of the week. Coach Binkley also revealed that he plans two scrimmages with outside teams before the opener with Bellevue on September 18, but kept the dates and the opponents a carefully guarded secret.

Rev. Sprenger hasn't been as fortunate as his contemporary insofar as attendance is concerned. His squads for morning drills have been small, but 32 of the expected 46 boys were out for the Wednesday evening session. The Streaks are also getting lessons in the rudiments of blocking and are in for several practice tilts as well.

Valuable assistance is being given the acting coach by Dick Freeh, former student manager and junior high cage coach who is home from Detroit while an injured hand heals.

Two-a-day practices will continue in both camps until schools open on September 14.

GRIDDERS HARD AT WORK FOR NEXT WEEKEND

Binkley Satisfied But Squad At St. Joe Is Still Small

Fremont's two schoolboy grid squads are slowly rounding into shape for season openers next weekend, the mentors at Ross and St. Joseph's highs reported Wednesday after Tuesday drills had been slightly curtailed by rain.

Coach Legs Binkley still has a squad of 40 working twice daily at Harmon field and his charges have already had a taste of scrimmage. They looked "as well as expected," the Ross mentor stated. He expects to put them through two practice games before the Bellevue game, here, on September 18, but isn't announcing when. He doesn't want spectators or possible scouting.

Squad Is Small

Jim Marinis, the new coach at St. Joe, is still commuting from Tiffin and his chief trouble is work. Not work connected with football, but work that is keeping his squad down to a skeleton crew.

Many of the Streak gridders are still holding down jobs and his morning drills have been drawing around 16 candidates and the night practices about 19. Nearly 40 boys reported last Sunday to greet the new mentor and he is hopeful of a greatly enlarged squad when classes start next Monday.

Permission has been obtained to practice in the outfield at Anderson field and the Streaks are expected to move out Napoleon street at once.

Rev. Albert Sprenger, school principal, also announced Wednesday that the Streaks' opener with Genoa has been set up a day and will be a night game at Harmon stadium on Saturday, September 19, starting at 8:15 p. m.

LITTLE GIANTS SCRIMMAGED TOLEDO WAITE

Coach Binkley Satisfied With Work Of Squad Wednesday

Coach Legs Binkley put his Little Giant football charges through their first practice game of the year Wednesday evening, a scrimmage against Jack Mollenkopf's Toledo Waite squad at Harmon field.

The Ross first team went through two 30-minute scrimmages against the Waite first squad, both teams scoring a pair of touchdowns, and the second teams engaged in two 20-minute sessions.

The Ross mentor said that he was "satisfied" with the showing made by his Purple squad, but added that plenty of work remains to be done before the opener with Bellevue next Friday night. The right side of the line was a bit weak on the offense, due chiefly to inexperienced material, and he indicated that the coming week would see some shifting of players.

Vets Work Well

Joe Biggs, Harold Fry and Lou Wernig showed up well on the line while Sophomore Jack Frantz gave promise of developing into a good tackle. Dave Brocksieker, calling signals from an end position, did a satisfactory job.

In the backfield Jim Wisbon ran well with the ball while Dick Myers, transposed from a wing berth to that of fullback, was fair on the offense but a bit weak backing up the line. Bob Demmel and Len Brudzinski held down the wingbacks and Pete Michaels and Warren Inks filled the blocking back posts in good shape.

On First Team

The entire team is expected to improve now that they are over the first game jitters. Although an effort was made to keep the game a secret, quite a large gathering of fans was on hand to see the scrimmage.

Coach Binkley used the following boys on his first squad: Brocksieker, Bob Pence and Ed Seils, ends; Biggs, Frantz and Dick Lawrence, tackles; Wernig, Fry and Emmett Mackey, guards; Howard Tiefke and Vince Koebel, centers; Demmel and Brudzinski, wingbacks; Inks and Michaels, blocking backs; Wisbon and Walt Robitski, tailbacks; Myers and Willie Koebel, fullbacks.

ROSS FOOTBALL DUCATS FOR SALE

Tickets for the Little Giant football season are now on sale at Tremper's News Agency, Jackson hotel, Bowlus Smoke Shop, the principal's office at the high school and at the Harmon field box office, Athletic Director Eddie Gabel announced today.

The Little Giants will play five home games and the following admission prices will prevail: adult season tickets, $2.75; student season tickets, $1.10; single admissions, adults, reserve section, 75 cents, adult general admission, 55 cents, students, 30 cents.

Coach Legs Binkley sent his charges through an unexpected practice game with Oak Harbor Friday afternoon with Halfback Bob Demmell emerging as the individual "star." Coach Binkley expects one more practice session against an opponent before the season opens Friday night against Bellevue.

GRID BOSSES BUSY PUTTING IN LAST LICKS

Little Giants Hold Toledo Woodward; St. Joe Starts Scrimmage

One, and possibly two, more days of hard drills were in store for members of Fremont's two scholastic football camps before they trot onto the grid for their initial 1942 games.

Coach Legs Binkley, who sends his eleven against Bellevue at Harmon stadium Friday night, will halt intensive work after the Wednesday practice and the Little Giants will merely warm up Thursday afternoon.

Out at Anderson field, where Jim Marinis is tutoring his first St. Joseph's squad, intensive practice may be carried into Thursday as the Streaks play their lid-lifter Saturday night, also under the Harmon arcs, against Genoa.

Scrimmaged Toledo

The Little Giants scrimmaged Toledo Woodward Tuesday night in their third practice game and, for obvious reasons, Coach Binkley doesn't care to have a great deal said about their appearance. An effort was made to keep the scrimmage a "secret," but several hundred folks were in the stands anyway.

The Purple team, looking quite large in white sweat shirts, functioned well but had the rough spots usual to a squad that hasn't been subjected to game fire. They pushed over a touchdown on the visitors and that was the only score of the game.

It was apparent that the Ross mentor still has a bit of work to do and may be forced to shift a few players around before the season is too old. However, it appeared that he has the material with which to make the shifts. *

Ross-Bellevue Game Friday; St. Joe-Genoa Play Saturday

Both Scholastic Elevens Are Playing
Initial Games Under The Lights At Harmon
Stadium, And Are Favored To Win

The pigskin parade is rounding the block and Fremont fans will get their 1942 preview this weekend. The billing is Ross versus Bellevue Friday night and St. Joseph's versus Genoa, Saturday night. Both games are booked for Harmon stadium and it would be a good idea to get there well in advance of 8 p.m.

Both of the city's scholastic elevens are embarking on the usual schedules. The Little Giants will play nine games, five against Buckeye League schools and five will be home contests. The Crimson Streaks are playing one less and five are booked for the home town.

Purple Has Power

Anything said about the openers is just so many words. Football teams, being what they are, are far more unpredictable than the weather. The most authentic report is that both elevens look like the goods and should start their campaigns on the right foot.

Coach Les (Légs) Binkley has a crew of stalwarts working out for his second Purple varsity and it looks like one of the heavier teams in years. Aside from weight and height, it appears that the Little Giant mentor has both speed and power. Whether he has a smart offense remains to be proved.

Less is known of the St. Joe club where Coach Jim Marinis is, apparently, working wonders. The new tutor impresses one as a fellow who knows his stuff and will put a well-conditioned team on the field, if nothing else.

Players Shifted

But the Streaks appear to have more on this season. For all indications, the line will average 180 pounds and the backfield will scale around 160. Which is a pretty fair-sized high school team.

Marinis has been handicapped by lack of time, but his team is shaping up. He will run his plays from both a single and a double wing-back from behind a balanced line.

He has made several changes, such as shifting Joe Kusma from a tackle to end and Bill Bissell from a tackle to a defensive tackle. Maybe meaning little on paper, but a lot otherwise. He has spotted weaknesses in past St. Joe teams and is out to plug the holes.

With the Little Giants opening Friday night, the chief interest today is in them. The probable starting lineup tomorrow night will average 165 pounds on the line and 150 pounds in the backfield. Sounds a trifle light and probably is, but that is what the figures say.

Rodmen Use Air

It will be an all-veteran line, with Dave Brockleeker and Len Brudzinski at the ends; Joe Biggs and Bob Pence at tackles; Los Wernig and Harold Fry at guards and Howard Tieke at center.

In the backfield will be Pete Michaels, Jim Wilson, Bob Demmer and Jim Myers, converted end, but don't be surprised if Willie Koebel sees plenty of service. Brockleeker will call the signals from a flank position.

Bellevue is expected to shoot plenty of passes at the Little Giants and, in practice, skirmishes so far, this is one form of attack on which the Robsons have appeared weak. The blocking hasn't been of the best, but there is little doubt but that it will improve.

The team packs plenty of punch with Wernig and Demmer supplying the speed and Koebel, when he is there, the punch. Michaels is a dependable blocker.

The opener Friday night should supply the answers to any questions Coach Binkley and the public may have.

SHOW PLENTY OF POWER IN OPENING ROMP

Trio Of Sophomore Backs Promise To Push Veterans Hard

A Ross high football team that gave promise of developing into a gridiron juggernaut, started rolling at Harmon stadium Friday night when it crushed Bellview, 47 to 6, in the football opener for both schools.

A crowd that was slightly anxious than excited for the lid-lifter, considering the balmy evening, but which was probably won over by the performance of Lee Binkley's second Little Giant eleven in action and what they saw about the game.

The Little Giants played well things pretty much their own way from the start. They simply won, drove, up the field and when they got the ball and were faced to punt, they did it with a bang.

Waste Little Motion

The touchdown drives were of varying lengths, but all were of that order, and on none of the times did it take many plays to score. The first one, on the 10th, came on a long play. That was the first one in the second stanza when Bob Demmel took the ball to the 40, drove up, reversed, went around his own left end and went 31 yards for a touchdown.

In the third period, Dave Koenig tossed a 27-yard aerial to Dave Brockskeer, who took it on the 10th and ran it in. The second was of the way. The other scores came on hard, vicious thrusts of shorter distances.

The game doesn't make a season, but four boys shared in the record of touchdowns and fifth, Robitski piled up points of yardage. Pete Michaels booted three perfect placekicks for the extra points, and the other two and Robitski the other one.

Funnel Costs

The Rossmen's star, Michaels, kicking to Sanders on the Bellevue 22 and the ball was downed on the 10th, was the first to be felled. Harold Fry recovered and the stage was set for the first score.

John Myers, who had led the drive for the first score, when he came about three minutes of play when Myers took the ball on the 10th and ran it in. The ball was in the center of the Bellevue line. Michaels converted. It took the team just 10 plays to travel the 22 yards.

A fumble that Brockskeer pounced upon on the Bellevue 37 set the stage for the second again. A Wilson to Brockskeer pass set the seven yards. Myers picked up 12 yards on a play that circled right and the nine and then Myers swung into action. On three plays he went over the last line and the Rossmen were converted.

Score Through Air

Bellevue was unable to gain and Sanders was unable to get out-of-bounds on his own 35. Wilson picked up four yards and then Demmel took the ball on the 10th and went around left end for 31 yards and the score. Michaels booted the point after.

After the kick-off Bellevue was again forced to punt, after Ed Sells had picked up the ball and Robitski took the ball on the 21. On the 28 and later Wilson's one punt went out on the 21 and 21. On the second play after the punt, Redd fumbled and again Fry recovered and was on the 34.

The Little Giants got the ball to the nine, with Koehel taking the ball and four of five plays, as the quartered Koehel, had the ball. After the intermediate and three plays later was over again with the conversion.

The last scoring drive started on the Fremont 38, where Inks intercepted a Redd punt, jiving the ball, with the latter going over from the five. Demmel made good on the conversion.

In the last two minutes of play Bellevue opened up with a passing attack, but the Rossmen held on to the Fremont 46, where the game ended.

The statistics best tell the one-sided story of the game, but what was heartening to Little Giant followers was the way they played, the sureness with which the players handled the ball. These things and the way with which the crew of sophomores performed.

THREE SCORES COME IN FIRST FIVE MINUTES

Myers And Wisbon Big Guns As Team Opens League Play

Striking with a first period and scoring three touchdowns before the game was five minutes old, Ross high's Little Giants went on to a 35-7 victory over Fremont, 39 to 6, in a Buckeye league game here last night.

A Little Giant generalship set up the first score before some of the spectators had stopped talking to their neighbors while a pair of Tiffin punts pinned the visitors for the next two. Folks that arrived a bit late missed the fireworks, it exploded so quickly.

The game opened with Tiffin kicking off and Bud Inks took the ball from his own 15 to the 32 before Inks was tackled. On the first play Inks shot a pass to End, Dave Brocksieker, who took it on the Tiffin 35 and was up to the eight when he was tackled and fumbled.

Punishes Costly

With a bit of luck, Brocksieker would have gone over as the play was being run down the field. As it was, Dick Myers crashed over for the initial score two plays later. Michael's try from placement was low.

Junior Order chose to receive and Edwards fumbled when tackled so Inks got the ball and Brocksieker fell over the oval. On the first play Jim Wisbon tore around his own left end and, behind good blocking, scored his second again. This time Michael's kick was good.

Again Tiffin received and on the first play Edwards fumbled once more and Michael's recovered on the 34. Wisbon opened the way with a 19 yard jaunt around end and two plays later Myers went through a hole on the 10 for the third touchdown. Michael's kick was wide this time.

After this rapid-fire scoring the visitors settled down and played better football and started a drive down the field. They took the ball from their own 31, where Edwards was downed on the kick-off, to the Fremont four where a pass attack finished and Fremont took the ball on downs.

The Little Giants marched straight down the field, not even a quarter intermission stopping them, until Willie Koebel again crossed the goal but this time the ball was downed on the 10 and it was penalized 15 yards and it effectively stopped the drive.

After the initial scoring fury, the Little Giants settled down to hard football and scored once in each of the last three periods, chiefly on straight football, mixing power plays with end sweeps. Bob Demmel started the fourth scoring burst when he intercepted a pass on the Tiffin 47 and Myers swung into action. No one else took the ball and the big fullback covered the distance, getting five yards for off-sides, on seven plays. He went over in the last minute of the game.

Myers, Wisbon Team

A poor punt that rolled dead on the Fremont 23 in the third period was recovered by Inks, who, with Wisbon and Myers again carrying the brunt and the final tally climaxed a 37 yard drive. Wisbon got the ball to be sure. Myers covered the necessary ground in five plays.

Myers and Wisbon, senior backs, were the big boys last night, the sophomore backs who ran wild against Bellevue finding the opportunity to play only a bit last week. Both played a bang-up game and received plenty of help from their teammates.

Although the left side of the Fremont line appeared a bit weak, it outcharged Tiffin and time and again Jim Biggs and Demmel passed through the path runners before they got started.

The Fremont passing game also showed a lack of polishedness and had Brocksieker not able to hang on to several passes on which he had his hands the score might have been even higher.

ROSSMEN PLAY AT FINDLAY IN LOOP GAME

Both Teams May Experience Trouble In Keeping Slate Clean

Undefeated thus far this season and each with two victories under their belts, Fremont's two scholastic football machines will go into action again tonight and both may find they have quite a fight on their collective hands.

St. Joe's Crimson Streaks, with visions over Genoa and Norwalk of Paul's, will bask in the local spotlight, providing the only home game of the week-end, as they meet Lakeside under the Harmon stadium arc lights.

The Ross Little Giants, victors over Bellevue and Tiffin Junior Order, trek to Findlay for a Buckeye league game and the loop leadership hangs in the balance. It is the first full week-end schedule for the scholastic circuit and the race should be pretty well shaped up after the hostilities end.

Besides the Fremont-Findlay game, Tiffin Columbian and Bowling Green clash while Fostoria plays its first league tilt, meeting the Tiffin Juniors.

May Have Trouble

On paper, the Streaks should win handily tonight but Coach Jim Marinis has his misgivings. He feels that over-confidence was largely responsible for holding the score in the St. Paul game to two touchdowns and admitted the other day that he wasn't too pleased with the attitude of some of his regulars.

A quartet of starters took a holiday from classes, occasioned by heating trouble, at face value and failed to show up for a three-hour drill that Marinis had scheduled. He intimated that he wasn't too happy over their absence and that, unless they buckled down to hard work, some changes would be made in his lineup.

The Streaks will have a heavy pull in the weights over tonight's opponents but the Lakeside eleven presents something of a puzzle. They were defeated last week by Gibsonburg, but the score was only 13 to 0, and the previous week the Gibsonburgers played a 6 to 6 stalemate with Bowling Green, a class A club.

Coach Marinis intends to start the same team that has taken the field in the last two encounters and registered 41 points to opponents' seven.

Tough Assignment

The Little Giants face the hardest task tonight in wrenching the Buckeye league leadership away from the Trojans, who claim an even break in two games. They had little trouble in defeating Bee Gee and flashed a fine pair of backs in Gene Slough and Barnes.

Coach Legs Binkley has stressed all week that the Trojans will be tough and have a hard-driving offense which, once given a chance, can run an enemy team into the ground. He also recalls the trouble Ross had last year in defeating a supposedly weak Findlay team, 14 to 13.

There is little doubt but that the game will be the first real test of Little Giant power and it must be there. After tonight's game the team plays Fostoria in another league tilt and then meets Sandusky and Tiffin Columbian handrunning.

Jim Wisbon, who scored three touchdowns last week, is limping on a sore toe and may not be a starter. If he remains on the bench, the job of filling his shoes will go to Walt Robitski, hard-punching sophomore. Other than this one change, the same boys who started last week will get the call against the Trojans.

Both games are scheduled to start at 8 p. m.

AERIAL GAME FAILS; TROJANS RALLY TO WIN

Findlay Scores Twice In Final Period As Breaks Hurt Rossman

The bubble was burst over in Findlay Friday night by a vastly under-rated hard driving team devours the Little Giants are no longer among the unbeatened teams in the schoolboy ranks.

The final score was 13 to 6 and the Trojans won the hard way, after giving up a 10-0 lead in the last period touchdowns after giving as good as they received in a nine year history. Findlay had first time in seven years Findlay had defeated Fremont.

From the spectators standpoint, but a tough one on Fremont fans. The breaks at the end of the game were part in its outcome, and they all seem to go against the Purple and gold players. Then there was all the first half to go along and just when the single wing drive started one of the players cast them 65 yards.

The Purple and gold seemed able to stop everything the Trojans had but Halfback Gene Slough, and that's why they lost the game, although a gamble that was the wrong way was highly instrumental.

Goal Line Stand

The Fremont team played hard driving and at times had touches of brilliance, but at the same time they didn't play as good as they could. At times they resorted to a passing attack that didn't click and it paved the way for the Purple and gold.

The game started with Findlay receiving and the Little Giants excepting the ball. In the first period with play largely in their territory.

In the second quarter the Trojans drove to the Fremont 14 where Halfback Fry dropped the man on the ball. Slough scored the fourth down. On the first play Fremont got a first down and 10 yards and on the second Dick Myers shot a short pass over the center of the line to the Fremont 28 the latter raced in the Findlay 28 the ball being tackled.

It was the officials ruled that Myers was in motion before he received the ball, the play was called back and the ball was dropped and a penalty. That effectively nipped the threat and Jim Wilson finally punted the ball.

Make Long Drive

The Trojans couldn't gain and had to punt the ball to the Fremont 11 ball was down on the nine end from where Wilson circled his right end and a fine block by Myers, for the score.

Pete Michale's try from place-kick was good and the upights and the score was 6 to 0.

Late in the period the Trojans started to move and when they reached the field down to the Fremont five and a first down. But the Little Giants had a first down and Len Brudzinski breaking through to halt Slough and Fremont took the ball in his own six after a gallant stand.

Game and Loss

This is the score: they chose to gamble—and lost. On the second down Stegman lost. On the third down Stegman lost. On the fourth down Stegman lost. And although the Rossman battled valiantly with their last gasp, the same pass they had scored the first time was good and the upights with Wilson throwing a long one to Brudzinski who caught it on the Findlay 23—and then dropped it.

They worked the ball to the 20 and the ball was down on the 15 and again Brudzinski nabbed it but couldn't hang on, this time on the 21 and he accepted the next aerial on the 20.

Myers Spares

With the ball to play Slough intercepted another pass on his own 45 and got up to the Fremont 30 and the ball was ruled out and from there he and Barnes just punched their way good and although the ball was hung on the 20 the ball was down on the 15.

Findlay kicked off, the ball going out on the Fremont 40, with a bit over 10 minutes to play but the best that a desperate aerial attack could do was hug the leather to the Findlay 40 as a first down.

Outstanding back for the Little Giants was Dick Myers, who was sure to be under pressure for nine gains and was a beator at backing up a line that played a great job.

In the first half when the Little Giants stuck to power, they rained up seven first downs. In yards to Findlay's four and 39. In

INVADERS ARE EXPECTED TO GIVE TROUBLE

Michaels Lost For Important League Clash Here Tonight

The Fremont-Fostoria athletic rivalry, which has been growing more intense of late, will be renewed on the grid here this week-end with plenty of action packed into two engagements.

The Ross high Little Giants and the Fostoria Redmen clash in a Buckeye league game at Harmon stadium Friday night and the St. Joe Crimson Streaks meet the Fostoria St. Wendelin's at the same location Sunday afternoon.

Taking one game at a time and starting with the Friday night encounter, it promises to be something of a game. To start with, the visitors will be fighting for a share of the loop lead which they now hold with Findlay and Tiffin Columbian.

Have Good Record

The latter two clubs will also be battling, adding incentive to the Redmen's efforts. A victory would keep them at the top of the pile with the perch undoubtedly less crowded. For the same reason the Little Giants will be striving to better their .500 percentage mark and keep in striking distance of the pace-setters.

The Redmen started out a bit green this season without much seasoned material, but from the litter of candidates Coach Ike Trubey has fashioned a team with a heavy line and, apparently, plenty of drive.

After taking St. Wendelin's, 6 to 0, the Fostorians played Lima South to a scoreless deadlock and then came through with a 20 to 6 victory over Junior Home in their first Buckeye contest. The three games have revealed that the Redmen have not one, but four, scoring possibilities that must be watched.

Woodland a Threat

One is Stoddard, whom football followers here remember from last year. The others are Bennett, Woodland, a newcomer who hits the line hard, and Imber. All are definite threats and a defense cannot be planned to stop just one man.

A victory for the Little Giants would assure them of at least a tie for second place. Should Columbian defeat Findlay, the latter team would also claim a two and one record along with Fremont. If the Trojans should win, Fremont would be alone in the runner-up spot.

The Little Giants suffered an unexpected defeat last week and still appear much stronger than Findlay. Well aware of this fact, Coach Legs Binkley has been drilling his charges all week to correct the faults that brought about the downfall and his team should hit the Redmen on the rebound.

Michaels Out

Coach Binkley will be forced to make one change in his usual starting lineup as Pete Michaels, blocking back, is still out with a shoulder injury suffered early in the game with Findlay. In his place Bud Inks will start and it is

ROSS HARRIERS LOSE TO WAITE

Plainly showing the need of more practice, the Ross high cross-country team — which started drills only this week — dropped an 18 to 45 decision to Toledo Waite on the latter's two-mile course Thursday.

Don Druckenmiller paced the Little Giant harriers, finishing third in 11 minutes and 21 seconds, 34 seconds behind Stewart and 21 seconds behind Armstrong, both of Waite. He was the only Fremont to place among the first seven, all that counted in the scoring.

Bill Berger was the next Fremont to finish, pulling in ninth in 11:47 and trailed by Norm Feighner, 11th in 11:48; Jack Williamson, 12:34; Dell Weller, 12:45, and Irvin Abney, 12:57.

The cross-country runners will race against Mansfield in a run here at 10:30 a. m., Saturday.

possible that he and Bob Demmel will switch backfield assignments.

It is not a weak foe that the Little Giants are meeting and the game will call for 48 minutes of hard, heads-up football.

As an added attraction, two teams picked from the Junior high squad will meet in a preliminary at 7 p. m.

HUBER TO SHOOT AT YACHT CLUB

The Fremont Yacht Club will hold another one of its weekly trapshoots on the range near the clubhouse Sunday afternoon and, with good weather, one of the largest crowds to ever attend one of the affairs is expected.

Among the competitors will be C. E. Huber of Tiffin, who recently won the out-of-state championship of Texas in a shoot at Houston, breaking 198 out of a possible 200 targets. He also tied two Texans for the state championship, but being from Ohio was unable to share the honor.

Several other well-known scatter-gun artists will also compete along with the top gunners of the city.

Southern Cal will outweigh the Buckeyes slightly but promises to be just as speedy. Several track stars are members of the coast club.

MYERS SPARKS COMEBACK BY THREE SCORES

Rossman Hold Big Advantage In Yardage And First Downs

The Little Giants barged back into the thick of the Buckeyes league pennant series night by night, 33 to 27. A defeat to the Fostoria Redmen in a game more lopsided than the score would indicate.

In one way, it was the worst night Fostoria ever administered a Fostoria team by a Fremont eleven. The previous top was 27 to 0 and if you look only at the offensive side of the game, the effort was better. The same is true of the figures. In the statistic column, the Fostoria team registered 15 first downs to 5 and rolled up 340 yards in scrimmage to 88. Big Dick Myers led the assault on the Rossman Redmen, playing one of the best games of his career as he ripped through holes in the Fostoria line and never was stopped short of some gain. The only consecutive plays he scored three of the six touchdowns and piled up plenty yardage loss by other backs.

Although the Little Giants won by a comfortable margin, some fault could be found with their game. There were numerous times when they didn't play smart football, and there were other times when their attack bogged completely, noticeably in the third period.

During the first half the Fremont line, especially the left side, played rings around the visitors and the work of Joe Biggs, Harold Fry and Howard Teffe was outstanding on the defensive. Time and again they swarmed through to make yardage losses.

Score Is Oversight

Fostoria really offered little opposition after an opening kick. The ball had been running backs, but the line was weak. That one touchdown shouldn't have happened and came as the result of an offside. The ball was out of the hands of Bud Inks, playing in the place of the injured Pete Michaels. Bud allowed a Fostoria pass receiver to get around him and that was the pay-off.

As said before, Myers was the individual offensive star of the game. He had the ball in his hands when the Little Giants got the ball, after Fostoria had received the opening kickoff and marched 50 yards to the Fremont 30, he scored the third time he took the ball.

He had a 40-yard run to the Fremont 49 that he slipped through tackle and was away, 51 yards to a touchdown. Bob Demmel placed the ball on the end.

Late in the same period he was away again, this time from the Fostoria 45, and was halted on the 19 by a 40-yard run by Jim Wisbon. Jim Wisbon, who had an all-around had night, fumbled and Fostoria recovered to half this scoring time.

Tally On Pass

Early in the second stanza Bennett punted out on the Fremont 45 and Demmel got the ball on a down sweep and just 10 yards to score as Bud Inks took out the only man who might have stopped him. Demmel's placement was in line.

The second score of the period started when Wisbon nailed a Stoddard pass on the 50 and ran up to the 10. On two plays Wille Koehel made it first down on the 23 and then Wisbon faded back and shot a pass to Demmel, who had a 20-yard run in the five and stepped across the goal line. Demmel's kick was good and it was 20 to 0.

The Little Giants had punched to the Fostoria five again when the half halted play and after the intermission the attack went into high gear after it had rolled up 200 yards from scrimmage in two periods.

Gruber recovered a fumble on the Fremont 45 early in the play and the Redmen had the ball in the field to the 10. Fry and Teffe stopped one try, another made a yard and then Teffe nailed Stoddard with a 20-yard run to the 10. On a down and eight, Mel Bennett sent a short pass which Bob Imber caught over the goal line for a score.

Demmel Thinks Fast

Fremont lost the ball on down on the Fostoria 33 as the third period began. Bennett had a 40-yard short punt to Wille Koehel on the 41 and he was downed on the 27. From here Myers, a bit tired be-

CLYDE, Oct. 16.—With Half-back Rol Baker scoring five touchdowns the Clyde high Flyers romped to a 52 to 8 victory over Green Springs Friday afternoon, their second win of the season over the Bobcats.

The Bobcats' only points came in the final stanza.

RAIN DISTINCT ADVANTAGE TO HEAVIER TEAM

5 Rossmen Who Made History Last Year Are In Starting Lineup

Sandusky high's Blue Streaks held another club over the heads of the Little Giants on the eve of their traditional battle—the threat of wet weather and a soggy gridiron.

With Strobel field already soaked with more than 36 hours of rain, and indications pointing to more, the weight advantage that the Streaks will hold loomed bigger and bigger. From 15 to 20 pounds a man is plenty on a dry field. On slippery terrain it is almost doubled.

While Sanduskians were shaking their heads doefully and Streak mentors were bursting forth with bear stories and predicting the Little Giants would win by at least two touchdowns, their baleful predictions weren't being backed up by the smart money. The ordinance checks were reported to be going down on the Streaks—and with few takers.

At Usual Strength

Coach Legs Binkley brought drills to a close here yesterday afternoon with a brisk signal practice and a few last-minute instructions and then took his charges out for a brief evening's relaxation at the cinema. From now until after the game it is strictly up to them.

Despite the loss of Pete Michaels, still out with a banged-up shoulder, the Rossmen aren't weakened to any extent. Warren Inks, his understudy, did a good job of filling his shoes last week and while he may not be quite as good as a blocker, adds another passing threat to the offensive.

The Ross mentor is gambling that Don Perry, sophomore guard, will strengthen the right side of the line which appeared to be weak in spots against Fostoria last week. The youngster has looked good in practice scrimmages.

Last year, when Coach Binkley put his first Little Giant team on the field, they ma'd modern gridiron hi'ory here by beating the Streaks, 14 to 7. This is the first Fremont victory in 16 years, since 1925, and only a tie in 1930 had marred the Sandusky supremacy.

The Little Giants won last year by battling the Streaks to a standstill and then uncorking a bit more fire and punch than their opponents had. They scored twice in the second period and held the Sanduskians scoreless until the final frame.

Five of the 14 players who turned in that victory last year will be in the starting line-up tonight. They are Co-Captains Howard Tiefke and Jim Wisbon, Dick Myers, Joe Biggs and Dave Brockleker. Those boys know how it was done and should be able to steer their teammates onto the victory trail again.

6,000 Fans See Typical Fremont-Sandusky Game Friday Night

An estimated 6,000 fans, second largest crowd of the season at Strobel stadium, saw a typical Fremont-Sandusky game Friday night. A hard-fought game that followed the all too familiar pattern of the Streaks punched out a 13 to 6 win.

A well-coached team, featuring speed and deception that had the Little Giants off balance at least three quarters of the game, struck twice in the first period and once in the second, for two points on a safety in the third.

Fremont's lone score came after five consecutive plays in the final stanza, the only quarter in which they looked like the club that had rolled over in the early days. They were still driving at the finish, punting 31 yards to their own 33 as the game ended.

Winnings No Time.

The Streaks tallied their touchdowns on straight football and don't seem to be able to punt. They took the opening kick-off and marched 61 yards down the field, but were stopped on a fourth tackle from the one for the first one.

This took just a bit less than five minutes and when Fremont was unable to gain after the kickoff, the Streaks were forced to punt, the Streaks took the ball on their own 27 and rolled down the field again. Dick Marshall scoring from the 10.

The safety came about midway in the third period, which was all play for the Streaks. Marshall had gotten off one of his long punts that rolled dead on the 33. The Streaks had a two-yard gain. Wilson fumbled a punt from center, it rolled behind the goal line and he was tackled there by the Little Giants. Sandusky players when he tried to pick it up.

Tiffin Sets Major

Fremont had the same early in the final frame when Sandusky had the ball on the Fremont 33. Wilson fumbled a punt from Freitas and was out in the clear, headed for the Sandusky goal. Wilson recovered it for him and he stumbled and fell on the Sandusky 18.

With the ball at the 18, one of the game's with a bad shoulder, the load fell on the sophomore shoulders of Wilson and it took him five plays to lug it across the line for the score. Pete Michel's place-kick for the score, was wide.

It was a bitter, bruising battle as all Fremont-Sandusky games are, but the Streaks had a lead about as lop-sided as the statistics indicate. The Streaks made 19 first downs to the Little Giants' 5, 190 yards from scrimmage to 129 and added another 41 to Fremont's 19 to end the air game.

They also had a decided edge on punts, with 12 to 2. Sandusky's five averaged 26 1/2 yards. Make Stands

Although the Little Giants' spinners, reverse and spot passes completely foiled the Little Giants the first half, the Streaks looked their best on the defense.

After those two powerhouse drives, the Streaks' defense, once inside the 10-yard line, took the ball on the two, and another time held its own, made the four-yard march to the winning stop less than a foot from pay dirt. They held for several down in the final period, but the Streaks on the two successful marches as well.

Big Biggs, Center Howard Tiefke and Guard Harold Frys were the lads who stood out, making the Streaks' defense, the heavy Sandusky forwards continually outchargeted the Rose line.

It was offensively that the Little Giants failed to impress. Dick Myers carried the brunt for nearly 100 yards, but he had a bad shoulder that was sore before the game started, and Wilson, who was the only ground-gainer after,

Linn Plays Fall

Although the Linn Indians tried five passes and completed two, a pair of them, both incomplete, gave the fans a smile. They failed to do a decent job, plunking a heavy line virtually all evening.

The Indians undoubtedly was responsible for the big difference in yardage. The Streaks were never once able to move beyond a seven-man line all evening.

Some end runs were tried and some were successful, but they did not float to the outside when openings were seen, but all too few of them. It was mostly Big, Biggling, who did that cornering, but until it felt the strain late in the game, he was able to do any good.

LITTLE GIANTS MUST WIN TO STAY IN RACE

Myers And Miller Lost For Game That Looms As Toss-Up

Fremont Ross and Tiffin Columbians will engage in the only Buckeye League game of the weekend here Friday night, the last game at Harmon stadium until the season's finale with Toledo Scott on November 6.

Aside from its importance in the circuit standings, it will also be Mom and Dad's night insofar as the Little Giants are concerned. Fathers of the players will sit on the bench, each wearing his son's number while the mothers will be seated in a group in the stands, each sporting a 'mum. After the game, players and their parents and the coaching staff will enjoy a luncheon in the school cafeteria.

Still holding a mathematical chance of winning the league championship and an even better one of tying for it, the Little Giants will be out not only to protect that slim possibility, but also to avenge an unexpected 19 to 6 licking absorbed last year.

Myers Is Out

That the game will be one of the toughest on the Ross schedule is a foregone conclusion. The Columbians have always been difficult for Fremont and on top of that two regulars and a first-string substitute will be missing.

Dick Myers, who has piled up most of the yardage in the past couple of games, will be out with an injured shoulder while Pete Michaels, who recovered from a shoulder injury only to get kicked in the hip last week, will see only limited service, if any. Wendell Miller, sub guard, is also out with a dislocated elbow suffered in practice.

The Columbians will bring a big team here, sparked by Reggie Drew, a short, squat and burly fullback who has spearheaded their attack this season. An excellent line plunger, Drew can also circle the ends and is on the tossing end of an aerial attack that features short heaves to Shatzman, a fine end and receiver.

Visitors Heavy

Again the Ross line will be on the right side of the weights and has its work cut out. A heavy field, such as appears more than a possibility, will also be in the visitors' favor.

Coach Legs Binkley has been forced to revamp his starting line-up and has two backfields ready. If the game opens with the Little Giants receiving, it will be Walt Robitski, Jim Wishon, Warren Inks and Willie Koebel operating behind the line. If the Rossmen take the offensive, Demmel will replace Robitski.

Either Bob Pence or Lou Werning will start at a right guard, also depending on how the game gets underway.

On the record there is little to choose between the two elevens. The Columbians have won two, lost two and tied one. The Little Giants have won three and lost a pair. Findlay downed the Columbians, 13 to 7, and had a one point better edge on Ross, 13 to 6.

A victory for Fremont will assure them of second place and a tie for the title if Findlay loses to either junior Order or Fostoria. Should they lose both games a victory tonight would give the Little Giants the title as Bowling Green, one remaining foe, doesn't figure to be very tough.

Possible starting line-ups for the 11 m. tilt are as follows:

Fremont	Tiffin
Brockicker	LE	Felton
Biggs	LT	Wertz
Fry	LG	McKillip
Tiecke	C	Greek
Perry	RG	Howell

PASS BRINGS TOUCHDOWN IN FIRST PERIOD

Brocksieker Rambles
75 Yards To Score;
Michaels Adds Goal

Striking once through the air when the game was still in its opening stages and adding a field goal in the closing minutes of the third quarter, the Little Giants handed Tiffin a come-up 10 to 0 loss in Buc-ee League games in Harmon stadium Friday night.

A disappointing Mom and Dad's night crowned the season of the season for the Rossman turtle their next to last league obstacle and chalk up their fourth victory in six starts this year.

The game opened with Tiffin kicking to Fremont, but three plays gained but seven yards and Jim Wilson punted to the visitors' 17. Tiffin couldn't gain either and on the third down punted back. Wilson let the ball get away from him and Walt Koehel secured it at the 18, eight and was back on the 17 when downed.

Score Pass

Again, great play failed but the Little Giants never failed to sense it last night and on the second play Koehel faded back and shot a short pass to End Dave Michaels, who gathered it in on the 23 and scampered 75 yards for the score.

Pete Michaels, still nursing a hip injury, went in and place-kicked the extra point.

It was fortunate that the Little Giants got off to a start in the balance of the game with bitterly fought. Neither team could gain consistently, although Koehel, who carried the ball with Dick Myers out of the game, tipped off some nice yardage.

Fumble Help

Neither team really threatened until late in the third stanza when a Fremont punt was downed on the Tiffin 25 and on the second play Stevens fumbled. Len Brudzinski snatched the bounding

Bob Demmel picked up three yards and on a fake reverse Koehel plunged through the line for 16 yards to the 11. He made six yards on three plays and then with fourth down and four to go, Michaels scored.

With Demmel holding the ball on the 10, Michaels booted a perfect field goal from a slight angle to the left of the 10. It was his first attempt at a field goal this season.

Few First Downs

The punting of Wertz was instrumental in keeping the Little Giants bottled up as his boots averaged 42 yards, including a short one-off. The punting of Koehel Tiffin had the edge in this department. Wilson's six kicks averaging but 29 yards, although Walt Roberts' 47 away from that averaged 47 yards.

The game was so closely fought that only the first downs were registered, four on the Fremont side, and the winners gained but 94 yards from the scrimmage to the losers' 110.

Fullback Reg Drew was kept pretty well bottled up all evening and only on two occasions did he get away to gain any yardage. The rest of the forward work appeared much improved over last week.

It was a Little Giant team that held doggedly on defense and showed a more varied attack than at any time since the Fosterians gave them a scare for the important victory which kept them still in the running for the title. For the first time in several weeks they lived up to the promise they made with their fast start that season.

Standing out defensively were Brocksieker, Michaels, and Howard Tiecke, a trio that managed a large number of plays before they got started or sifted through numerous times to drop the ball carriers. Of the three, Tiecke was perhaps the best.

MYERS, DEMMEL LEAD ATTACK ON WEAK CATS

Len Brudzinski Races
60 Yards After Intercepting Bee-Gee Pass

The Little Giants tamed the Bowling Green Bobcats, 33 to 6, Thursday night to wind up their Buckeye league schedule with a record of four victories and one defeat and today were in a choice spot should Findlay falter in its last two games.

The Cards didn't need a whole lot of taming. Minus the husky line of last year and without the services of Ronnie Waugh and Fred Lewis, both all-league selections, they had little in the way of weight and nothing offensively except a wide open passing attack that made no secret of its intentions.

The Little Giants scored in the first two minutes of play and although they were but one point ahead for a short time, were never seriously pressed. The score could probably have been double what it was if the boys had seriously tried to run it up.

Despite the fact that both teams made 10 first downs and the Bobcats chalked up 169 yards on passes, the game was never much of a contest. Fremont had too much on the line and too much on the ball.

Capitalize on Breaks
Three of Bowling Green's first downs came on penalties and three on passes. They finished up with a net gain of but 16 yards from scrimmage to the Rossmen's 23 and, except for brief flashes that soon died out, were never a factor.

A fumble set up Fremont's first touchdown and another bobble paved the way for a later one. An intercepted pass was responsible for a third and the other two came on sustained marches, both featured by nice gains on passes and end runs.

Dick Myers and Bob Demmell shared scoring honors, each with a pair of touchdowns, and Len Brudzinski accounted for the other

Nap Costs Score

The Bobcats lone score came early in the second period when aided by penalties, they went from their own 38, with passes gaining the most ground. The scoring touch was a heave from Ross Barr to Mack Miller, who took it on the goal line when the Fremont secondary took a short nap. It was good for 16 yards and should never have happened.

The game opened with Fremont kicking to Bowling Green and on the third play Mack Miller fumbled and Dave Brocksieker recovered on their 29. Jim Wilson and Dick Myers lugged the ball 18 yards on three plays and then took it three more times, finally going over from the one. Michael converted.

That was all the scoring, a quick kick by Miller that caught Robbie ski far down the field and went 67 yards to the Fremont eight, being the chief reason. Shortly after Barr entered the games and the Bobcats took to the air from a wide-open formation that told what was coming, and made the score.

Sophs Show Punch

Fremont's second touchdown drive started in the second period when Warren Inks lugged the kick-off from the 20 to the 4 and an all-sophomore backfield punched to the 49. Willie Koehne then passed to Brocksleier, who was downed on the Bowling Green 29, and on the next play Bob Michaels skirted his own left end and crossed the goal line standing up. Michaels split the uprights with his kick.

Another fumble recovered by Myers on the 23 set the stage for the next second period score. Myers picked up eight on two tries through the line, Wistow added six more and then cut inside left tackle to go the rest of the way. Michaels' place kick was good.

After a scoreless third period that saw Fremont lose the ball on downs on the Bobcat seven and the enemy turn around and drive

What was booked as a breath-er before the Toledo Scott game, may prove to be anything but that, Coach Legs Binkley warned his Little Giant cohorts today.

The Rossmen take their last road trip of the ever-shortening campaign tonight, meeting the Norwalk Mapleleafs on the Huron county grid and they will be facing a team with a big line, including a pair of 200-pound tackles. A team that has steadily improved since the start of the season.

While the Leafs cannot point to much of a record this year, they have knocked off some pretty fair clubs, winning the Little Big Four championship, and two weeks ago bumped previously unbeaten Port Clinton, 33 to 25, holding them scoreless until the final period.

The game will be the eighth on a nine-game schedule for the Little Giants and is needed if the team is to hang up its cleats with a good record. At present the tally is five and two.

Coach Binkley said his team was in good physical shape and that he did not expect to make any changes in the starting lineup. Indications were that a goodly following of home town fans would be on hand for the game which is scheduled for 7:45 p. m.

WISBON, MYERS SPARK TEAM IN EASY WIN

Former Makes Touchdown Gallops Of 78
And 51 Yards Friday

Turning on the power just about whenever they felt like it and running like the wind over every much, the Little Giants romped to a 31 to 7 victory over Norwalk last night on the latter's field.

As was the case against Bowling Green last week, the Norwalk coaches have run the numbers, but had they had a mind to. They'd get a score in their coat and then on most of their covers in the second and fourth quarters.

Norwalk, Little Big Four chimpions, were outmanned, but they were out-manned. The Fremont line was too big and charged too hard. The Norwalk backs, especially Binkley's two backfields, one an all-sophomore combine, were too fast and shifty to hold for long.

Wisbon Sparked

Jim Wisbon and Dick Myers sparkled on offense, and Wisbon, in eight starts with the former looking especially good. In fact, it was the Wisbon-Myers game that the team had, and he turned in touch-down gallops of 78 and 51 yards.

Norwalk kicked to Fremont and the Little Giants took advantage

NO STATISTICS
You can score football games, can up and down the sidelines and keep statistics. That is the way a sports writer does football games at Norwalk high's field, hence there are no statistics on the Fremont team game played Friday night. About all the shivering reporters can be sure of is that the Little Giants rolled up 11 first downs to five for the Mapleleafs and lost 105 yards on penalties to the Leaf's 13.

of the fact to score their first touchown. Wisbon took it on the 10 and was up to the 32 before he hit turf and although the team was up 10 to 0, the ball was still failed to halt them. They went the long way, traveling a total of 110 yards to score the first.

Wisbon, Myers and Bob Demmel lugged the leather to the Norwalk 22, and Demmel took a 25 gallop on a reverse, from where Myers bulled his way through center and end, and the Mapleleafs converted with a place kick.

That was all the scoring in the initial period, but the Little Giants going into reverse gear after their score and losing 30 yards on their play after an exchange of punts.

Sophomores Click
Late in the first half, Norwalk punted out on the Fremont six and the sophomore backfield of Willie Young and Jim Wisbon, Warren Inks and Demmel started out the field. The ball was on the Fremont 44, and the ball was off and opened and Binkley sent his starting back in again. On the first play Wisbon, who had been sent around end, behind good blocking, and tight-walked the sidelines for 79 yards to score. Again Michaela converted with a kick.

The third period went scoreless and the Little Giants did get to the Norwalk 11 once before losing the ball but early in the fourth period set up the score by falling on a fumbled Norwalk punt on the Leaf's 26. A couple of off-side penalties slowed the drive, but Michaela, away on the 17 and pulling tacklers with him most of the way, scored again. Michaela tried a place-kick but it hit an upright.

The Interceptions
The big score came minutes later. Norwalk essayed a passing attack and Center Howard Tieke took one of the passes right out on the Norwalk 25 and carried it over without being touched. Michaela converted and was good on the extra point.

It wasn't a difficult game for the Little Giants, and it never had to open up. If any Toledo Sophomores were in any of the slim crowd, they failed to see much.

The blocking was good and the forward wall played a bang-up part.

Not until the final minute late in the quarter when Ewell took a kick on his own 10 and, somehow or another, ran the entire Fremont team with Demmel bringing him down from the end of the Fremont line. That play late Stewart plowed through the line, cut toward the goal and scored. Stewart failed to score for the point, fumbled the ball, picked it up and ran it over.

Punt Sets Up First

Packing most of their punch into one period, the second the Little Giants had scored over Toledo Scott at Harmon stadium 13 to 6, and closed out their season with a very creditable record of seven victories and two defeats.

The violent weather of the season, which held the crowd to a disappointing 1,000, hampered the teams with high winds which favored whichever team had it at its back, made itself felt throughout the game.

The victory was the second the Little Giants had scored over the Toledo Scott team, the first was first since the opener, back in 1935, and was a fitting exit gesture from the coach Legs Binkley's replicas.

The game was largely a battle between two fine line-changing teams, the backs able to make only sporadic forays, the Rossmen making their best showing in the second period, when they racked up all their points, and then settling down to protect the margin of victory for the first half at the start of the second half.

score and then came right back to score 43 yards on four plays for the second.

The first quarter was fairly even, nothing being decided, but early in the second the Rossmen struck and struck hard. A punt gave Scott the ball on the Fremont 42, and they moved to the 35 before their attack bogged and Kaughin dropped back to punt. The Rossmen, however, were able to block the kick and End Dave Brocksieker swooped on the ball, picked it up on the 33 and scooted 65 yards for a touchdown.

Brocksieker crossed the goal line in reverse as the end would-be tackler spun him around, but he wasn't knocked off his feet. Pete Michaels, the Rossmen's quarterback, essayed a placement for the extra point but his kick was wide and low.

Demmel Sprints

About three minutes later an exchange of punts gave the Rossmen the ball on the Fremont 41 and after a five yard penalty had set them up to the 26. Willie Koehel had fumbled the ball on two plays, Bob Demmel took the ball on a nifty executed double reverse and dashed 20 yards across the Scott goal for the second touchdown. This time Pete Michaels place-kicked the extra point.

Scott came through with its only scoring thrust early after the intermission when a long pass them the ball on their own 42. On the first play Bill Demmel circled his back and dashed 30 yards across his field and scampered 38 yards for a touchdown. Poor timing, however, as the Little Giants added the Scott back line merrily. Lemle's try for point was not good.

After this score the game settled down to an exchange of punts with Scott coming through with one of the best in the fourth period, starting a drive on their own 23 which carried them to the 10. The Rossmen's line stiffened and they lost the ball on downs. Pete Michaels pinned the ball on the 20 at this point, bringing down Demmel after a 14 yard gain.

Brocksieker was threatening again as the game went along, having recovered a Scott pass, which bounced off the bodies of several Rossmen on the 30, 28 and Koehel and Dick Myers pinching to the 24 as the game ended.

The Rossmen had their forty seven ball, Fremont making eight first downs to Scott's nine and going 11 yards on the scrum, to the Bullion 172. The Rossmen, a driving team all season, took to the air for this game with 10 passes, all of which were completed for a gain of 56 yards, giving them the edge in passing.

Final Honors Bestowed

The schoolboys who battled on the gridirons here the past season are reaping the final honors of the year. The Little Giants have elected their captain for next year and the most valuable player on the St. Joseph's high team has been selected.

To Len Brudzinski goes the honor of captaining the Rossmen next year, an honor that a brother, Steve Brudzinski, had before him. Lenny played an end the past season and is now one of the regulars on the basketball team.

Another Len—Leonard Mosser—won the most valuable award at the upper Croghan street school for his work during the football season. The past season was his fourth with the Streaks and saw him shifted from a half-back berth to quarterback. He shares honors with Bill Freeh, previously named captain for the Streaks.

Picked By Redmen

Three other Little Giants have won additional honors by being named on the All-Opponents' team picked by the Fostoria Redmen, who battled to a co-championship of the Buckeye League by losing only to Fremont and then beating Findlay, the one club that halted the Rossmen.

Picked by the Redmen were Tackle Joe Biggs, Center Howard Tiefke and Fullback Dick Myers, the same trio that made the all-league team. Six teams placed men on the mythical eleven which closely followed the all-loop team except that two other schools, Toledo Woodward and Defiance, also figured in the selections.

In addition to the three Fremonters, Bucher of Woodward and Tolson of Junior Home, made the grade at ends; Paradyze of Woodward, snared the other tackle; Rooney of Findlay and Rood of Bowling Green, the guards; Mack Miller of Bowling Green, Gene Derricotte of Defiance and Paul Varwig of Woodward, in the backfield. Bucher, Paradyze and Varwig replaced Fostoria's Imber, Below and Woodland, who made all-Buckeye, while Derricotte was figured as better than Findlay's Gene Slough.
