Big numbers mean high hopes for Little Giants

JEFF ARENZ

FREMONT — Interest in basketball at Fremont Ross is at an all-time high under coach Mark Gedeon.

Among the 55 players at the freshman, junior varsity and varsity levels, 38 of them comprise the top Little Giants two squads.

"When you're talking about the numbers that we have, we have to have people who understand their roles," Gedeon said. "And that is what the preseason is for ... to develop players into those roles. Once we get into the regular season, we hope our players understand what they are going to contribute to the team and, when they are called upon, do that to the best of their ability. The competition will be for our players to go out and earn significant minutes."

After reaching the .500 mark at 11-11 last season, expectations during the 2009-2010 campaign have been set higher.

Five lettermen — senior guards Kenny Penn, Darien Spann and Marcus Dayringer and juniors Shunnar Gamble (forward) and Jake Hiestand (guard) — are back vying for major minutes while Allen Lewis (post) and Terrance Hill (guard) are also in the mix.

Penn, who set a Ross record by making 88 percent of his foul shots last season, came on strong at the end of 2008-09. His ability to penetrate and distribute the ball helped the Little Giants. Gamble used his quickness and jumping ability to penetrate the baseline and defend. Spann, Dayringer, Hiestand and Hill have the ability to be effective shooters from long range. shooter. We have to continue to do that. If we can stretch opposing defenses out by using the 3-point line, that's going to open our driving lanes. Even if we're not the tallest team out there, we can surely make opposing teams guard us the width and the length of the floor, which could give us opportunities inside."

originally from Fremont, transferred to Ross after living in Mississippi. Sophomores Skylar Reffner and Jake Carnicom add depth to the Little Giants' pool of guards.

Gedeon will award minutes to players who bring forth solid defensive skills.

"Defensive intensity has to be a concept for us by contesting passes and by contesting shots," Gedeon said. "We don't want to give our opponents anything easy. There will always be times when opponents make a shot, but we want to make life difficult for them when they bring the ball up the floor and when they execute their offense."

Penn, Spann, Dayringer, Hiestand, Hill and Reffner could gain more minutes by being effective rebounders. They also bring great quickness to the Ross lineup.

"Our guards are going to have to make sure that they rebound," Gedeon said. "Sometimes, rebounding is not necessarily getting the ball, but making sure your opponent doesn't get it. If we can get to the ball quickly, then we can get out and run faster with our transition game putting pressure on an opposing defense."

Fifth-annual alumni games honor memory of manager

JEFF ARENZ
Sports Writer

FREMONT — The memory of Billy Stierwalt remains alive in the hearts of Fremont Ross boys basketball alumni.

Chad Clark, who was a starter at forward for Ross in 2002-03, said Stierwalt, the Ross team manager, provided inspiration for the Little Giants.

"I remember a game that we played up at Oregon Clay," Clark said. "Both teams came into the game 7-1 or 6-2, but Billy couldn't make it because he was sick. Before it started, Billy called his dad's cell phone because he wanted to talk to us. I know the five starters used his message as inspiration for the game and we ended up winning by 25 points."

Stierwalt, who had been diagnosed with muscular dystrophy, was a sophomore at Ross in 2003. He died in February 2006 after suffering a seizure.

On Friday, the Purple Pit will be the site of the fifth-annual Billy Stierwalt Scholarship Alumni Basketball Games. At 6 p.m., the non-competitive half-court Slow-Break contest takes place. At 7:30 p.m., the competitive, Fast-Break game begins.

Clark is among the Ross alumni who have signed up to play. In addition to remembering Stierwalt, Clark said the event is a night of fun and a chance for former Little Giants to play together again at the Purple Pit.

Little Giants coach Mark Gedeon knew of Stierwalt's love of basketball before he decided to offer him the position as the basketball team's manager. One of Stierwalt's duties was to be Ross' official stopwatch operator. The Little Giants embraced Stierwalt, loved his company and saw his dedication.

"Over Christmas break, we had a bad snowstorm," Clark said. "I know a lot of us couldn't get to practice and we didn't know if Billy was going to show up. But there he was with his dad dropping him off."

"I think everyone on the team looked up to Billy. A lot of people thought that we were role models for Billy, but I think it was the other way around," he said.

A plaque bearing Stierwalt's image hangs in the southwest corner of the Purple Pit. It was the corner in which Stierwalt sat.

Before each varsity home game to this day, Ross players emerge off the bench as they are announced and run across the court to the plaque in tribute to Stierwalt.

Proceeds from the game will be used for scholarships in the amount of

Ross falls short in closing seconds

JEFF ARENZ

Sports Writer

FREMONT — Guard Kenny Penn didn't have the answer the Little Giants were looking for in the final seconds.

Penn fought his way through a double team but missed a 3-point attempt as Oregon Clay held off Fremont Ross 52-49 in the season opener for both schools Friday at the Purple Pit.

"We had a chance to blow out this team and we didn't take advantage of it," said Penn, who scored a game-high 17 points for Ross (0-1). "Instead of it being really close, we missed a lot of opportunities. Then, it wouldn't have come down to a final shot."

Despite being outrebounded 29-22, the Little Giants failed to capitalized on their 11-5 advantage on the offensive glass by shooting 33 percent (18-of-54) from the field.

The Eagles, with four starters (Bruno Marotta 6-foot-4, Taylor Schabel 6-4, Jordan Wamer 6-6 and Doug Waldmanstetter 6-6) larger than Ross's tallest players (Shunnar Gamble and Greg Smith, both 6-3), shot a torrid 56 percent (19-of-34) from the field.

Trailing 45-42 with 4:30 left, Schable led a 9-2 Clay run with a trio of baskets. His baseline drive gave the Eagles a 51-47 lead as 51 seconds remained. Schable finished with 14 points.

"Our inside play toward the third and fourth quarter came through," Clay coach Rob Belegren said. "We ran a couple specials and we tried to pound it down low. We had a couple mismatches, we took advantage of our size and it worked out for us."

Ross coach Mark Gedeon said the Little Giants failed to execute at the defensive end.

"We picked a poor time to have a defensive letdown," Gedeon said. "I think (Clay's) last five field goals were shots from the paint, layups, post feeds and one on a homerun pass. We can't let teams get inside the paint that easy on us because we know we're at a disadvantage size-wise."

Waldenstetter scored 2 points on third-quarter field goal, but pulled down a game-high 10 rebounds.

The Little Giants drew within 51-49 on a pair of Penn free throws, but the Ross guard missed a driving layup that would have tied the contest in the final 35 seconds.

"We had some opportunities for some layups and some open looks that we didn't cash in," Gedeon said. "We didn't execute our plays as crisply as we want. In varsity basketball, when it comes down to crunch time, we have to be precise in what we do."

A Penn layup gave Ross a 36-34 lead with 3:31 left in the third quarter. It was the Little Giants' first lead since a 7-6 edge midway through the first period before Clay's 10-2 second quarter run gave the Eagles their biggest lead (23-14) with five minutes left in the first half.

"In the second quarter, we were mixing up our defenses, trapping in different areas and we got after it with a lot of energy," Belegren said. "We have a lot young kids with inexperience, but I think we used their energy wisely."

Clay guard Ross Achter scored 8 of his 10 points in the first half, including a 6-point first quarter.

Gamble drained a 3-pointer as Ross took a 39-35 advantage in the final minute of the third quarter and his putback of a missed shot midway through the fourth quarter put the Little Giants ahead 45-42. He finished with 13 points.

FREMONT — Fremont Ross shot its way past Toledo Waite during a non-conference 83-76 victory in overtime Saturday at the Purple Pit.

After shooting 33 percent in a 52-49 loss at home Friday to Oregon Clay, the Little Giants were 24-of-41 (59 percent) from the floor, including a 10-of-15 (67 percent) effort behind the arc to tie a Ross record for 3-point shots made in a game.

The Little Giants led 16-14 after eight minutes and 38-31 at half-time. The Indians rallied with a 21-14 edge in the third quarter to tie the game at 52. Ross and Waite played to 20-all tie in the fourth quarter after Jake Hiestand hit a 3-pointer with 8.2 seconds left in regulation to send the game to overtime.

In the extra session, the Little Giants won the tip before Shunnar Gamble (13 points) hit a 3-pointer to hand Ross the lead for good.

Hiestand scored 15 points on five 3-point shots. Kenny Penn, who had two 3-pointers among his six field goals, ended up with a game-high 27 points after a 13-of-16 performance at the foul line. Jay Carnicom and Marcus Dayringer also drained 3-pointers for Ross.

The Little Giants were 25-of-39 at the foul line compared to Waite, which was 13-of-18.<sup>1</sup>

Allen had 16 points and 14 rebounds to lead Waite while Keyshawn Harris added 15 points.

Mistakes cost Little Giants

BY KEVIN SHIELDS

News-Messenger correspondent

FREMONT — When Fremont Ross needed to step up and get its offense going the most on Friday mistakes cost them a shot at a win in the final quarter.

Findlay, up 38-36 entering the final quarter, outscored the Little Giants 13-5 on the way to a 51-41 win in Greater Buckeye Conference play.

Zach Elbin had four of his game-high 15 points in the final stanza for the Trojans (4-1, 1-1) who held Ross scoreless till 1:05 remained in the game. A Greg Smith bucket in the paint for the Little Giants finally broke the drought as Findlay scored the quarter's first 10 points.

"We went on a long dry spell with not being able to execute the way we wanted," Ross coach Mark Gedeon said of the final quarter. "That's something we've even been battling in practice too — trying to get five players to focus on their responsibilities on each and every possession."

Clay Paul hit a 3-pointer just 23 seconds into the fourth to give Findlay a 41-36 edge. That would be the only scoring, though, until Elbin got a lay-up in the paint with 4:11 left, as Ross missed shot after shot and had some bad turnovers.

The Little Giants were just 3-for-11 from the field, while the Trojans went 3-for-6 and 5-for-7 at the foul line.

"I thought we had some good hustle plays to create turnovers there," Findlay coach Jim Rucki said. "We pressed once and (Ross) came down on a 2-on-1 and the next thing I know, Kyle Boyd is coming out with the ball because he had sprinted from behind to get it.

"I think we also spread the floor out and made (Ross) work defensively, which is tough to do and then make shots at the other end."

Findlay's run came after the Little Giants battled back from a 29-21 deficit at halftime to tie the game at 33 all in the third quarter. Two Allen Lewis buckets down low and the first 3-pointer of the game for Ross by Kenny Penn cut the lead to 31-28 with 3:43 left in the quarter.

Skylar Reffner then went coast-to-coast for lay-in off a Findlay turnover to cut it to one, before Marcus Dayringer tied the game with 1:07 left after a Brock Ammons bucket for the Trojans.

"I thought we were very fortunate to be just down by eight at halftime," Gedeon said. "Knowing that our execution was not where it needed to be."

"We had some pretty poor rotations in the first half where we gave up some layups inside and gave up some uncontested threes and it was very frustrating to see."

Following Dayringer's 3-pointer that tied the game for Ross, he would immediately be hit with a technical foul coming back down the court. Paul sank both free throws to start a five-point run for Findlay that swung the momentum in their favor just before Penn hit a three at the buzzer to cut the lead to two.

Penn's 3-pointer was given him only eight points for the game, as he finished with a team-best 10 points, but was guarded well all night by Findlay's Grant Birchmeier.

"I thought Grant (Birchmeier) did a tremendous job on Penn," Rucki said. "He's a really good player, he can also get to the rim and Grant did a nice job of staying in front of him."

The only points Ross got in the first half were in the paint or on the foul line, as they had 12 points down low and were 9-for-10 at the line. They finished the game 9-for-11 at the line, while the Trojans were 13-of-19.

SEE ROSS | B8

ROSS FROM B1

"We need that good inside-outside game," Gedeon said. "We can't just win it from the free throw line or we can't just win it from the 3-point line. We need to have that balance."

Findlay led 14-11 after one quarter and went a 10-2 run in the final 4:12 of the first half to open its halftime lead. Elbin had 11 points in the opening half, as Findlay shot 10-for-22 in the opening half and 16-for-36 for the game. Ross was 6-of-14 and 15 -for-34 respectively. The Little Giants won the rebounding battle 22-17, but had 21 turnovers to 18 for the Trojans.

"Overall, this was a pretty good performance by us," Rucki said. "We've not played well here (at Ross) and even when we've had really good teams and won here — we haven't always played well. Tonight we seemed to have a little better flow offensively."

Findlay also came away with a 32-28 win in the JV game. Boston Ballmer had a game-high 14 points for the Trojans, while Dylan Starks had eight points for Ross.

Whitmer latest TCL team to rudely greet Little Giants

BY KEVIN SHIELDS

News-Messenger correspondent

TOLEDO — The Fremont Ross boys basketball team is getting no love from its soon to be home — the Toledo City League.

Ross dropped its third-straight contest Tuesday, losing 65-41 to Whitmer in non-league play.

It was the Little Giants second consecutive loss to a City League opponent as they dropped an 80-42 decision to Start on Saturday. Ross is 1-2 against its future league this season, with its lone victory coming Dec. 5 (83-76 OT) over Waite.

Ross will join the TCL during the 2011-12 academic year.

Dareon Jones led the Panthers (2-1) with 10 points. Whitmer had seven players finish with six or more points.

Luke Hickey added nine off the bench for Whitmer as it dominated from start to finish against an undersized Ross (1-5) team.

Kenny Penn had a game-high 14 for the Little Giants.

"We knew (Whitmer) is the biggest team in the city," Little Giants coach Mark Gedeon said. "They're very physical, very aggressive and we're the Little Giants for a reason.

"We've got to make sure we're doing things we're capable of doing against that physical play."

Right from the start, the Panthers established their inside game, scoring four quick points in the paint as part of an early 10-4 lead. Whitmer scored a total of eight points in the paint in the first 8 minutes and 14 in the first 14 for the Little Giants.

A 3-pointer by Jake Hiestand brought the Little Giants within three (10-7) with 3:28 left in the opening quarter. But that was as close as Ross would ever be.

The run came from the smaller Little Giants penetrating to the basket and drawing defenders for open looks on jumpers.

"That's part of the style of this team," Gedeon said. "We know we have to have a lot of five around zero, four around one-type of sets and we need to be successful both penetrating to the basket, but also being able to kick it out and knock down some outside shots too."

The Panthers went on a 9-0 run to lead 19-7 after one and outscored Ross 13-7 in the second quarter to lead 32-18 at halftime.

"(Whitmer) needed to get the ball inside, which it established early," Gedeon said. "Fourteen of their first 16 points were either paint shots or free throws, which is part of their game. Obviously, they're a good free throw shooting team — shooting 92 percent from the line."

Whitmer finished the game making 13-for-14 free throws while Ross finished 14-for-19 (73 percent).

The Little Giants never got closer than 12 in the second half, ending the game 13-for-48 from the field. The Panthers finished 24-for-51 (47 percent) and won the rebound battle 30-23.

Penn and Gamble magical in Little Giants' matinee victory

BY MATT MILLS
News-Messenger correspondent

FREMONT — Kenny Penn and Shunnar Gamble led the Little Giants boys basketball team to a 68-55 win over Toledo Woodward on Tuesday afternoon in the Purple Pit.

Penn tallied 22 points while Gamble scored 19.

"(Monday) was the best practice we've had all season, from the top of the roster to the bottom, everyone practiced like they needed to," Ross coach Mark Gedeon said. "Hopefully that reinforced a little bit what we need to be doing in practice, because it showed in today's game."

The Little Giants pulled away very fast, up tempo team," Gedeon said. "Our defense created a lot of offense for us out there, the final period. The biggest reason Ross finished the game strong was because of its hustle and quick tempo.

"With a question we are looking to be a and that's always a good thing." Ross started the game forcing seven turnovers in the first period and was helped out in large part by Woodward's foul trouble. Ross was in the bonus with a minute to go in the period. Ross maintained its lead in the second quarter and took a 27-22 lead to halftime.

Gamble was assessed a technical foul midway through the third quarter for jawing back and forth with a Woodward player.

From that point on, Gamble took his game to a new level.

"I like to play off of people's trash talking, it makes it a lot more fun for me," Gamble said. "My back spasms are starting to feel better and that's letting me be my normal stuff and do the things I am used to doing on a basketball court."

The Little Giants are off until Jan. 7, when they host archrival Sandusky with the junior varsity game tipping off at 6 p.m.

FREMONT — The Little Giants jumped out to an 11-8 lead after the first eight minutes, but fell 53-49 to Maumee Saturday in non-conference play at the Purple Pit.

Senior Kenny Penn had a game-high 17 points for Ross (2-6), while Shunnar Gamble added 13 and Allen Lewis tallied 10.

Maumee led 19-17 at halftime and 35-32 heading into the fourth quarter.

Anthony Barnum led the Panthers with 13.

“We just had too many missed opportunities,” Ross coach Mark Gedeon said. “We shot 31 percent in the second half and when it’s a two possession game, you can’t afford to have those and our guys need to learn that.”

With a new lineup, Ross drops GBC decision at Harding

BY DENNY MCPHERSON

MARION — What amounted to a four-day-old Fremont Ross boys basketball team ran up against a seasoned Marion Harding squad in Greater Buckeye Conference play Friday night and the result was fairly understandable.

Nonetheless, Ross coach Mark Gedeon believes his Little Giants took a positive step despite a 73-52 setback.

The Little Giants played without leading scorer Kenny Penn, Terrance Hill and Allen Lewis, who Gedeon said are no longer with the team because of disciplinary issues. They took 25 points and nine rebounds a game with them.

Gedeon brought up three freshman from the JV team and they saw quite a bit of action after only three days of practice with the varsity unit.

"I told the players after the game this was our first game of the season," Gedeon said of the discussion he had with his "new" squad. "Three practices don't get you into mid-season form, but some kids got their first varsity experience on the floor and had some success."

"What really impressed me was the kids said in the locker-room they want to get to practice the first thing Saturday morning and they want to work hard on offense and defense to catch up. They are hungry and they want to be Little Giants. They want to keep that uniform on, so that's a step in the right direction."

Harding coach Roger Jury, whose team is now 8-1 overall and 3-0 in the GBC, was concerned with the revamped Ross squad that came to his building.

"You basically throw your scouting reports out the window," Jury said. "They still did a lot of the same things Ross does, but they did it with different people than we've seen."

"You worry about different energy levels and matchup problems, and you have to convince your kids a team which loses two starters can still play well. Those Ross kids were hungry and ready to go."

They were in the first period when they trailed by only four points at 13-9 by the first break.

The Little Giants (2-7 overall, 0-3 GBC) were still within six points in the second period before Harding closed the stanza with a 15-8 run to up its advantage to 34-21.

Five points from Shunnar Gamble in the third period helped the Little Giants stay within range as they twice cut their deficit to 10 points, but Harding maintained its 13-point edge at 42-29 entering the last quarter.

After Gamble completed a three-point play to open that period and slice Harding's advan-

Napoleon dribbles past inexperienced Ross boys squad 54-44

BY KEVIN SHIELDS
Sports Writer

FREMONT — It's not the result Fremont Ross was looking for.

But even though the Little Giants boys basketball team dropped a 54-44 Greater Buckeye Conference game to Napoleon at home Thursday, they know they're taking big steps forward.

Missing two of their top players for disciplinary issues, Ross played once again with three freshmen brought up from the JV team. It's a big task to ask of any young kid, to replace 25 points and nine rebounds per game. But you wouldn't know the Little Giants (2-8, 0-4) were missing any pieces the way they fought and competed.

The inexperienced Little Giants outscored the Wildcats 14-9 in the third quarter, to enter the final eight minutes down 39-37. In the end though, 28 trips to the foul line for Napoleon (5-7, 2-4) and an 11-1 run to open the fourth quarter proved too much.

"They just created plays," Ross coach Mark Gedeon said. "We were late on some defensive rotations and they were the more aggressive team off the dribble tonight."

Napoleon used its athleticism and quickness all night to make up for being under-sized.

"That's been a focus for us," Napoleon coach Tim Badenhop said. "We have some good athletes, who can dribble penetrate with the basketball."

The Wildcats got to the line 18 times alone in the final quarter, as they finished 15-for-28. Ross was 5-for-12.

"They got easy points and our team, right now, doesn't have the experience or the necessary skill to overcome that," Gedeon said.

Ross trailed 16-7 with 1:43 remaining in the first quarter, before going on a 13-5 run that bridged the first and second periods to tie the game at 16 all. Shunnar Gamble had eight first-half points and Skyler Reffner six, as Ross trailed 30-23 at halftime.

The Little Giants got as close as one on a 3-pointer by Jake Hiestand with 1:54 to go in the third quarter. But the Wildcats picked up the defense and held Ross scoreless until 3:19 remained in the game.

That allowed Napoleon to take a commanding 52-38 lead with less than two minutes left on a layup by Jordan Myles. Myles finished tied for a game-high 19 points, adding seven rebounds.

Shunnar Gamble led Ross with 19 points, adding a game-high eight boards and three assists.

Giving the Little Giants a big energy-boost, were freshmen Dylan Starks, Drew Starks and Nick Streacker. The trio combined for six points, seven rebounds and five assists off the bench.

"That's just what these kids bring to the table," Gedeon said. "They're going to play hard. They want to compete and represent Fremont Ross."

Streacker led the way, scoring six points and grabbing six rebounds.

"Nick (Streacker) is something we don't have a lot of, which is height," Gedeon said. "But has a great shooting touch for 6-foot-3-inches and we expect big things from him."

Reffner tallied seven points and six boards, and Greg Smith pulled down seven.

The Little Giants were 18-for-43 from the field and 3-for-16 from behind the arc. Napoleon finished 16-for-37 and 5-for-11 respectively.

"We just got to finish a complete game now," Gedeon said. "We're showing sparks, but we need to make sure each possession matters."

A start to build on for Ross

Little Giants open well, but Sandusky finishes stronger

BY KEVIN SHIELDS

FREMONT — For two minutes and 15 seconds Tuesday, the Fremont Ross basketball team did what it needed to do.

Unfortunately, there are 32 minutes in a basketball game.

After jumping out to an early 7-2 lead, Ross was outscored by Sandusky 17-4 the rest of the opening quarter, going on to fall 68-45 in a Greater Buckeye Conference game.

"The first couple minutes is sort of how we were hoping to play," Little Giants coach Mark Gedeon said. "We wanted to try getting some stuff in the paint with some back-door cuts, hit the open 3-point basket and try keeping Sandusky on the perimeter."

That's exactly how the opening minutes went for Ross. Shunnar Gamble and Skylar Reffner got inside buckets in the paint, before Gamble hit a wide-open three at the top of the arc, as the Blue Streaks called time-out.

From there, Sandusky's (5-8, 2-3) defense and its rebounding took control of the game. The Blue Streaks went on to score 32 of the next 46 points for a 34-21 halftime edge.

"Our defensive intensity was the key to this basketball game," Sandusky coach Steve Keller, Jr. said. "We did a nice job of defending and creating transition off our defense."

Post Caleb Young had five first-half points for Sandusky, but his biggest contribution came on the glass. Young had eight boards in the first 16 minutes, as the Blue Streaks out-rebounded Ross (2-9, 0-5) 18-13 in the opening half with eight of them coming on the offensive end. In total Sandusky had 36 rebounds to 24 for the Little Giants.

"Our interior defense really started to let us down," Gedeon said. "(Sandusky) got a couple cuts to the elbow where they hit a couple jumpers and then their penetration started hurting us."

"Then it turned into a transition game and then it was offensive rebounding and then just one thing led to another."

Sandusky also forced Ross into 12 first-half turnovers and 19 for the game. The Blue Streaks finished with 18. Five different Blue Streaks racked up steals, as 10 Ross turnovers came from thefts. Jay Page topped Sandusky with four thefts with Rayshawn Daniels and Dominique Stovall both tallying two.

"That's a big part of Sandusky's game," Gedeon said. "Putting defensive pressure on, attacking the wings, pressuring the ball hoping for a mistake and then turning that into offense."

The Blue Streaks kept the foot on the gas, scoring the first seven points of the second half to open up a 41-21 lead. The lead would grow to as much as 25 points after a Page layup off a steal with under three minutes to go in the third quarter.

Page finished with 19 points for the Blue Streaks, also grabbing eight rebounds. Cordney Strickland's 20 points topped Sandusky, who also had a game-high four assists.

Ross trailed 52-35 entering the final quarter, but never closer than 15.

"We got a young team, but that doesn't mean you don't go out and compete," Gedeon said. "I thought at times, we didn't compete with all five players on the floor, whether it was mentally or physically."

Gamble led the Little Giants with 15 points, adding six boards, two steals and two blocks. He was the lone Ross player to reach double figures.

Reffner finished with seven points, six rebounds and blocked two shots for Ross, who dropped its fifth straight game.

BY KYLE SCHIMMING

TOLEDO — After taking a step forward in its previous game, the Fremont Ross boys basketball team took two more backwards, getting beat 70-48 by Rogers in a Tuesday non-conference game.

After defeating Lima Senior on Friday, it appeared the inexperienced Little Giants (3-11) were beginning to come together.

However, they could not handle the Rams' defensive pressure.

"Our players have to know that every time they step in between the lines there is going to be competition and they've got to be ready to compete," Ross coach Mark Gedeon said. "I thought tonight we took a big step backwards after a big overtime victory against Lima Senior."

The Rams' full-court pressure forced the Little Giants to commit 38 turnovers, many of which resulted in easy layups and dunks for Rogers.

The Little Giants trailed 35-21 after the first half. After a 9-0 run by the Rams in the first two minutes of the second half, the game was out of reach.

"To turn the ball over 38 times is ridiculous," Gedeon said. "Against an athletic team like Rogers, they're going to create some pressure, they're going to press, and they are going to be very aggressive. I thought our players backed down from the contact."

Rams coach Earl Morris said his team's defensive pressure is important to the team's success.

"When we pressure we're a good team," Morris said. "The three games we lost, we didn't play any defense and we're not a big team so we have to pressure and get turnovers and easy baskets.

"When Damond (Powell) and Quincy (Caldwell) go well, we go well and when they don't, we're just an average team."

Powell was the main beneficiary of the Rams ability to force turnovers, as he finished with a game-high 23 points.

"Coach has told us that we need to start putting more pressure on the ball and we came out and really executed that tonight," Powell said. "It helped make it easier to get to the basket and get buckets."

The Little Giants were led by Skylar Reffner's 15 points. They were outrebounded 24-15.

"We have to keep getting better every time we go between the lines," Gedeon said. "We have to continue to work. This group we have right now has been very receptive to coaching studying video, trying to make sure they're in the right place at the right time and I think this will be a very easy video for them to go in and see the mistakes that we made."

SANDUSKY — The Fremont Ross boys basketball team has taken its share of beatings this season, but through it all, there has been no towels thrown in or quit shown in the player's attitudes.

And for much of Thursday's game at Sandusky, the Little Giants played and executed the way they needed to win.

But a 20-5 second half run and key plays in the final two minutes, helped the Blue Streaks escape with a 66-59 Sandusky Bay Conference win.

Tristen Jeffries scored 15 points off the bench to lead Sandusky (6-11), including eight in the final quarter.

Ross trailed 58-57 with 1:51 remaining and had plenty of chances to cut into the lead, but the Blue Streaks finished on an 8-2 run.

"Right there every play becomes that much more magnified," Little Giants coach Mark Gedeon said of the stretch. "They make two free throws, they go down and get a bank shot and we turn the ball over in transition and then we miss layups.

"That all turned out just to be the difference at the ending point."

Up till the ending point, the Little Giants (3-13, 1-6) played very inspired basketball. They executed their inside game early and played hard for a good 25 to 26 minutes of the game.

Shunnar Gamble poured in 12 first-half points, including eight in the first quarter as Ross led 16-14 entering the second quarter.

"We wanted Shunnar (Gamble) to get some touches by the rim," Gedeon said. "We thought he could be very effective for us inside and he did that early, but then he got away from it."

The Little Giants held serve and kept the lead much of the second quarter, but a steal and resulting layup by Cordney Strickland in the half's final seconds sent the Blue Streaks to the break with a 28-27 edge.

Gamble went on to tally a game-high 22 points for the Little Giants, adding 13 rebounds and three assists. But he was held to just six points in the second and third quarters.

A Jeffries basket in transition gave the Blue Streaks a 36-31 lead just 2:21 into the second half. Ross responded, though, as a jumper by Greg Smith, a basket inside by Skylar Reffner and a basket off an offensive rebound from Gamble gave it a 37-36 advantage.

Then things got away.

"Up till that point, we had a done a good job of playing good position defense," Gedeon said. "The first time we played them, I thought we gave them too many opportunities by being out of position. And in the third quarter, I think we reverted back to that, being out of position and opening up driving lanes for them."

Sandusky led 47-39 entering the final quarter and quickly stretched it with a 9-2 spurt keyed by four points apiece from Damyion Smith and Jeffries.

That's when Ross called a timeout to get re-focused and nearly pulled off a great comeback.

"We had a great run there," Gedeon said. "We took a timeout with 6:06 to go in the game. We changed our defense and, more importantly, got our kids to focus again in terms of what we needed to do to be successful."

Leading the charge was Gamble with eight fourth-quarter points. Reffner added seven of his 13 points. Reffner also added three steals with all coming in the final six minutes.

"Skylar (Reffner) had a great game in the fourth quarter," Gedeon said.

Ross had a 15-2 run over the four minutes after the timeout.

Greg Smith added 10 points and five boards for Ross, who out-rebound Sandusky 34-30.

"We were definitely better playing this game than we were in Findlay (66-41 loss)," Gedeon said. "We're saying every time we come to practice, we want to grow and get better and we're still doing that."

Bad quarter dooms Ross

GBC leader Marion Harding explodes in second quarter for win

BY KEVIN SHIELDS

FREMONT — Take the second quarter out of Friday's game between Greater Buckeye Conference leader Marion Harding and last-place Fremont Ross and things would look equal.

But there is a reason the Presidents are the top team in the GBC and Ross isn't and it showed in that second stanza.

Shawn Dyer poured in 11 of his game-high 25 points in the period and Jake White eight of his 14, as Harding stayed perfect in the league with a 75-59 win.

Trailing 15-6 after a Little Giants' basket from Darien Spann halfway through the opening quarter, Harding went on a 25-8 run.

White's 3-pointer from the top of the arc with 4:41 remaining till break put the Presidents (17-1, 9-0) up 22-19 — a lead they would not relinquish.

"We knew Ross would play hard here," Harding coach Roger Jury said. "They had the big win against Lima Senior a week or so ago and their kids all play hard."

Ross (3-15, 1-7) led 6-0 just 1:13 into the game, as Shunnar Gamble, playing the point, had

"We can't get out of position and let teams have silly fouls. We bailed them out a lot trying to be shot blockers, instead of taking charges."

MARK GEDDON

a hand in all six points. Gamble finished with six points, seven rebounds and four assists, but didn't play a majority of the second half because of foul trouble.

"(Gamble) was very active in our first game and he was a key for us tonight," Jury said. "When he was out, we knew we had to make a run."

That Harding run started with a three from White and ended with another of his threes, as he was 4-of-8 from downtown.

The Presidents led 34-24 at the break. Then the teams played even in the third, as Ross cut the lead to six once and seven twice.

Fouls were one thing that kept the Presidents scoring, throughout, though, as they went 27-of-33 from the line. That included 17 first-half trips. Ross finished 9-of-16.

"We can't get out of position and let teams have silly fouls," Little Giants coach Mark Geddon said. "We bailed them out a lot trying to be shot blockers, instead of taking charges."

Dyer, who was 80 percent at the line coming in, got there 15 times, converting 12.

Marvin Owens, held to just two points in the first 16 minutes, then started to warm-up for Harding in the second half. He went on to finish with 15 points, adding two assists.

"(Ross) was very aware of Marvin (Owens)," Jury said. "But when we expanded the lead we got him out in transition more."

Owens had two fourth-quarter dunks, including one off a steal that upped the Harding lead to 62-47 with four minutes left. Shaquille Smith was another President that benefited from the transition offense, as he poured in 12 of his 15 in the half. He chipped in a game-high 13 boards and three steals. Keivus Prude led Harding with four thefts.

All of that came after Ross's quick start, however, as the Little Giants came out fired up for their final home game.

"I was very pleased with the start," Geddon said. "We ran things, offensively and defensively, exactly how we wanted."

Skylar Reffner had 11 points in the first eight minutes for Ross, but disappeared in the second quarter as the Little Giants were held to five points. "We just became stagnant," Geddon said.

Reffner paced the Little Giants with 23 points, while Spann added 15 in what was the best effort of the season for both.

"That was the hardest game Skylar has played all year and that was the Darien Spann we had last season," Geddon said.

Ross finished 24-of-50 from the field and 2-of-8 from 3-point land. The Presidents were 21-of-53 and 6-of-14 respectively.

BOYS BASKETBALL ■ TIFFIN COLUMBIAN 74, FREMONT ROSS 68

Too many easy points doom Little Giants to loss

BY KEVIN SHIELDS
Sports Writer

TIFFIN — The hardest points to defend against in basketball are the free points given up at the foul line.

For the second straight game, Fremont Ross let the opposition's freebies cost it a chance to win. The Little Giants allowed Tiffin Columbian a chance to get to the charity stripe 28 times Saturday in a 74-68 non-conference loss.

Of those 28 shots at the foul line, the Tornadoes converted 21, out-scoring Ross (7-of-12) at the foul line by 14.

"We need to make sure we're solid offensively and defensively so things add up," Ross coach Mark Gedeon said. "We can't have some of the reaching fouls we're taking or be trying to always block shots. Marion (Harding) out-scored us by 18 from the line and we lost that game (Friday) by 16.

"And on the flip side, we only drew nine fouls tonight, so it shows our kids need more experience being aggressive and being assertive in the paint."

Derek Kneeskern shot nine free throws for Columbian, knocking down seven of his game-high 25 points there. He added five rebounds and four steals to lead three Tornadoes in double digits. Cole Williams tallied 22 points and 11 rebounds, while Jared Kuhlman poured in 10.

Ross trailed 18-15 after a quarter, but thanks to an early 11-2 second-quarter run, the Little Giants grabbed a 26-22 advantage with 4:06 until halftime. Shunnar Gamble sparked the run with six of his 12 first-half points during that four-minute span. The run gave the Little Giants their fifth lead of the half, as the lead switched sides 10 different times.

But just as Ross did, the Tornadoes made a run of their own. Tiffin scored 12 of the next 16 to lead 34-30 at the break. Much of the run was keyed by the Tornadoes' inside game and the ability to drive to basket and draw fouls.

"We feel we have a good outside and inside game," said Columbian coach Bill Beaston, a former Ross assistant. "Generally, we're taking what the defense gives us and getting the best shots possible."

Three buckets by Darien Spann got Ross within one three different times during the third quarter, but Columbian held serve and led 46-39 entering the fourth.

Spann was one of the four Little Giants who reached double figures, recording 11 points. Skylar Reffner led the way for the second straight contest, pouring in 21 points and grabbing seven boards and four steals. Gamble and Jake Hiestand finished with 12.

"Skylar (Reffner) was great again," Gedeon said. "After having 23 points (Friday), he has 21 points tonight and it was against much taller players too."

Reffner tallied 13 of his 25 in the final quarter. He grabbed a steal and took it in for a lay-in on Columbian's first possession of the fourth. But a big shot by Coleman off an offensive rebound got the Tiffin lead back to seven, before Jonah Boyer made it 50-41 on the next trip down.

"That gave them that comfort zone from that point on," Gedeon said. "We could make a little run and maybe get it to five, but we had to extend our pressure out and their players showed their experience passing the ball and getting lay-ups."

ROSS FROM 5

Shortly after Boyer's points, Kneeskern swiped a ball away from a Ross ball-handler and took it all the way in for a basket and foul to up the Columbian lead to 55-43, the game's largest margin.

"I finally relaxed there a little bit," Beaston said. "But give credit to Fremont and its young kids, they came right back got another score, and we could never put them away on the defensive end."

Spann and Hiestand both got

Ross as close as six on 3-pointers in the final three minutes. But despite another trey from Hiestand in the final seconds, the Tornadoes put the game away at the line. Hiestand finished 4-of-5 from behind the arc.

In the junior varsity game, Columbian pulled out a 55-53 win in a double overtime thriller. Trent Stout led the Little Giants with 15 points, while the Tornadoes, were paced by 17 points from Tim Wiggins.

Dunk gets Ross rolling past Napoleon

BY KYLE SCHIMMING
News-Messenger correspondent

NAPOLEON — With 1:30 remaining in the third period of Friday's game, Ross's Shunnar Gamble stole a Napoleon pass and took it the length of the floor for a two-handed dunk.

The dunk put the Little Giants up and spurred a 10-point Ross run to pull away from the Wildcats en route to a 55-38 Greater Buckeye Conference win Friday.

GAMBLE

"My team always yells at me for not dunking so when I dunk it gets them pretty excited," Gamble said.

Fremont Ross would end up scoring 21 of the final 25 points of the game, as they limited Napoleon to just 13 second-half points.

Little Giants coach Mark Gedeon credited the dunk for helping his team get over the hump and take control of the game.

"Especially when you have a young team, emotion comes into play a lot more than logic sometimes," Gedeon said. "We know Shunnar is a special player for us, I think that gave our players a lot more energy on the defensive end."

Gamble finished with a team-high 17 points while Jake Hiestand poured in 13 points, including three 3-pointers, and Nick Streaker added 10. Fremont Ross dominated the boards, out-rebounding Napoleon 32-20.

Gamble said the win showed improvement from their recent performances.

"Our play was a lot better, we had a couple good practices this week," Gamble said. "I think it helped us get focused and play more as a team."

Jordan Myles finished with 11 points for Napoleon. Wildcats coach Tim Badenhop credited the Little Giants for their execution throughout the game.

"I thought they did a good job, they attacked us inside where most teams should attack us," Badenhop said. "They did a good job adjusting to what we were trying to do defensively and found openings."

Fremont Ross will begin tournament play on Tuesday against Ashland at Willard. Gedeon hopes to take the momentum of the win into its sectional matchup.

"This could springboard us a little bit, I think the last two weeks we've had some very good practices," Gedeon said. "I think our kids have been very positive, they've worked hard."

"Our last three games have all come against teams that are in first place in their respective leagues in Port Clinton, Marion, and Tiffin. The fact that we were able to at times play with those teams gives our kids some confidence but now we can get some confidence from seeing it on the scoreboard."
